RESOLUTION TO END OUR STATE OF WAR PUT BEFORE HOUSE

Avoids Declaring Peace So as to Meet Constitutional Objections.

45-DAY LIMIT TO GERMANY

Must Waive Any Claim She Would Not Have Under the Versailles Treaty.

DEBATE TO BEGIN MONDAY

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee agreed today on the proposed resolution to declare the war with Germany at an end, and it was introduced in the House in the afternoon by Chairman Porter. It will be reported out of the full committee tomorrow and taken up for consideration on Monday.

The Republicans had not only prepared to rush the resolution out of the committee tomorrow against the objections of Democratic members, but hoped to pass it in the House on Friday, the third anniversary of our declaration of war. Pressure from Democratic members, however, proved so strong that Mr. Mondell announced that consideration had been postponed.

The resolution does not declare a state of peace, but that the state of war with Germany is at an end. This distinction, in the opinion of Mr. Porter, would make it difficult for President Wilson to reject the resolution. Mr. Porter thinks that if the President sent back the resolution to Congress enough House votes can be mustered to pass it over the veto.

Under the resolution all Congressional acts and Presidential proclamations, terminating at the end of the war of "the existing emergency," automatically go out of existence.

Germany has forty-five days to agree to waive any claim against the United States that she would not have had under the Treaty of Versailles. If she does not do so the President is to proclaim this failure on her part. In the meantime no trade with Germany can be carried on except by Presidential license.

Text of the Resolution.

Following is the text of the resolution:

"Whereas the President of the United States in the performance of his constitutional duty to give to Congress information of the state of the Union has advised Congress that the war with the Imperial German Government has ended;

"Resolved, by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the state of war declared to exist between the Imperial German Government and the people of the United States by a joint resolution of Congress, approved April 6, 1917, is hereby declared at an end.

"Section 2—That in the interpretation of any provision relating to the date of the termination of the present war, or of the present or existing emergency in any acts of Congress, joint resolutions or proclamations of the President containing provisions contingent upon the date of the terminatio of the war, or of the present or existing emergency, the date when this resolution becomes effective shall be construed and treated as the date of the termination of the war, or of the present or existing emergency, notwithstanding any provision in any act of Congress or joint resolution providing any other mode of determination of the date of the termination of the war, or of the present or existing emergency.

"Section 3—That, with a view to securing reciprocal trade with the German Government and its nationals, and for this purpose, it is hereby provided that unless within forty-five days from the date when this resolution becomes effective the German Government shall duly notify the President of the United States that it has declared a termination of the war with the United States and that it waives and renounces on behalf of itself and its nationals any claim, demand, right or benefit against the United States, or its nationals, that it or they would not have the right to assert had the United States ratified the Treaty of Versailles, the President of the United States shall have the power, and it shall be his duty, to proclaim the fact that the German Government has not given the notification hereinbefore mentioned and thereupon and until the President shall have proclaimed the receipt of such notification, commercial intercourse between the United States and Germany and the making of loans or credits, and the furnishing of financial assistance or supplies to the German Government or the inhabitants of Germany, directly or indirectly, by the Government or the inhabitants of the United States, shall, except with the license of the President, be prohibited.

"Section 4—That whoever shall willfully violate the foregoing prohibition, whenever the same shall be in force, shall upon conviction be fined not more than $10,000, or, if a natural person, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both; and the officer, director or agent of any corporation who knowingly participates in such violation shall be punished by a like fine, imprisonment, or both, and any property, funds, se-

Report Japan Will Renounce Concessions in Manchuria

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 31.—Japan has notified the Governments of the United States, England and France that she is ready to give up certain concessions in the provinces of Mongolia and Manchuria in response to pressure by these powers, according to a cablegram received by the New World, a Japanese daily newspaper, here today from its Tokio correspondent.

The claims that Japan would relinquish were not specified in the cablegram. Negotiations will be opened soon with China to determine the extent of the privileges to be given up by Japan, it was said. The subject was covered in the treaty between China and Japan, portions of which the United States, England and France asked Japan to abrogate so that absolute domination over the provinces mentioned might be returned to China, the New World's correspondent said. The negotiations with China result from these demands.

EXCHANGE FORBIDS TRADING IN STUTZ

NO BIG DEALER TRAPPED

Allan A. Ryan and Associates Hold Paper for More Shares Than Are Outstanding.

One of the most sensational developments on the New York Stock Exchange in many years took place yesterday, when the Board of Governors, by a unanimous vote, declared that dealings in the stock of the Stutz Motor Car Company had been suspended indefinitely. No transactions of any kind will be permitted by members of the Exchange during what has been termed a moratorium. The drastic action was the first public cognizance taken by the Exchange of a situation which has furnished a big fund of gossip in the financial district during the last several days.

It has been the contention of the Stock Exchange, when asked as to the amazing advances scored by Stutz stock, that it was against the policy of the Board of Governors to countenance anything in the way of a corner. It was admitted yesterday that an actual corner in Stutz existed, even though the stock still could be borrowed. When the market closed Stutz was loaning at a 2 per cent. premium. Within an hour the Stock Exchange had announced the ruling which is tantamount to striking Stutz from the list, so far as trading for the time being is concerned.

There was no intimation yesterday as to what plans were under contemplation for the fulfilling of contracts entered into between buyers and sellers. It was asserted, however, that deliveries could be made against stock purchased yesterday, but that such deliveries could not be demanded by the purchasers.

"Buying in Under Rule" Banned.

In other words, the ruling prevents calls for delivery of stock purchased, and precludes "buying in under the rule," which means a purchase of stock in the open market on failure to deliver shares.

No action of exactly the same character as the present ever has been taken by the Exchange, according to the statement of one of the Board of Governors, who, however, took pains to add that "the Exchange can do anything." It was explained that an actual corner existed in Stutz Motors, Allan A. Ryan and interests identified with him having more stock and contracts for stock than there were shares outstanding. At the offices of Allan A. Ryan & Co. it was said Mr. Ryan had no statement to make concerning the ruling of the Stock Exchange. It was admitted, however, that he was cognizant of the decree. Ryan & Co. controls, in certified form, about 80 per cent. of the Stutz shares, and has contracts for the delivery of Stutz stock making up more more than the remaining 20 per cent. of the 100,000 share capital.

Wall Street has been speculating for more than a week as to who was short of Stutz. Various tales were heard, every commission house offering new grist. One version had it that a wager of $50,000 was really the foundation for the sensational advance in the shares—another that a prominent manufacturer had been caught short, and still another was to the effect that a feud was being settled between some prominent Wall Street interests.

Small Speculators Hit Hard.

At the Stock Exchange, however, it was asserted that investigation showed the largest short interest in any one house amounted to 700 shares and from that the number of shares dwindled down to the odd lot calibre, some of the small speculators having ventured short of 5 and 10 shares of Stutz with disastrous results. The short interest is therefore a diversified one, precluding the possibility of a large operator having been trapped, and is said to extend over the entire country.

The rise in Stutz has been one of the most pyrotechnic recorded in recent years. From a low of only a fraction more than 100 during the middle of February the shares shot forward until yesterday they sold at 391, with the advance during their last period of trading on the Exchange amounting to 21 points. From the point of view of yield, the price of the shares had long ago far exceeded the level where there

STORY OF EX-ARMY AGENT

HENRY BEFORE GRAND JURY

Smith Follows Police Inspector on Stand—More Testimony About Gambling Raids.

Police Inspector Dominick Henry spent more than three hours before the Extraordinary Grand Jury yesterday giving testimony and offering records to prove his contention that he had been persecuted for two years for refusing to enter a partnership with Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith to sell protection to gambling and disorderly resorts and divide the revenue.

Smith followed him on the stand, denying the Henry charges, and seemed to be on friendly terms with members of the Grand Jury when the inquiry ended. While it was reported yesterday that the present line of charges against Smith had fallen to the ground a new attack was made on him by Commissioner of Accounts Hirshfield, who made public an affidavit transmitted to him by Police Commissioner Enright from John G. Purdie, an agent of the Military Intelligence Division of the army during the war.

Purdie's affidavit charges that Smith was responsible for the failure to prosecute one Alfred E. Lindsay, who was indicted for white slavery on evidence that after advertising for women for secret service work he had sought to induce them to lead abandoned lives on the theory that they were being trained in the arts needed to capture German spies.

Assistant District Attorney Smith said last night that he had obtained the indictment of Lindsay after a Federal Grand Jury had refused to indict, and that he was not responsible for any delay thereafter, because the case had been in the hands of Assistant District Attorney Samuel Markewich and other members of the District Attorney's staff. Mr. Smith said that a few weeks ago a new charge had been brought against Lindsay by Third Deputy Police Commissioner Augustus Drum Porter, since indicted and removed, and that an unsuccessful effort had been made at that time to find the woman who was the complaining witness against Lindsay.

Purdie's Story.

The complaining witness was Mrs. Beatrice E. Weille, a widow, who in June, 1918, when the arrest was made, lived in an apartment in West Eighty-seventh Street. She first told her story to Purdie, whose story was made public yesterday. After answering an advertisement in The New York Herald calling for women for secret service work, she said that she received a telephone call telling her to go to the office of Post & Flagg, in the Hotel Astor, and ask for Alfred E. Lindsay.

"She did so," the affidavit of Purdie continues, "and met a man who told her he was Alfred E. Lindsay, and he stated that he was Chief of the United States Secret Service."

Lindsay told her, it is alleged, that he wanted women of her type for special work, which would require that she live at the Ritz-Carlton, drive about in limousines and spend unlimited amounts of expense money. Her work, in short, was to fascinate German spies and compel them to confide their secrets to her. It was explained to her, according to the woman's complaint, that this naturally made it necessary for her to lead a wild and unconventional life, but her country required it of her.

When Lindsay began paying addresses to her on his own account she accused him of being a fraud, according to her story. She left him and reported the matter to the Military Intelligence Division, then conducted in this city under Colonel Nicholas Biddle. Because of danger that the patriotism of many women might be exploited in this manner, an elaborate trap was set for Lindsay.

Mrs. Weille resumed negotiations with him, and he finally called at her apartment, the affidavit continues, where the conversation was heard through a dictaphone by John G. Purdie and Andrew Murray and Kenneth Downs of the American Protective League. They first told their story to an Assistant United States District Attorney, who lectured Lindsay and freed him. Dissatisfied with the failure to prosecute, the Government agents took the case to the District Attorney's office, where an indictment was obtained. Lindsay was arrested at the New York Athletic Club.

Case Called a "Frameup."

"Some months went by," continued Purdie, "and I began to hear that Lindsay had been making statements to the effect that the whole case was a 'frame-up' and would never be brought to trial. I went down to the office of the trial. One day I met Lindsay on Broadway and he told me that the whole matter had been dropped and that the case would never come to trial. I went down to the office of the Military Intelligence Division and asked Colonel Biddle to write to Mr. Smith and ask when the case would be brought to trial. Mr.

Strike on All Ferries Threatened This Morning

An unexpected strike decision voted last night by the Marine Workers' Affiliation of this port threatened early this morning to tie up from 6 o'clock onward every freight and passenger ferry in New York Harbor operated by a railway company.

The strike order affects 6,000 men and may spread to the harbor boatmen and terminal workers on other craft. The reason alleged by W. A. Maher and Thomas B. Healey, the men's spokesmen, was:

"The railroads are attempting to deprive the men of the eight-hour day guaranteed by the Cummins-Esch Railroad bill by turning their marine equipment over to private owners, who operate the boats ten and twelve hours a day. The Erie already has sold seven tugboats to Charles Stewart, President of the Phoenix Transit Company and former Marine Superintendent of the Erie. We are striking in protest."

CROKER'S ESTATE TIED UP IN FLORIDA

ALLEGE HE IS INCOMPETENT

Special to The New York Times.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 31.—Richard Croker, Sr., has made a voluntary request to the State health officer and well-known alienist, Major Ralph Nelson Greene, M. D., who is in West Palm Beach as a witness for the State in the murder trial of Mrs. Grace V. Howell, to examine him tomorrow as to his sanity, to refute the claim of his children that he is mentally incompetent.

Howard Croker of Cedarhurst, L. I., who is reported to be in Palm Beach, has filed an action in the Palm Beach Circuit Court a bill of complaint against Bula E. Croker, wife of Richard Croker, Sr., asking that a master be appointed to inquire into the mental condition of the elder Croker, and that a committee be appointed to take charge of the estate. Accompanying the bill of complaint are numerous affidavits of Richard Croker, Jr., who had charge of his father's estate up to the time of his marriage, Ethel White, Mary B. Croker and others.

Mr. Croker asked for the examination by the alienist, following the action of Howard Croker on March 21, when he sent the Rev. Father Breslin of the West Palm Beach Roman Catholic parish to intercede for him with his father, and Mr. Croker refused to discuss his affairs with the priest.

It may be stated that the people of Palm Beach do not believe Mr. Croker to be of unsound mind, but, on the contrary, to be a very astute, well-preserved old gentleman, far more capable of looking out for himself than is the average man, even among those of attainment. He has become a Director in one of the local banks, and bustles around town every day, actively engaged in many real estate transactions. He owns probably $1,000,000 worth of property in the country and is constantly buying and selling.

In these transactions he has been meeting the leading business men of the community and they regard him as being exceptionally clear-headed and able. The injunction was granted without the defendant having notice of the complaint, and there will be an argument shortly on an application to have it dismissed.

Counsel for the two sons and a daughter of Richard Croker, Sr., formerly Tammany leader here, announced yesterday that the Circuit Court of Florida at Palm Beach, Fla., has issued a temporary injunction preventing the transfer or disposal of all Mr. Croker's property in that State, pending institution of proceedings by his family to have a conservator appointed to manage his estate.

In six affidavits filed with the petition for the restraining order Richard Croker, Jr., and Howard Croker, the sons, and Mrs. Ethel White, the daughter, assert that their father is not competent to handle his own affairs and that he has been unduly influenced by his present wife, who, "to further her own interest," has sought by every means to alienate him from his children.

The affidavits allege that his disposition has changed from a cheerful host and an affectionate father to moroseness, indifference and a hatred for his children.

It is alleged by the petitioner and his supporters that the father is very feeble, that he has dyed his hair and that he is absolutely deferential to the will of his second wife regarding his actions.

Mrs. White and her brother's wife allege that a change came over Mr. Croker soon after his marriage to the second Mrs. Croker. They attribute his alleged coldness to his children to her influence over him, and they contend that she brought about the change of feeling toward them in an effort to alienate his affections from them so that she might gain control of Mr. Croker's fortune, which is estimated at being over $10,000,000.

Say Estate Has Been Wasted.

Howard Croker and his brother and sister assert their belief that their stepmother has already obtained possession of a considerable amount of his fortune, and that his estate in Palm Beach particularly has been wasted to a considerable extent, and is threatened with further deterioration.

It is alleged in the affidavits accompanying the petition for the injunction that at a meeting of the children with their father at the Hotel Savoy in this city last December their father seemed unable to comprehend questions put to him by his children, and that his wife at frequent intervals undertook to answer them for the aged man.

All the time they were in their father's apartment in the hotel, they assert, the second Mrs. Croker kept them standing, and when they continued to press him with questions their stepmother called them brutes and further denounced them for bothering her "darling husband."

HOOVER CANDIDACY FAILS TO OBTAIN CONGRESS SUPPORT

ASSAILED IN THE SENATE

Brandegee and Gronna Join McKellar in Attack—Ashurst Defends Him.

FARMERS CALLED HOSTILE

Believed That Hoover Will Cause Wood's Nomination or Make It Difficult.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Political Washington awoke today to a realization of the overnight change in the Presidential situation due to Herbert Hoover's announcement of his willingness to accept the Republican nomination for President.

The surprise was complete in spite of the effort on the part of some politicians to make it appear to be a case of "I told you so." Before the day was over it was evident that Mr. Hoover's declaration had brought some confusion and uncertainty into the national campaign.

Senators and Representatives of both major parties found the Hoover announcement the most absorbing topic for discussion. But speaking for publication Senators and Representatives were inclined to be reticent. Democrats were particularly so, while among Republicans the disposition was rather to ask questions than to express opinions.

Mr. Hoover's expressed willingness to be considered for the Republican nomination got an airing on the floor of the Senate in the afternoon. He was criticised by two Republican Senators, Brandegee of Connecticut and Gronna of North Dakota, and by a Democrat, McKellar of Tennessee. Senator Ashurst of Arizona, however, apparently thought that there was still a chance of the nomination of Mr. Hoover by the Democratic National Convention, for he wanted his Tennessee party associate not to say too many condemnatory things of the former Food Administrator.

One of the outstanding features of today's sizing up of the situation produced by Mr. Hoover's entrance into Republican politics was the agreement that his candidacy would either cause the nomination of General Leonard Wood or injure his chances appreciably. A phase of the argument was that with Wood as the leading candidate for the Republican nomination—that is, the candidate who would enter the convention with the most votes to his credit—Republicans with strong party leanings would flock to him in order to prevent the selection of Hoover if that prospect was promising. The other phase was that Hoover might develop such strength that he would enter the convention with the drawing qualities which belong to a candidate who seems to be a winner. To that extent the Wood strength would be affected, it was contended.

Johnson's Candidacy Affected.

But the day did not develop enough to make clear what effect Mr. Hoover's declaration will have on the Republican convention, now more than two months away. Many of the outstanding Republican leaders are away from Washington, among them Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, who has already declared against Hoover as a possible Republican standard bearer; Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California.

Senator Johnson said some critical things of Mr. Hoover in New York Sunday and yesterday, and it was everywhere agreed today that the Johnson boom had been most seriously affected by Hoover's entrance into the contest. Johnson and Hoover are from the same State, and the Hoover sentiment in California has given concern to the Johnson management.

In his telegram to the Hoover Club of California Mr. Hoover took occasion to deliver a body blow to Senator Johnson that shows his willingness to fight the California Senator in their common State. "I understand," said Mr. Hoover, "that there is a great wish among the Republicans of California to have opportunity to express themselves in favor of the League of Nations with proper reservations safeguarding American traditions and interests as opposed to the extreme view advocated against any league at all."

This was an obvious reference to the opposition to the league shown by Senator Johnson, who may properly be classified as holding "the extreme view" to which Mr. Hoover referred. If Hoover should go into California to fight Johnson on the league issue there would be the liveliest political contest that the State has witnessed for many a day.

All in all, the comment among Republican Senators and Representatives on Mr. Hoover's sensational entrance into Republican politics was not enthusiastic. Of course, this comment came from professional politicians, and they have a dislike for the effort to obtain party preference on the part of a man who has not been identified with party interests.

It was evident also that Mr. Hoover's long residence abroad will be a factor in the opposition to his candidacy among

ROOSEVELT IN OPPOSITION

Adler, Too, Maintains Charges Against Socialist Party Were Not Sustained.

CHAMBER OFTEN IN UPROAR

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, April 1.—At 3 o'clock this morning the Assembly was still debating the expulsion of the five Socialist Assemblymen, following fourteen hours of argument and speeches, and there was no indication of when the balloting would begin.

The debate at midnight had been in progress for almost twelve hours. The prospect was that the vote would come in the early morning hours with a likelihood that the majority report of the Judiciary Committee would be sustained and the Socialists ousted. There were still on hand hundreds of spectators who had been in attendance since early forenoon and seemed determined to stick it out to the end.

The discussion by turns was stormy or lagging, the Democrats talking against time with the tacit consent of Speaker Sweet for the purpose of delaying the final vote until after midnight, so that Governor Smith would be saved the embarrassment of determining whether special elections should be called in the districts of the five Socialists to fill the vacancies caused by their expulsion. Under the election law no special elections for the purpose can be called after April 1.

Sweet Speaks from Floor.

Speaker Sweet created excitement prior to the final roll call when he left the rostrum and made a speech from the floor in which he embodied implied censure of Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, representing the First Nassau District, who earlier in the evening had spoken against the unseating of the Socialists.

Speaker Sweet quoted from utterances of the late President Roosevelt on Americanism to emphasize the implied contrast between his attitude and that of his son.

"This day, while we are making legislative history, we must surely feel with us the presence of that indomitable, country-loving statesman, the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who in these chambers only a few years ago laid the foundation of his noble, self-sacrificing labors in the interest of the Republic he so dearly loved," said the speaker.

"Deep in the heart of every true American is a reverence for his words and regards for his deeds given to only two other patriots and statesmen, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

"From the hour when, in the spirit of your great Americanism, you placed the seal of doom upon the organization which had long masqueraded as a political party by suspending from the Assembly the five men who swore fealty to that party in defiance of the Constitution of the State of New York, you have been vilified and misrepresented. This criticism was not directed at you because you found the five Assemblymen unacceptable, but you were accused of denying a political party the right to exist under the Constitution.

"The evidence produced at the hearing before the Judiciary Committee has been conclusive. The five Assemblymen stand for their organization and that organization stands for the overthrow of the Government. You members who, during the war, sat in the Assembly chamber, striving by every might to promote the interests of the United States in the World War, listened to expletives from representatives of the Socialist party against all legislation aimed to assist in winning the war."

Other features of the debate were speeches by Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt and Simon L. Adler, majority leader, opposing the majority report. Mr. Adler advocated the seating of Assemblymen Samuel Orr and Samuel A. De Witt of the Bronx, against whom the only charge was their membership in the Socialist Party.

Ever since it became known that Mr. Adler was to oppose Speaker Sweet and his lieutenants, feeling has been running high against him, and there was even talk today of compelling him to resign the floor leadership, but this movement made so little headway that the promoters abandoned it.

The speech made by Colonel Roosevelt was listened to with close attention by his fellow members and the large crowd of spectators that flocked into the Assembly chamber at the session tonight. It was the first speech

Senator Sage Tells Objector to Anti-Sedition Bills That State Is Building Two More Prisons

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, March 31.—Warned that passage of the bills aimed at breaking up seditious activities in the State and the abolition of the Rand School, an alleged seditious hotbed, would make more lawbreakers for whom the State should immediately begin the building of more prisons, Senator Henry M. Sage of Albany retorted that the State was now building two more prisons.

The bills which resulted from the investigation conducted mostly in New York City of the Lusk Legislative Investigation Committee, had a hearing this afternoon before the joint Finance Committees of the Legislature, and Senator Sage presided.

Representatives of the Rand School, S. John Block, one of the counsel for the Socialist Assemblymen, and some labor men opposed the measures, aligning themselves against Senator Clayton R. Lusk, Chairman of the committee bearing his name; Peter J. Brady, representing the New York State Federation of Labor, and Job E. Hedges, once a candidate for Governor of the State. Two of the suspended Socialist Assemblymen, Charles Solomon and Louis Waldman, were silent listeners.

Peter J. Brady supported enactment of the bills and heard F. G. Beidenkapp, who claimed to represent 20,000 organized machinists, forming a "radical wing of the State Federation of Labor," make the remark about the building of more prisons.

The Rev. F. H. Johnson, claiming to represent thirty Protestant churches in New York City, and Captain Harold Riegelman of the United Neighborhood Houses, spoke in opposition to the bills. Mrs. Mary Shrompberg, representing Mrs. John Blair, President of the New York City Club, said she represented 3,000 women who were opposed to the measures. Edward C. Rybicki, Chairman of the Emergency Educational Conference of the Central Federated Union, led the opposition.

MISSISSIPPI HOUSE REJECTS SUFFRAGE

Votes Down by 94 to 23 Ratifying Resolution Passed by Senate.

MORE DELAY IN DELAWARE

Legislators in Turmoil When Suffragists Balk—Connecticut Governor Firm.

Special to The New York Times.

JACKSON, Miss., March 31.—Disregarding earnest appeals from some of the foremost Democratic leaders of the nation to throw Mississippi into line for woman suffrage, and thus strengthen the party's chance of success in the Presidential campaign, the lower house of the Legislature, by a vote of 94 to 23, rejected today the resolution to ratify the Federal suffrage amendment.

The roll call showed that suffrage had gained no strength since the vote taken a few weeks ago, when the amendment was repudiated. Members were so eager to dispose of the question that they refused to listen to the reading of telegrams from Homer Cummings, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee; William J. Bryan, Secretary Josephus Daniels and others.

The House was in an uproar during the ten minutes required to dispose of the question and the debate was acrimonious.

Mr. Winter of Grenada started the proceedings with a motion that the House do not concur in the resolution passed by the Senate. He was followed by Mr. Rees of Prentiss, who declared adoption of the amendment would be repudiation of the indorsement heretofore given to President Wilson.

"Woman suffrage is here, and you know it," said Mr. Sillers of Bolivar. "The leaders of the Democratic Party have made an eleventh hour appeal to us, and it should be heeded. A vote against this amendment is a vote against the Democratic Party, and you will live to see this prediction come true."

Mr. Whiteworth of Pike argued against the amendment. During his address Mr. Watts of Rankin injected the remark, "I'd die and go to hell before I'd vote for it."

"If we have to sacrifice a principle in order to elect a President, then I say let him go," declared Mr. Wilroy of De Soto, who insisted the amendment was a flagrant invasion of State rights.

Mr. Sillers, in the final argument for the measure, declared adoption of the amendment by Mississippi would mean a million votes for the Democratic Party. "If you are a true Democrat," he exclaimed, "you will get on the right side. If you are not a true Democrat, or a good American, you will vote against it."

Special to The New York Times.

DOVER, Del., March 31.—Contrary to all expectations, action on the suffrage amendment in the Delaware Legislature was called off at the last moment this afternoon, apparently because of the belief that it would be defeated, and one of the most sensational sessions of the special session occurred.

The suffrage amendment was introduced the second day of the first week's session, but was held back until today because of fear criticism might be made that the resolution was being "rushed." Every one was keyed to the highest tension for the vote on the resolution today when the unexpected happened by the failure of Representative Hart, introducer of the resolution, to have it called as had been scheduled.

Speaker Corbit, as did other members of the House, believed that the resolution would be called and could hardly

LEGISLATORS PASS RENT RELIEF BILLS

Governor Has Eleven Measures and Is Expected to Sign Them Quickly.

ONLY ONE HELD OVER

That Exempting $40,000 in Mortgages from Income Tax Expected to Die.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 31.—Under an emergency message from Governor Smith, the Legislature today passed a group of eleven housing bills designed to curb profiteering landlords and furnish all possible relief to tenants in New York City. Governor Smith has the measures tonight for his signature. The bills were passed in the Senate this afternoon, and debate on the expulsion of the Socialists was suspended in the Assembly to permit their passage so they could be sent to the Governor tonight.

The twelfth bill of the group, all of which were drafted by the Legislative Committee on Housing, which would exempt from the State income tax the incomes on mortgages up to $40,000, was not reported out of committee, and it is believed it will be killed.

The measures were passed without strong opposition in the Senate, the only hostility being to the bill limiting rent increases last year to 25 per cent. Senator Abeles of the Bronx offered an amendment which would limit the increases to 10 per cent. Senator Dodge of the Bronx supporting his contention that this amount was sufficient, but the Senate voted the amendment down. Senators Adon P. Brown, Alvah W. Burlingame, John Knight and Henry Walton, Republicans, and Senator Russell, Democrat, voted against the bill limiting the increase to 25 per cent.

Senator Burlingame opposed all the measures, asserting his belief that the program would not solve the situation and that the only reason the bills were passed was "because election day is not far off." He asserted that the housing problem could not be solved by harassing landlords and telling them how much profit they could make.

"You might as well pass a law directing organized labor to allow itself to be conscripted for building work under penalty that unless they do they shall obtain no other work," he said.

J. Henry Walters, majority leader, fought the amendment proposed by Senator Abeles to the 25 per cent. increase. He said such an amendment would virtually kill the effect of the measure. He discussed the constitutionality of the housing program and declared that it was the first time the Legislature had made definite its legislative intent on the statute books. The constitutionality of the program, he said, would depend on whether the courts held that the State had the right to declare it had police power on the grounds that an emergency existed.

Senate leaders immediately after the passage of the bills in the upper house arranged to have them sent to the Assembly so that they might be passed there and sent at once to the Governor.

The new laws provide:

1. Burden of proof that a tenant is objectionable when summary eviction is sought on that ground is shifted to the landlord.
2. Amendment of the so-called Ottinger law so as to provide that where an agreement between landlord and tenant does not specifically mention the duration of the tenancy this shall continue until Oct. 1 following occupancy.
3. Thirty days' notice instead of twenty by tenants intending to move is on a leading topic by Mr. Roosevelt since he took his seat in the Assembly.

Colonel Roosevelt's Speech.

Colonel Roosevelt conceded that the Assembly, as the sole judge of the qualifications of its members, had a right to expel any one and that its determination was final.

"As this power is subject to no external control," he said, "it is doubly necessary for us to exercise it only with self-control, because the greater the power the more dangerous the abuse.

"To expel the Socialist Party from our Assembly we must condemn it as a conspiracy. If we so expel it, we must in all logic set about expelling all Socialists from every office they hold through the length and breadth of this State, and, to bring the expulsion to its logical conclusion as the right to vote in general entails the right to hold office, we must disfranchise every dues-paying member of the Socialist Party.

"Against the party there has been urged, as perhaps the two principal charges, disloyal action during the war, and action or designs with the intent of overthrowing our present Government by force.

"With regard to the first of these, the record shows that during the last crisis neither the party nor most of its members approved of the war, nor for that matter of any war. They confined their activities, however, to protesting against the war and to refraining from giving voluntary help to its prosecution. In no case does the record show that they violated or urged violation of any law put forward by the country for the effective prosecution of the war. To convict the party on this charge would therefore be to convict on a belief of a state of mind.

"With regard to the second charge, that of planning the overthrow of the Government by force, in no part of the record do I consider this to have been proved. At worst, there are some ambiguous phrases and utterances. To convict on these it is necessary to assume that each and every member of the party subscribes to every tenet of the party, an unfair assumption. For who is there among us, either Republican or Democrat, that subscribes to every tenet of his party?

"It has been definitely proved in the investigation that minors and aliens are members of the Socialist Party and may influence its policy and sit as members of its controlling committees. This is a most unsavory fact, but should we expel the party on this account? Again, no! It is something we should correct by legislation, but it is not something on which we should expel.

"We abhor the party principles. We must not let this influence us to commit a crime against representative government. We have established no case against the Socialist Party. We must not expel these men, therefore, simply because they are members of the Socialist Party.

"The second but less important feature that comes up before us is the question of fitness of these men as individuals.

"Against two of them, Orr and De Witt, no case has been urged other than that they are members of the Socialist Party. Against the other three, Waldman, Claessens and Solomon, there is testimony as to certain speeches and acts. These show no overt action, but again come under the category that tends to prove a state of mind. I do not believe we should expel on our belief of a state of mind. Therefore, I say, unproven.

"In urging this verdict of unproven, we must have it clearly understood that we in no way indorse or believe in the party or its members.

"We abhor the doctrines of the Socialist Party. We have a rancorous dislike for the actions of most of these men as individuals. Many of us personally and through our families have suffered greatly from their actions and the actions of the pacifists, for to them is attributable in a large degree the unpreparedness of this country when war broke. Our actions, however, must have no reference to any except two things—original justice and discretionary application. We must not let this entirely justifiable dislike force us to commit a crime against representative government. We must reseat these men, and then in our pleasure take up and remedy by legislation such things in their party as may need correction."

Evidence Insufficient Asserts Adler.

Mr. Adler in his speech said that the Socialist party had been a legal party, politically, for more than twenty years; that it's activities had been conducted in the open, and it was a political party today. He said there was no evidence that the Socialist party had committed an overt act of force or violence for the overthrow of the Government and concluded that the five men could not be expelled on the ground of their membership in it. On the other hand, he declared that in his opinion no greater calamity could befall this country than to come under Socialist sway. He said in part:

"We have power to exclude these men from this body for any cause which we deem adequate and proper. In our action we are bound by no code of procedure other than that imposed by ourselves. This unique power, residing in our parliamentary bodies is the most absolute and unrestricted known to any political system. Other than in this single instance, it is found only in a pure despotism.

"That this power must be exercised in a popular government with the greatest caution, needs no argument. We must be more than certain that when we exercise it our determination will stand the test of the severest criticism by ourselves, by the people and by posterity. The pitiless publicity given to the principles and activities of the Socialist Party, through the medium of this investigation, will, it is hoped, deter thoughtful citizens from giving it aid or sympathy or from being influenced by its propaganda.

"The evidence introduced against Waldman, Claessens and Solomon tends to show that they are each of the revolutionary type of Socialists. That their opposition to our Government and our form of government is implacable. Their speeches, associations and actions all tend to show that they favor the overthrow of the Government by peace if possible, by force if necessary. Upon their individual record and upon their own testimony on the stand in this proceeding the Assembly is justified in declaring that they are not fit to sit in this legislative body.

"Against the other two Socialist members, Orr and DeWitt, no evidence was introduced. The case against them, therefore, falls to the ground by the failure to indict the Socialist Party, and they should be restored to their seats."

Democrats Unite to Cause Delay.

When the report of the Judiciary Committee was called up Assemblyman Maurice Bloch, a Tammany Democrat, made the first plea for delay. He said that while the majority report had been placed in the hands of the Assemblymen some of the minority reports, of which he wrote one, had not. He wanted debate postponed until tomorrow, but was told by Speaker Sweet that this could be done only by a two-thirds vote.

Mr. Bloch then moved that the minority reports be read. Assemblyman Rowe of Erie, another member of the Judiciary Committee, insisted that if the minority reports be read in full the majority report, containing approximately 25,000 words, should also be read in full. This request being backed by a sufficient number, Speaker Sweet ordered all the reports read, at the same time directing the Sergeant at Arms to see that all members got into their seats and remained in them during the reading.

For about half an hour the reading progressed. The members, wearying of the recital, kept going out of the Assembly chamber until at last the clerk was addressing chiefly empty chairs. Assemblyman George R. Fearon of Onondaga then moved that further reading be dispensed with, and a majority of those in the chamber supported the motion.

Then for ten frenzied minutes there were motions, points of order and rulings by the Speaker. His decisions were appealed from time and again only to be sustained by the Assembly.

Motion to Postpone Debate Lost.

The motion to delay debate until tomorrow was put to a final vote and lost, 41 to 90. McCue then moved that a two-hour recess be taken. Cuvillier rose to a point of order and declared that such a motion could not be made when a subject had been made a special order of the day. Speaker Sweet sustained Cuvillier. McCue arose, full of anger, and appealed from the ruling.

"This is the very thing that will bring about delay," he fairly roared. "I will give the Speaker and the majority more delay than they bargain for. There is no power in hell on heaven that can prevent us from delaying this vote for twenty-four hours, and that is going to be done. Mr. Speaker, if you don't want to be accused of using the steam roller you had better let us have the delay we are speaking for."

Majority Leader Adler moved to table the McCue motion, and the motion was carried by a vote of 90 to 33. Assemblyman Hamill made a new motion for adjournment until tomorrow, which was put to a vote and defeated, 90 to 33.

While the roll was being called on the Hamill motion Assemblyman Cosgrove of Richmond, an ex-service man, who was wounded in France, asked an opportunity to explain his vote. This was denied by the Speaker, who had to call for the Sergeant at Arms before Cosgrove would resume his seat. The Speaker's action was met with a demonstration of disapproval in which scores of members took part, and there was a noisy protest later when the Speaker declared that in debating the ouster resolution members would be limited to fifteen minutes each. He relented and informed the Assembly that this rule would not be enforced unless it was found necessary.

Cited Sulzer and Allds Cases.

Chairman Martin, of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, then opened the debate with a two-hour speech in which he urged the Assembly to support the majority report. There was no doubt, he maintained, of the exclusive and ultimate jurisdiction of the Assembly.

"It has been contended," he said, "that we cannot go behind the oath of office these five men have taken in compliance with the constitutional provision. If that holds good, then a man could come here reeking with crime and merely by taking the official oath purge himself of any contemptible or criminal act he had committed. We of the majority did not subscribe to that doctrine, and in this attitude we are upheld not only by Congressional precedents, but by the findings in the Sulzer and Allds cases by our own Legislature. Sulzer had taken his oath of office and was impeached and removed for something he had done before the oath was taken. Nine years had elapsed at the time Senator Allds was ousted from the time when the act was committed on which the proceedings against him were based."

The Chairman referred to the statement of Morris Hillquit that the only charge against his clients in which there was real merit was that of disloyalty during the war and his admittance that if this was sustained by evidence there was nothing for his clients to do but to leave the Assembly chamber in disgrace.

"We have taken their learned counsel at his word and if you have read the testimony you must be convinced by this time that by his very words they stand convicted and condemned. The question that you have to answer is whether or not the group of which these men are members, and to whose program they are committed by the most binding pledges, is in hearty accord with our Government. That is a vital question. If it is not, they have no right here, for the object of this Assembly is the perpetuation in law of American institutions."

Assemblyman Cuvillier, who followed Mr. Martin, paused in the midst of a denunciation of the Socialists when he discovered two of their number—Charles Solomon and Louis Waldman—occupying seats in the Chamber.

Pointing his finger at them, he shouted:

"These two men who sit there with a sneer and a smirk on their faces are just as much representatives of the Russian Soviet Government as if they were Lenin and Trotzky themselves. They are little Lenins, little Trotzkys in our midst."

Evans Speaks Over Two Hours.

Two hours and a half were occupied by Assemblyman Evans of the Bronx, Democrat, one of the two who voted against the original ouster resolution and the author of an elaborate minority report urging reseating on the ground that the Assembly lacked legal authority to remove them on the charges made.

"I do not believe in anything the Socialist Party stands for and have nothing but condemnation for anything that party did during the war," he said. "I have no sympathy for any of the five men under charges and would gladly vote to oust them if there was any legal justification for doing so. I rise not in defense of them but of the Constitution, which we would be throwing out of the window in unseating these men. I admit we have the physical strength, but we lack the legal power to expel them. It will remain for the State of New York to take this revolutionary initiative and say to the voters of the five Assembly districts."

Maurice Bloch, New York Democrat, in the course of his remarks quoted from a speech made in the Constitutional Convention by Elihu Root to show that those who attacked the Socialists for making pledges in conflict with the Constitution had not always been so zealous with regard to upholding that instrument.

"You and I have no right to pass on any test of loyalty or political principle as a qualification for membership in addition to the official prescribed oath," Mr. Bloch went on. "To do so would be a nullification of democracy and a shameless establishment of dictatorship. An official ballot bearing marks made by duly qualified American electors I regard as a sacred thing. My consent will not be given to the practical destruction of that. Twenty-eight thousand four hundred and fourteen persons placed their ballots in the ballot box in support of these men. Their voice is supreme.

"To do otherwise than to seat these men would be the same as if we were to collect the ballot boxes in which these 28,414 votes were deposited and place these boxes on the highest step of the Capitol and then kick them so that they fell into the Hudson River and eventually find their way to the open sea. This surely would be a step toward the licensing of Bolshevism by the Assembly."

Assemblyman McCue, who made one of the last speeches, denounced those who went to the defense of the Socialists and the Socialist Party.

"The Socialists in America took Germany's dirty money and went Germany's dirty errands during the war," said McCue.

RESOLUTION TO END OUR STATE OF WAR

curities, papers or other articles or documents, or any vessel, together with her tackle, apparel, furniture and equipment, concerned in such violation, shall be forfeited to the United States.

"Section 5—That nothing herein contained shall be construed as a waiver by the United States of its rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages to which the United States has become entitled under the terms of the armistice signed Nov. 11, 1918, or which were acquired by or are in the possession of the United States by reason of its participation in the war or otherwise and all fines, forfeitures, penalties and seizures imposed or made by the United States are hereby ratified, confirmed and maintained."

Haste Angers Democrats.

When Democrats learned that Mr. Porter wanted to try to put the resolution through the House as early as Friday Speaker Clark, Mr. Kitchin and Representative Garner, the Democratic whip, called upon Mr. Mondell. They were angry and insisted that Democratic members must have time to study the resolution. The Republican Steering Committee held a meeting and then announced the postponement.

25,000 EVICTIONS EXPECTED ON MAY 1

City Preparing to Meet Crisis When 50,000 Leases Expire Next Month.

LANDLORDS FACE TROUBLE

City Marshals Can Delay Proceedings—Lewinsohn Quits Rent Committee.

The Mayor's Committee on Rent Profiteering is preparing to handle 25,000 evictions of tenants on or about May 1, according to a statement yesterday by A. J. W. Hilly, Chairman of the committee. Three additional rooms adjoining the present quarters on the twelfth floor of the Municipal Building have been assigned to the committee.

The committee will also have available soon three additional lawyers attached to the Corporation Counsel's office and several employes from the Tax and Tenement House Departments. With the enlarged facilities and additional personnel the committee will be able to adjudicate 800 cases daily, said Mr. Hilly.

In order to map out a plan of action in connection with the large number of evictions due about the first of May, Chairman Hilly has called a meeting of City Marshals for Monday afternoon at the committee's rooms. Suggestions with regard to lightening the burden of the evicted tenants and relieving them from undue hardship will be discussed at the meeting. Conservatively estimated, 50,000 leases in the city will expire on May 1, according to Mr. Hilly, and he expects one-half of this number to be involved in summary proceedings.

It was pointed out yesterday that the City Marshal is in a splendid strategical position to make the life of the tenant easier and to cause considerable annoyance to the landlord if the Marshal is so inclined.

Under the ordinary processes of law a landlord generally goes to the City Marshal who draws up the papers which the Court signs. The papers are then served on the tenant, and if no delay is obtained by the tenant he is evicted.

It was said yesterday that it is not incumbent on the City Marshal to go through the process on the first application, but that he is obliged to take the matter up if the landlord comes to him a second time, provided the landlord has in the meantime applied to every other City Marshal in New York for a drawing up of the process. As there are sixty-seven Marshals in New York and thirty-six in Manhattan alone, it would take considerable time for a landlord to dispossess a tenant if the Marshals should decide to follow the letter of the law in this regard.

Solomon A. Lewinsohn, assistant to the Chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Rent Profiteering, resigned yesterday. Chairman Hilly denied that Mr. Lewinsohn's pledge of the city's aid to those planning a rent revolt of 800,000 tenants on May 1 at the Beethoven Hall meeting on Monday night had anything to do with his resignation.

required where there is a monthly tenancy agreement.

4. In holdover cases, after there has been default in the paymetn of taxes or assessments, a tenant may remain, providing he deposits the amount of his rent with the Judge or clerk of the court through which an eviction warrant has been served.

5. Where a precept is returnable the court may determine the amount of rent due and render judgment for that amount.

6. Where a landlord has increased his rent more than 25 per cent. over what it was in the previous year the tenant may set up as a defense to action for payment of rent that it is "unreasonable, unconscionable, unjust and oppressive," but the landlord may recover a "reasonable" amount of rent.

7. Section 230 of the real estate law, under which a landlord may recover double penalty from a tenant holding over without his consent, is repealed.

8. A tenant may make application for a stay up to nine months and the Judge in his discretion grant it, provided the tenant deposits the amount of his rent and proves to the satisfaction of the court that he has diligently sought to secure suitable premises for himself and family and has failed through no fault of his own.

9. Practice is prescribed and the provisions of the code in summary proceedings harmonized with the new provisions embodied in the relief bills.

10. The penal law is amended by making it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $1,000 or one year's imprisonment, or both, for a landlord to deny to a tenant the privilege of "natural and normal service," such as heat, water and operation of elevator.

11. The same defense is prescribed in actions for ejectment in the Supreme Court as has been prescribed for summary proceedings in the municipal courts in rent eviction cases.

All the bills in their original form applied only to first class cities, but were amended to apply to Westchester County.

NO FUNDS, SAYS McADOO.

In Fact, He Declares, There Is No Campaign for Him.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—William McAdoo in a letter written to Labor, a magazine published by the fourteen railroad labor unions, says he has no knowledge of any campaign fund in his interest, nor does he expect to spend any money "in connection with the nomination for the Presidency."

Incidentally he says:

"My campaign is not financed because there is no campaign for me. Nothing whatever has been expended by me to date in connection with the nomination for the Presidency, nor do I expect to spend any money whatever in connection therewith. There are no contributions to any campaign fund for me."

JOHNSON MAY ATTEND NEW PEACE PARLEYS

Our Italian Envoy Talked Of as American Representative at San Remo.

PARIS, March 31.—The resumpton of the sitting of the Peace Conference, which now seems definitely set for April 10 or 11 at San Remo, Italy, brings up the question whether the United States will be represented, and, if so, by whom. Hugh C. Wallace, the American Ambassador to France, has been sitting in the Peace Conference sessions held in Paris and Ambassador John W. Davis in those in London.

San Remo, however, is situated in the territory of America's recently appointed diplomatic representative, Ambassador Robert Underwood Johnson, and it is doubtful if Ambassador Wallace will journey to San Remo and resume his place as an interested spectator at the conference table. It is possible that Mr. Johnson may take that post.

RETURN TO AMERICA AFTER FREEING POLAND

DANZIG, March 30 (Associated Press).—The homeward movement of American Poles who came to Europe to fight on the side of the Allies against the Teutonic forces and later took up arms against the Russian Bolsheviki began today, when the American transport Antigone sailed with 1,200 of the Polish warriors aboard. The transport Pocahontas, which arrived here Monday, will depart Friday with 2,000 more.

The Polish Government brought the soldiers to Danzig and arranged the final preparations for their departure. Just prior to the sailing of the Antigone Admiral Drowske, on behalf of the Polish Government, presented 500 marks to each soldier and also to two Polish-American nurses who saw service in France and Poland. The nurses are Mahja Skura of Passaic, N. J., and Janina Sawede of Lawrence, Mass.

BREST, March 31 (Associated Press).—The first body of an American soldier buried in France was exhumed here yesterday at the Pontanezen Camp Cemetery. One hundred bodies will be ready for shipment to America by April 5, the date on which a transport has been requested from the Navy Department. It is expected that the transport Antigone, which sailed from Danzig yesterday, will call at Brest for the bodies.

REPORT TURK RISING AGAINST THE ALLIES

Greek Troops Preparing to Occupy Adrianople and Eastern Thrace, Paris Hears.

PARIS, March 31.—The breaking out of a revolution all over Turkey, except in Constantinople, directed against the Allies, is reported by the Pester Lloyd of Budapest, according to a dispatch from Basle to the Fournier Agency here.

A dispatch from Athens to the Temps today states that the Greeks are taking steps toward the occupation of Adrianople and Eastern Thrace.

Seeking Teachers Outside of City.

At Monday's examination for Teacher's License No. 1 it is estimated that there were 782 candidates. In holding the examination at this time the Board of Examiners hoped to attract as many out-of-town persons as possible. The examination was made to include members of the senior classes in the city's training schools. These will not be put on the eligible list until after their graduation in June next.

time went to the telephone in the apartment and threatened to call the police to eject them from the apartment.

Mrs. Richard Croker, Jr., who also submitted to the court an affidavit on that particular phase of the differences of the elder Mr. Croker with his children, asserts that it was the most disgraceful scene she had ever witnessed. She further states in her affidavit that her husband is independently wealthy and that she does not want to share in any of her father-in-law's estate.

Fourth Child to Join.

Although the four children of Mr. Croker, Sr., have joined in the move to restrain their father from disposing of his estate at Palm Beach and West Palm Beach, it was learned yesterday that Howard Croker was unable to obtain an affidavit from his second sister, Mrs. Florence Morris, who is in England. It was explained yesterday that Mrs. Morris is expected to sign an affidavit when she returns to this country in a few weeks.

The children of Mr. Croker, Sr., were represented in the Florida Court by A. H. Carmichael, a local attorney, although McCombs & Ryan of 61 Broadway, this city, are the attorneys for the children. When the injunction was granted Samuel Adamson, a member of the firm of McCombs & Ryan, was in the Florida court with Howard Croker, the petitioner. Richard Croker, Jr., and Mr. Adamson started back to this city Tuesday night to confer with the other children of the one-time Tammany chief regarding other steps which it is expected they will take to tie up their father's estates in Ireland and in this city, it was said last night.

The injunction proceeding against their father is the culmination of a series of legal actions that have reached the courts in this city within the last six years involving the former boss of Tammany and his children.

At the present time there are six actions pending in the Supreme Court here which were instituted by Richard Croker, Jr., against his father. Two of the suits are for accountings of money advanced by the son to the father and involving about $200,000, and two others are for the recovery of stock of the Westinghouse Company and the Wabash Railroad Company. The last suit filed by young Croker against his father was for libel.

Florida Estate Worth $2,000,000.

The estate of the elder Croker in Florida has been estimated by friends of the family to be worth in real and personal property upward of $2,000,000. His estate at Sandyford, Ireland, is reported to be worth $1,000,000. The total value of his property, including securities and other personal property in this country and abroad, is estimated by Mr. McCombs at approximately $10,000,000.

Richard Croker, Sr., married an Oklahoma Indian girl of 24 years in November, 1914, within two months of the death of his first wife. He was then about 74 years old. The ceremony was performed in New York, at the home of Nathan Straus.

PROTEST TO SUPREME COUNCIL

Jugoslavs Insist That Italian Troops Have Occupied Scutari.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Truth of the report that Scutari, Albania, has been occupied by Italian troops despite the denial of the Italian delegation in Paris was insisted on in an official dispatch received here today from Belgrade by the Jugoslav Legation.

Representation on the situation, which the dispatch described as "contrary to the understanding reached by the Allies in 1918," are understood to have been made by the Jugoslav Government to the Supreme Council.

Spain Suffers Under "Cold Spell."

MADRID, March 30.—The district of Madrid, as well as all parts of Spain, is suffering the sharpest sort of a "cold spell," with snow, hail and heavy sleet. Three men were killed by lightning during the storm at Villaraya.

EXCHANGE FORBIDS TRADING IN STUTZ

was even a fair return on capital invested. At yesterday's final quotation the dividend of five dollars a year afforded about 1¼ per cent. on the price of the stock. The earnings of the company last year were not greatly in excess of dividend requirements. A comparison of the last two years is shown in the following table:

	1919.	1918.
Net earnings	1,402,020	574,984

Shorts Face $78 a Share Loss.

The stockholders of the company on March 26 voted to increase the capital from 100,000 shares to 120,000 shares, the additional shares being declared as a stock dividend of one-fifth of a share. This dividend is payable April 15 to stock of record April 5. The shorts in the issue who are unable to cover face the prospect of having to pay more than $78 a share, computing the value of the dividend on the price of the stock at yesterday's closing.

With the shares under the ban as far as the Stock Exchange is concerned, there was much speculation yesterday as to what would be the recourse of the Exchange to bring about a settlement of the difficulty. As it stands, Stock Exchange houses are precluded from trading in Stutz, and the question was asked whether this implied that a private settlement would be in violation of the ruling by the Exchange, as Allan A. Ryan & Co. might also be precluded from dealing in the shares on a strict application of the Stock Exchange ruling. From this it was inferred that even a private settlement for the time being might be frowned upon.

May Be Forced Outside.

It is believed that, although Stutz is not actually banished from the Exchange, the ban against trading will force the issue to the outside market. It was the opinion of some that traders might be inclined to switch their accounts from Stock Exchange houses to the outside market, thereby making an outside or over-the-counter market in Stutz. Opinion was at variance as to what effect this would have on the price of Stutz shares. It was patent to some that Stutz might soar to any height. As one man put it "the sky is the limit." Others, however, were inclined to see in the verdict of the Exchange an action that might break the corner in Stutz before long, but the reasoning along this line was not entirely clear.

Down in New Street, where the privilege men hold forth, Stutz was the main topic of conversation during the latter part of yesterday afternoon. Here, too, there was a disposition to let the shares severely alone. There were cross currents of opinion, but the sense of caution forebore any disposition to back up statements by the sale of privileges. Puts and calls on Stutz were entirely lacking, and there were some who saw cause for congratulation that they were not committed one way or the other as to the other Ryan interests, aside from Stutz.

In regard to a settlement price for Stutz, there was also a lack of unanimity of opinion. Some were inclined to believe it would be well above the present market price, and others that there would be a collapse in price, as in the case of the Northern Pacific corner.

Some Talk of Lawsuits.

There was some talk that lawsuits might follow the action of the Exchange, but definite expression on this point was lacking. It was pointed out, however, that some purchasers of stock might seek redress through the courts in an endeavor to get a settlement of their contracts. All of the contracts, however, carry the statement that they are subject to the rules of the New York Stock Exchange, but there was a question as to whether the action on Stutz could apply to contracts entered into before the ruling.

Allan A. Ryan & Co. advertised in The Times this morning as follows: "We will buy Stutz Motor Car Company of America, Inc."

The Stutz corner is a happening which has been foreseen by the Stock Exchange for several days, and it is understood that the Business Conduct Committee has been giving serious attention to the situation, with the result that definite action was taken yesterday in a recommendation to the Board of Governors. It has been said repeatedly that one of the principals in the operations has been before the Business Conduct Committee, although verification of this is lacking from this body.

The corner was a boon to those who live in the past. The history of previous corners was recounted at length by men who in many cases have long been removed from active participation in the Street. The days of "Uncle Dan'l" Drew and the corner in Erie were recalled; also the corner in Harlem Railway negotiated by Commodore Vanderbilt, and the Northern Pacific corner of more recent years was not without attention.

$150 a Share Settlement.

In the case of the latter, the settlement was made at $150 a share after Northern Pacific, earlier on the day of settlement, had sold at $1,000 a share. One man professed to know that only three shares were sold at the latter price and that they were actually short sales. The Northern Pacific corner was, however, quite different from the present one. Some large blocks of stock were in transit across the ocean, but they did not get here in time to prevent the squeeze. The stock sold here was actually sold short, but the shares in transit were to meet the short selling. In other words, the stock was not sold beyond its capital, as in the present case, where, with 100,000 shares of stock outstanding, far more than 100,000 shares have been sold.

FALSE, WOOD'S REPLY TO BORAH CHARGE

Insinuations as to Excessive and Improper Use of Money Unwarranted, He Asserts.

OPENS CAMPAIGN IN CHICAGO

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, March 31.—The following statement was made tonight by Leonard Wood just before he left Chicago for Ohio:

"I wish to say in reply to Senator Borah's charges and insinuations as to excessive and improper use of money that such charges are false and such insinuations are unwarranted.

"The charge that the National Convention can be bought or controlled by money is an insult to every member of the convention and to the nation at large."

It was expected that General Wood would make some reference in his speech at the auditorium to the charges of Senator Borah, but he did not refer to them, and it is stated that he will telegraph his answer direct to Borah.

General Wood opened his Illinois campaign by an address in the Auditorium here tonight.

That no Presidential nomination may be effected by "fifteen men in a back room," he urged all voters to proclaim their choice in the primaries, the means afforded to citizens to prevent just such dark chamber deals.

The General came out flatly for the removal of excess profits taxes, which he said were strangling business and paralyzing initiative at a time when the country most needed the services of business leaders.

In part the General said:

"A well-known politician said the other day that he cared very little for the vote of the primaries, that the nomination this year would be made by fifteen men in a room behind locked doors. Now that kind of a covenant, secretly arrived at, is not the kind we want. The only way you are going to make your primary law and the other laws which look to pure elections effective is by going to the polls and voting, expressing your own will.

"We have been too indifferent about these things. We have let somebody else do it, and the day has come when it is absolutely necessary for the people of this representative Government of ours, the people of this republic, to vote at primaries as well as at elections, and there to vote their will.

Sees World in a Ferment.

"The world is rather upset at present. There is a curious spirit of unrest everywhere. As you look at Europe and a large part of Asia you find the evidences of upheaval. You find the so-called 'red wave' rolling westward, and it is becoming a trifle more orderly as it rolls along. It has satiated itself with lust, with murder, destruction of property and Government, and with every lawless act conceivable. It has partly exhausted itself, but it still is a menace, and the world is now asking where it is going and where it is to stop.

"Over here, while our people are sound as a nut, there is an uneasy feeling. It is a part of the war psychology, which follows all wars. Out on the plains we would call it a stampede spirit. People are uneasy. It is no time now for rash experiments. We want to get down to basic principles.

"The world is going through reorganization in all lines of endeavor. An extensive reorganization, which is beneficial to the people, should be encouraged. We shall be greatly assisted in building up business if we can spread the war burden over a longer period of years. This war was fought not for ourselves alone, but for posterity, and it seems hardly just that the burden of the war should be borne exclusively by the present generation.

"We do not want to do anything which hampers business building. We want to make the burden upon it as easy to bear as possible. We must take the shackles off our industries. We must stimulate enterprise and investments. We have never had such an opportunity as now. We must develop our South American and Central American trade.

Protect Citizens in Mexico.

"We must develop the Mexican trade and protect our citizens and our interests in that unhappy land, and we must keep an eye on the Near and the Far East and see that they are not closed against us.

"America has been developed almost wholly by private initiative, through private enterprise, and we must continue this policy under wise governmental regulation for our future development.

"We need a budget system and we need it badly. A budget system will tend to tremendous economies and will break up the tyrannies of little committee bodies.

"It is worth our while to give attention to the work not only of stopping troubles between labor and capital, but of preventing them.

"The one great trouble in this country is that there is no intelligent public opinion as to the issues between labor and capital. There is today no instrumentality for getting at the facts.

"We ought to have some fair, impartial and thoroughly dependable method of investigating the facts, and then promptly publishing them. If capital is honest and playing square, it can have no objection. If labor is playing fair and seeking only what is right, it can have no objection. And when we build up a sound public opinion we shall be able to use the weight of that opinion on the side of right.

Keep Disorderly Element Out.

"We must protect our citizens against any oppression when they maintain themselves within the law of the land of their residence. The world must understand that it cannot injure American citizens with impunity.

"We want peace with all the world. We should be willing to arbitrate most questions, questions which do not affect our internal affairs or our traditional policy, but it is well to remember that we will be more successful in arbitration if we are not only right, but also strong. We can do all these things and still have a strong, dignified foreign policy. A weak policy is productive of war, and is the most expensive luxury any nation can indulge in.

"We have been talking a bit about the disorderly element among us. I think the time has come, and I believe American labor will agree with me, for I know what they think about it in a way, when we have to look more carefully into the quality of our immigration. We have got to protect our own labor, our own land and our own families against the incursion of undesirable people. We welcome the men and women who come here with an avowed intention of assimilating themselves to us, becoming a part of us, becoming real Americans.

"We must oppose all class legislation, stand against an autocracy of wealth or an autocracy of labor. We must strive to give both labor and capital an absolutely square deal. If each will be honest with the other relatively few labor difficulties will arise. We want to establish conditions under which every thrifty, industrious man and woman can earn a comfortable living, be able to put something aside for a 'stormy day,' able to marry, to raise a family, and to give their children a reasonable opportunity. These conditions should be attainable by all who are willing to strive."

TEN MORE WOOD DELEGATES

Mississippi Republican Committee Makes the Appointments.

JACKSON, Miss., March 31.—The State Republican Committee today appointed ten district delegates to the Chicago Convention, instructed for Major Gen. Leonard Wood. Delegates at large will be named tomorrow by the State Convention.

FAVORS LEONARD WOOD AS CHILDREN'S FRIEND

Mrs. Douglas Robinson Tells Women He Stands for "Things All Mothers' Sons Like."

"You are always interested in the candidate for Belgian babies, have you forgotten the champion of the Cuban babies, or your own little children at home?" asked Mrs. Douglas Robinson, sister of Theodore Roosevelt, last night, at a meeting of the Women's Division of the Leonard Wood Campaign Committee, at the Hotel Astor. "We want an American with ideas in, and not an American with ideas out. I shall mention no names, but you can well judge who I mean.

"Some people say I am for Leonard Wood, because he was a great friend of my brother. My brother had friends from bandits to cowboys. Most of them were not my friends. That is not the reason why I am for Leonard Wood. It is because he is the only man at present who stands for the things that all mothers' sons like and believe in and I am but one who wants a man such as he is for President. He has abundantly demonstrated his firmness in all things, combined with tact and wisdom and he has earned the respect and confidence of a majority of the American people. I feel that if we eliminate the soldier from the Presidential candidacy we have eliminated the best page of American history."

Miss Harriet E. Vittum, Chairman of the Woman's Division, Western States, of the committee, made an address which stirred her audience to a great demonstration.

"If we elect Leonard Wood President," said Miss Vittum, "we shall be sure of having a man who will not be swept off his feet when he gets to the White House. We may go into war again. Wood's program for universal training for national service, can be questioned by no real American. If we do have to fight again, Wood will know how to give his men a 'sporting chance.'

"Capital and labor and their differences are simply problems for Wood to handle. He did it at Gary, he can do it in the White House."

Norman J. Gould, Eastern Manager of the Wood Campaign Committee, told how the Gary uprising was handled. He described the General as having a better understanding of the public needs than any other candidate he could think of.

Among the speakers were Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, Miss Juliana Cutting, Chairman of the Woman's Division, Eastern States; Dr. Robert J. McElroy of Princeton University, and Miss Maud E. Wetmore of the Republican National Committee. Mrs. John Henry Hammond presided and was assisted by several young women ushers.

Although the committee expected 500 persons, more than 2,000 attended.

SITUATION CLEARS FOR HOOVER MEN

DEMOCRATS ARE RETICENT

Rival Candidates Profess Small Likelihood of New Boom Obtaining Many Delegates.

Herbert Hoover's telegram to the California Hoover Club, stating that he would accept the Republican nomination for President, "if the issues necessitate it and it is demanded of me," ended all doubt in Republican circles here yesterday that Mr. Hoover is an actual, if as yet receptive, candidate for the Republican nomination and for the Republican nomination alone.

Although Mr. Hoover refused any comment upon his telegram, when an effort was made to have him make a further statement at his office, 115 Broadway, it was said by friends that he would not be a candiate for the Democratic nomination, nor would he in any circumstances be a candidate on a third party ticket, despite published reports to that effect.

Leaders in the Republican movement to make Mr. Hoover President expressed satisfaction over the telegram. Captain J. F. Lucey, temporary President of the National Hoover Republican Club, and R. Fulton Cutting, Chairman of the Greater New York Hoover Committee, each stated that the situation had been clarified and that the chance for the success of the Hoover movement had been increased greatly.

Managers of rival candidates professed to have little fear of Mr. Hoover as a Republican candidate. They asserted thta most of the delegates to the Republican National Convention would be elected before the Hoover movement really got under way, and said that there was little likelihood of Mr. Hoover getting any considerable number. The Hoover supporters admitted that they were late in the field, but said they based their hope on Mr. Hoover's nomination upon expectation of a deadlock and a belief that sufficient sentiment could be engendered to make it appear that he was the strongest candidate who could be named.

Democrats Have Little to Say.

There was little discussion of the Hoover telegram among local Democrats. Mr. Hoover's supporters here included comparatively few of the members of that party, however it may be in other parts of the coutnry.

Mr. Cutting announced that, because of the latest development, the Executive Committee of the Greater New York Hoover Committee had been increased from 100 to 150. Among the additional members are Oscar S. Straus, Charles H. Strong, Lucius Wilmerding, Harold Riegelman, Henry Seligman, Harry B. Lowenstein, A. Chester Beatty and Dr. P. H. Williams. A meeting of the committee will be held at the headquarters in the Manhattan Hotel this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Twenty-six State organizations for Mr. Hoover have already been completed, it was stated, with a dozen or more other States, including New York, on the way to the formation of State organizations. The States in which complete organizations have been formed are California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Texas, Virginia, Washington and Wisconsin.

Frank I. Cobb, editor of The World, which launched the Hoover boom, when asked if The World would support Mr. Hoover as a Republican candidate, said:

"When The World came out for Hoover in the beginning it stated that it would support Hoover on either a Republican, Democratic or independent ticket, providing he ran on the right kind of a platform. That announcement still holds good."

LOOK FOR MICHIGAN TEST.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Herbert Hoover's message in which he announces himself definitely in the Republican ranks was the topic most discussed today in political headquarters here of the various Republican candidates for the Presidency.

Michigan will furnish the first real test of the Hoover strength. He is on both tickets but now that he has aligned himself with the Republicans, there are many who are of the opinion that he will lose a large proportion of the old line Democratic votes in Michigan which were supposed to favor his nomination.

CHEERS MINNESOTA BACKERS.

Republican Fight for Hoover Spurred—Democrats Not to Give Up.

Special to The New York Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 31.—Herbert Hoover gave the looked-for word to his Republican admirers here too late to afford him a chance in the Minnesota primaries and conventions, but his new attitude is in part a result of organization work started in Minneapolis and later spread through the country, Hoover men said today. They are going right on enrolling members in the Minnesota Hoover Organization for the effect on Minnesota delegates, hoping that many of them will swing to him at Chicago after one or two ballots.

Democratic supporters of Hoover refused to concede today that his avowal of Republican affiliation has cut him out as a Democratic possibility.

PARSONS OPPOSES HOOVER.

Believes He Would Make a Good Secretary of State, However.

Herbert Parsons, Republican National Committeeman for New York, discussing yesterday the attitude of Republicans toward the candidacy of Herbert C. Hoover, declared that in his opinion Mr. Hoover could be of great use to the Republican Party "because of his knowledge of European affairs," and that this would fit him for the position of Secretary of State.

"I am glad to see Mr. Hoover in the Republican Party. He can be of great use to the Republican Party because of his knowledge of European affairs, which would fit him for the position of Secretary of State or some other Cabinet position."

FULL WOOD TICKET IS SLATED IN JERSEY

Candidates in Each District Pledged—General's Name Is Filed in Trenton.

It was announced yesterday at the headquarters of the Wood campaign for the Republican nomination for President in the Hotel Imperial that a slate of delegates for each Congressional district in New Jersey, with each candidate pledged to vote for General Wood's nomination so long as his name is before the Chicago convention, has been placed in the field. The time limit for filing notice of the candidacies of delegates expires today.

Congressman Norman J. Gould and former Congressman Thomas W. Miller, General Wood's Eastern managers, yesterday filed General Wood's name at Trenton for entrance in the primary and the use of his name on the ballot on primary day, April 27. In a number of districts the candidates already had pledged themselves to General Wood, and in districts where this was not done a Wood ticket was entered.

The managers of United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson's campaign in New Jersey announced that Johnson delegates have been put up in nine Congressional districts and that there will be two Johnson candidates for delegates at large. Senator Johnson will cut short his New York campaign on Thursday and return to Detroit for the Michigan campaign, which was interrupted several days ago when he was called to Washington.

JOHNSON ASSAILS HOOVER ON LEAGUE

Accuses Rival Republican Candidate of Reversing His Attitude on Reservations.'

Herbert Hoover, who has just indicated his willingness to accept the Republican nomination for President, was indirectly assailed for inconsistency in his attitude on the League of Nations by Senator Hiram W. Johnson in a speech at Carnegie Hall last night under the auspices of the Women's Division of the Johnson Committee. Senator Johnson's reference to Mr. Hoover was unmistakable, and he confirmed it after the meeting by saying that he had Mr. Hoover in mind.

"Several days ago a petition to revive the League of Nations was presented to President Wilson by the League to Enforce Peace," said Senator Johnson. "The first who signed was the President of the League and the second a gentleman who is a candidate for President, but who has coyly suggested that he is not.

"Last year they pilloried and bludgeoned the Senate because a majority wished to attach reservations to the League of Nations covenant, and now they are in favor of reservations. Their judgment last year and day before yesterday was bad. The change in popular sentiment and the desire for office has changed the sentiment of some of these gentlemen."

Senator Johnson declared that there was no way to avoid making the League of Nations a political issue and announced his willingness to go before the American people on his record of opposition.

Mrs. Belle De Riviera, a founder of the New York Federation of Women's Clubs, presided. The other speakers were Mrs. Margaret Crumpacker, Chairman of the Women's Division of the Johnson League, and James L. Wilhoit, who said it was about time the United States had a real President, and declared that Senator Johnson would be the man.

GEORGIA ASKS WILSON IF HE MEANS TO RUN

Primary Petition in His Behalf Brings Inquiry from Democratic State Committee.

ATLANTA, March 31.—President Wilson has been asked if he wished to qualify as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in a telegram sent him by Secretary Gardner of the Georgia State Democratic Committee. A request that Mr. Wilson's name be placed on the ballots for the primary to be held April 20 has been made in a petition signed by 118 voters and filed by H. B. Baykor of Atlanta.

Robert Lansing, former Secretary of State, and Senator Reed, for whom petitions have been presented, have also been asked by Secretary Gardner if they wish to qualify under the rules governing primaries in this State.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—White House officials said today that they had no information as to President Wilson's probable action concerning the filing of a petition at Atlanta asking that his name be placed on the Georgia Presidential primary ballot. The petition was filed without his knowledge, they said.

Robert Lansing announced tonight that he had telegraphed the Georgia Democratic Committee requesting that his name should not be entered in the Presidential party.

McCall Now Out for Hoover.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, March 31.—Former Governor Samuel W. McCall, candidate for delegate at large to the Republican National Convention, today came out openly for the nomination of Herbert Hoover.

In his statement Sunday night, which outlined his views on the Presidential situation, Mr. McCall pointed toward Hoover, but stopped just short of mentioning his name. He said today:

"Desiring that those who are to vote in the primary should know my attitude, I would state that, if elected a delegate, I shall vote for Hoover so long as there shall appear to be a reasonable prospect of his nomination."

Kansas Delegates Unpledged.

SALINA, Kan., March 31.—Four uninstructed delegates at large to the Republican National Convention were elected by the State Convention today.

Resolutions adopted by the convention denounced Governmental extravagance and liberation of conscientious objectors, urged more recognition of service men and praised the services of United States Senators Curtis and Capper and indorsed Governor Henry Allen's administration.

BORAH PLEADS FOR JOHNSON

Special to The New York Times.

SAGINAW, Mich., March 31.—Senator Borah of Idaho spoke before a large audience in Masonic Temple tonight in the interest of the candidacy of Senator Johnson of California for the Republican nomination for President.

Mr. Borah made no reference to the campaign expenditures for General Wood and Governor Lowden nor did he mention Hoover's name. He [illegible] that a man could not be for the League of Nations and preserve the traditional policies of this country at the same time. A candidate must be on one side or the other and must have convictions, he said.

He pleaded with his hearers to make Johnson President, declaring that the Californian would make this nation American once again.

ATTACKS HOOVER'S CRITICS.

District Chairman Says Candidate's Statement Helps Backers.

The declaration of Herbert Hoover that he would accept the Republican nomination for President has strengthened the movement to elect Miss Mabel Choate and Julian S. Myrick as Hoover delegates from the Seventeenth Congressional District, according to a statement issued last night by Watson Washburn, Chairman of the Hoover Congressional District Committee. "The last prop has been taken from under those Republicans who, like Herbert Parsons, challenged the Republicanism of Herbert Hoover," said Mr. Washburn. "The buncombe and hypocrisy, which have caused certain Republicans to question Mr. Hoover's right to a place [illegible] party, have been completely dispelled."

HOOVER CANDIDACY AROUSES CRITICISM

Republicans in Congress, many of whom contend that this disqualifies him from serious consideration. The main objections to his candidacy, however, arise from his indorsement of President Wilson's appeal to the electorate in 1918 to return a Democratic Congress that would uphold the Wilson war policies.

Politicians today managed to make recent evidence of Mr. Hoover's attitude show to their minds a clear intention on Mr. Hoover's part, from the very beginning of his prominence as a Presidential factor, to seek the Republican instead of the Democratic nomination. He had requested that his name be omitted from the Democratic primary ballot in Georgia, and had followed this with similar requests in connection with the desire to put him in nomination in the Oregon and California Democratic primaries.

Views Expressed by Senators

The comment today from members of Congress was exceedingly brief in most instances and entirely superficial. There was an air among Republicans of waiting to hear how the leaders would accept Mr. Hoover. Some of the comment was:

Senator Brandegee of Connecticut (Republican)—It is to laugh.

Senator Curtis of Kansas (Republican whip of the Senate)—The more candidates the merrier.

Senator McNary of Oregon, a close friend of Mr. Hoover and a supporter of Senator Johnson of California for the Republican nomination—Hoover's announcement looks like a bonehead play. He would have been in a much stronger position had he kept silent six weeks longer. His entry into the fight may cause some trouble for Senator Johnson.

Senator New of Indiana (Republican)—I repeat the old Irish proverb: "Come all ye, ye are all heartily welcome." As Bill Hays says, "Politics is a matter of assimilation and elimination."

Senator Wadsworth of New York, (Retpublican)—We're waiting to see what The New York World will do.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire, Southern manager of General Wood's campaign—Mr. Hoover's announcement will help General Wood. It will force the "favorite son" candidates to support Wood rather than face the Hoover menace.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, (Democrat)—I never attached much importance to the Hoover candidacy. I think too much is being made of it.

Senator Overman of North Carolina (Democrat)—I am not surprised that Mr. Hoover announces as a Republican. I thought all along that Democrats who were backing him as a Democratic candidate were misinformed as to his leanings.

Senator Capper of Kansas (Republican)—I do not think Mr. Hoover will be much of a factor in the Republican convention.

Senator Gronna of North Dakota (Republican)—Without presuming to be the spokesman for the farmers, I believe I am safe in saying that the people of the Northwest not only do not favor Mr. Hoover but are bitterly opposed to him. The farmers know they were defrauded of millions of dollars by Hoover's manipulation of the grain market while he was Food Administrator. Furthermore they do not believe he is an American and they think he is too closely allied to British interests to be suitable as a candidate.

Fess Calls Him Internationalist.

Representative Fess of Ohio, Chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, today supplemented the statement which he gave last night to THE NEW YORK TIMES with the following: "The Republican Party cannot accept an internationalist as its standard bearer. It will demand a leader whose Americanism is not in question and whose political views are not a matter of speculation. We cannot go to the country to contest the fallacies of the Wilson Administration with an internationalist attached to the Wilson Administration as our leader.

"Hoover must be greatly embarrassed in seeking a nomination at the hands of a party he conspired against with the party's opponents to defeat in 1918. He compliments the Republicans by his unwillingness to stand for the leadership which he said in 1918 was alone the supreme demand. He evidently desires to be with the winner in the race."

Senator Cummins of Iowa, Republican—Out in Iowa the voters are for Lowden.

Senator Sutherland of West Virginia, Republican—It is interesting to note that after considerable indecision he has decided to cast his lot with the Republican Party.

Senator Fernald of Maine, Republican—Of all the candidates I think he will get the fewest votes. I don't think he has a chance in the world.

Senator Elkins of West Virginia, Republican—I am not mixing up in it at all.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota, Republican—I don't want to pass judgment. He has a right to run if he wants to.

Edge Not Critical of Creed.

Senator Edge of New Jersey, Republican—No one who has taken the position I have as a member of the Senate on the treaty and other matters can criticise the creed as expressed by Mr. Hoover in his letter published today, and I don't.

Senator Townsend of Michigan, Republican—I am not a Hoover hater, I am glad he is a Republican. I don't find any particular fault with his platform.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon—A man has a right to run for President if he wants to.

Representative Bacharach of New Jersey, Republican—I think Mr. Hoover is getting a pretty late start as a candidate to get much support in New Jersey.

Former Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri, Democrat—I think he's getting over where he belongs.

Representative Longworth, of Ohio, Republican—It's too unimportant to mention.

Representative Walsh, of Massachusetts, Republican—I think he has been a candidate ever since he left the Food Administration and maybe before that time. I don't think his statement of this morning qualifies him as a Republican.

Kitchin "Profoundly Sorry."

Former Democratic Leader Kitchin of North Carolina—I am profoundly sorry that Mr. Hoover now, by announcing himself as a Republican candidate, has repudiated so many of his Democratic friends.

Representative Humphries of Mississippi, Democrat, who recently asked President Wilson for a declaration as to his intentions toward a third term—I am glad that trouble has been shifted to the other side.

Representative Madden of Illinois, Republican—I am for Lowden; I'm foreclosed.

Representative Powers of West Virginia, Republican—I do not know any Republicans in West Virginia who are taking Mr. Hoover's candidacy with any seriousness.

Representative Byrnes of Tennessee, Democrat: "I have always regarded Hoover as a Republican.

Representative Campbell of Kansas, Republican—Is this the same Mr. Hoover who in October, 1918, urged the people of the country to elect a Democratic Congress to carry into effect the Democratic policies of President Wilson and the Democratic Administration?

McKellar Questions Boston Speech.

The discussion of Mr. Hoover's candidacy in the Senate was brought up by Senator McKellar, who said that he found Mr. Hoover's demand for a forward-looking, liberal policy on economic issues interesting, in view of a recent statement in that regard.

"In making his announcement this morning as a candidate for the Republican nomination for President," said Senator McKellar, "Mr. Hoover, among other things, stated:

"'If the Republican Party, with the independent element of which I am naturally affiliated, adopts a forward-looking, liberal, constructive platform on the treaty and on our economic issues, I will give it my support. While I do not, and will not, seek the nomination, if it is felt that the issues necessitate it, and it is demanded of me, I cannot refuse service.'

"Of course, that eliminates Mr. Hoover as a candidate of the party to which I belong. But inasmuch as he speaks of economic issues, I wish to call the attention of my Republican friends to Mr. Hoover's very remarkable pronouncement made recently on economic issues. It was made in Boston, and I read from an account of it appearing in the press under date of March 25. At that time Mr. Hoover said:

"'The conference has endeavored to find a plan for systematic organization of the forces making for better relationship to encourage growing acceptance of collective bargaining by providing a method that should enable it to meet objections of the critics, and to aggregate around this the forces of conciliation and arbitration now in such wide use.'

"I hope some gentleman learned in the use and meaning of language will kindly suggest what this means. I must be dull-witted, for I cannot find that it has any meaning at all."

Senator McKellar continued to read excerpts from Mr. Hoover's recent speech before a Boston audience relating to economic issues and to the work of the industrial conference called by the President. He continued:

"It is a cause of regret to me that Mr. Hoover happens to be more than 25 years old; were he younger, he could compete for Mr. Will Hays' prize for a Republican platform, because surely this candidate, the candidate of you Republicans, would submit a unique platform."

Gronna and Brandegee Interrupt.

Senator Gronna interrupted to ask whether the Democratic Party had "given up all hope of being able to induce Mr. Hoover to become the Democratic nominee?"

"I cannot answer for my party," said Senator McKellar.

"Does not the Senator understand," queried Brandegee, "that if anybody could understand that uplifting and forward-looking conglomeration of words, its political utility for fooling the gulls would be gone?"

"Possibly that is the only purpose it could have," replied Mr. McKellar. "This candidate for the Presidency has gotten hold of a dictionary and congregated together enough words to make people read and wonder what it all meant."

Senator Thomas, of Colorado, observed at this point that "if it be true that Mr. Hoover has made a declaration that nobody can understand, then he is certainly a very formidable candidate for both nominations."

Resuming his discourse, Senator McKellar said that he could "only judge the future by the past, on the same theory that P. T. Barnum used to say that the American people loved to be humbugged. It is on that theory that this remarkable announcement was made, an announcement that would kill any ordinary man in this country forever."

He then read the "remarkable announcement" from Mr. Hoover's Boston speech, as follows:

"To me the upbuilding of the sense of responsibility and inttelligence in each individual unit in the United States, with the intervention of Government only to promote the development of these relations, the suppression of domination by any one group over another, is the basis on which Democracy must progress."

"If that is the only basis on which democracy can progress, I feel very sorry for democracy," said Senator McKellar.

Says Hoover Once Charmed Senators.

Senator Gronna again interrupted.

"I want to remind the Senator," he said, "what occurred during the war, when Mr. Hoover was able to charm Senators, including the Senator from Tennessee, by the same phrases he is using now. Those phrases, which Mr. Hoover used then as now, cost the American wheat farmers $2,000,000,000."

Senator Ashurst of Arizona came to the defense of Mr. Hoover in spirited fashion. He said that "of course, politicians could not be expected to understand the language of a successful practical business man like Mr. Hoover. But the people of the United States will understand the English Mr. Hoover speaks. And the Senator from Tennessee on the ides of next November will point with pride to the fact that the Democrats were for Hoover.

"Mr. Hoover may not be nominated by the Democratic Party. I do not know whether it would be wise to nominate him. But let me say to my friends, do not fill the record with verbal plumage and stick it on Mr. Hoover, when you may later have to withdraw it. Mr. Hoover might be the Democratic nominee, because you cannot fool all of the people all of the time."

In the mail of members of Congress and others here today was received a statement issued from the office of the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Jonathan Bourne, Jr., and mailed at 4 P. M. yesterday, before the Hoover telegram had become public, declaring that the Hoover political machine, "as a splendid product of political engineering, is a masterpiece. The makers of that machine have overlooked but one fact, that the voters of the country will see through the camouflage. Because the highest priced automobile on the market runs without noise, is no evidence that it has no engine.

That same day he put his own office on a Twentieth Century basis.

MILLERAND BARS TROOPS FROM RUHR

ACTS WITHOUT THE ALLIES

By EDWIN L. JAMES.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 31.—The French Government is gaining ground in its effort to take the lead in the enforcement of the Versailles treaty. The Ruhr Basin situation is reason for the present effort. Premier Millerand has the German Government dealing directly with Paris in this treaty question and is establishing a precedent which he hopes will be followed in other questions of treaty enforcement. Paris and Berlin are exchanging notes directly on this subject instead of Berlin's negotiatings with the Allied Council. That pleases the French Government, which believes that it can get for itself more out of the Versailles treaty than the Entente will get for it.

From the silence with which London and Rome have regarded this Paris-Berlin parley arises a belief here that England and Italy are not averse to allowing the French Government to take the lead in treaty enforcement.

All the French newspapers praise Millerand as the exponent of France's new aggressive European policy.

Text of the French Reply.

Millerand today handed to Herr Mayer, the German Chargé d'Affaires here, the following note:

"In reply to your note of yesterday's date, I have the honor to confirm to you the conditions on which depends the eventual authorization by the French Government of the entry of German troops into the Ruhr Basin

"This authorization, which would constitute a derogation of Articles 43 and 44 of the treaty of Versailles, could not be justified except by imperious and evident necessity.

"However, agents of the commissions of control authorized by the protocol of Aug. 21, 1919, to watch its execution have expressed to me, as I informed you yesterday in our conversation, their formal opinion, which has been confirmed from other sources, that at this time military intervention in this territory would be useless and dangerous.

"Circumstances do not therefore permit me to agree at present to the request of your Government. I can only in consequence reserve my reply to the concise proposition which you made to me yesterday.

"In conclusion, I wish to renew to you my assurances of the sincere desire which animates the French Government to make the task of your Government easier in any way compatible with the defense of interests and our trust."

The precise propositions made by Herr Mayer yesterday were that Ebert be allowed to send the Reichswehr into the Ruhr District for twenty days and that if at the end of that time, order being restored, they did not get out, French troops could then occupy Frankfort, Darmstadt, Hamburg and Hanau. It appears Berlin thought this would be accepted, for yesterday Chancellor Müller said as much before the German Assembly.

Millerand's new stand is based principally upon a report by General Nollet, head of the Interallied Commission on Control. It was his opinion that the Ebert Government could probably settle with the workers without armed intervention and that failing that the 25,000 Reichswehr permitted in the Ruhr district under the August protocol could effectively deal with the armed workers. As a matter of fact, General Nollet's first theory has the confidence of the French Premier, who believes that armed workers are not a formidable force in spite of their number, and that lack of food and supplies will soon force them to give way.

Millerand is also of the opinion that harsh action in the Ruhr would swing the workers all over Germany against the Government, and that the success of such action, even if it did not overthrow the Government, would strengthen the militarist cause. Of course there is always the thesis of the French Government that in every possible detail it should prevent infractions of the treaty.

It is worth repeating that in real importance the fact of the French Government's acting alone and irrespective of the opposite opinions of the allied Governments, as well as of the American Government, is of more significance than the importance of the Ruhr Basin situation as such.

Temps Appeals Over Wilson.

For instance, the semi-official Temps, under the heading "Franco-American Negotiation," says:

"The French Government and the German Government continue to negotiate on the subject of the Ruhr. At Paris we content ourselves with keeping the allied Governments informed of what we are doing."

The Temps then pays rather uncomplimentary attention to President Wilson, who, it says, opposed the proposition of guarantees, the principle of which Germany herself has now accepted. It reproduces Millerand's letter of today to Herr Mayer and says:

"To understand this letter it suffices to recall the conversations of the past two days. It is well known how the French Government regarded the beginning of the question of the Ruhr—if Germany sent into the zone demilitarized by the treaty forces superior to those permited by the protocol of August, France had the right to demand that the withdrawal of these forces be guaranteed by a specific guarantee. To secure this guarantee France demanded the right to occupy four cities on the right bank of the Rhine, Frankfort, Darmstadt, Homburg and Hanau. The day before yesterday Müller said the German Government did not wish to submit these cities to foreign occupation, but the same day the German Chargé d'Affaires went to Mr. Millerand and explained that even though Germany could not actually agree to the occupation of the four cities at once she would consent at the end of six weeks in case that by that time the special military troops were not withdrawn from the Ruhr.

"The German Government therefore accepted the principle of the guarantee demanded by France. It is only a question of dates. President Wilson is less disposed than Germany to recognize the rights of France. In his note delivered to the Foreign Office several hours before the declaration of the German Chargé d'Affaires he repulsed the principle that Germany wisely accepted. We said yesterday that President Wilson's note changed nothing and that it probably did not have the approval of the American people. We hope that it will be shown clearly that American opinion is not back of the error committed by the White House."

PARIS, March 31 (Associated Press).—Semi-official interpretation of the letter of Premier Millerand to the German Chargé d'Affaires is that there is no longer any question of permission for German troops to enter the Ruhr district under any conditions.

It is said that information received by the Foreign Office from various allied sources confirms the previous impression that the presence of more troops in the Ruhr district is not only unnecessary but would be likely to provoke fresh trouble, whereas the situation now is improving.

WINS FIGHT OVER CREDITS.

Senate Votes 8,000,000,000 Francs for Government's Needs.

PARIS, March 31.—The Senate this evening adopted a bill granting the provisional credits asked by the Government. There were only eight votes against the measure.

A lively discussion of the financial difficulties of the Government preceded the vote. Frederic François-Marsal, the Finance Minister, stated that the new loan had produced more than 15,000,000,000 francs but said this represented about an equal conversion of former bonds and cash.

Much criticism was provoked by the Minister's declaration that the provisional allotment of one-sixth of the budget, which the Finance Commission was disposed to favor, would not perhaps suffice for the immtdiate needs of the Government.

Among the other speakers was Ex-Premier Ribot, who produced a profound impression by the dark picture he presented of the financial condition of France. The question of confidence in the Government was raised and insisted upon by Premier Millerand. The session was suspended at the request of the Chairman of the Finance Commission so that the commission might hold an emergency meeting.

On the re-assembling of the Senate it was announced that the Finance Commission yielded to the Government's wish, and that it supported the proposition that a provisional quarter of the budget be voted, the sum amounting to about 8,000,000,000 francs. The general discussion therefore was closed.

PERU MAKES AMPLE AMENDS TO BOLIVIA

Expresses Regrets for Attacks on Legation and Consulate and Will Prevent Repetition.

BUENOS AIRES, March 30.—Ricardo Mujia, Bolivian Minister here, issued a statement today declaring that Peru had given ample satisfaction to Bolivia and had presented her regrets for the recent attacks on the Bolivian Legation in Lima and the Consulate in Mollendo.

The Peruvian Government reiterated its previous promise that energetic measures would be taken to prevent a repetition of such incidents, and that the officer commanding the force guarding the legation would be retired, the statement added.

Government advices to the Bolivian Legation announce receipt of news from Tacna telling of the expulsion of Bolivians from Peru. "In Bolivia, Peruvians who leave do so voluntarily," it was said at the legation.

EUROPEAN LABOR UNREST SEETHING

Month of April Likely to be a Critical Period for Forces of Order.

LENIN'S HAND EVERYWHERE

Agitators Backed by Bolshevist Funds and Aided by Advice from Moscow.

By WALTER DURANTY.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 30.—The month of April is likely to be a critical period in the development of European labor problems. Germany draws ever nearer to a decision between the forces of organized Government and perhaps no less organized revolution. In England the labor sky is clouded, though no big storm is actually raging. France has minor strikes in many districts and a big central strike in the war-wrecked Lille-Roubaix-Turcoing area.

The situation in Italy is of the utmost gravity. Factory Soviets have so grown in power and daring that on more than one occasion they have seized factories and attempted to run them in defiance of the proprietors for their own benefit. Against the first such attempt in Naples Premier Nitti had enough resolution to send troops, who forced the workers to yield by bloodshed. In Turin, Mazzoni Brothers, big cotton spinners, preferred to shut down to acceding to the workers' demanda. Despite pressure from local authorities, they stood firm, but to avert trouble the Government requisitioned the factory over the proprietors' heads and put in its own representative to run it, who gave the workers practically everything they asked.

Through the industrial area of northern Italy the workers have refused to recognize the legal Summer time, and private owners and even municipalities have had to give way, although the railroads run on a Government time schedule.

The Extremist newspaper Avanti openly preaches revolution, and the labor leaders openly admit that the existing workers' Soviets—which have a system of representation in a grand central Soviet on the Russian model—are simply "tryouts" in preparation for governing the country when the revolution comes. Last year the Italian Bolsheviki planned a great demonstration for Lenin's birthday in the second week of April. At that time the country was being swept by a blaze of nationalism, and the nationalist opponents of Bolshevism met the labor demonstrators in the streets of the northern cities and smashed the whole movement by force. Will they dare or be able to repeat the performance this year if the Reds again throw down the challenge?

Moscow's Influence Everywhere.

In Austria, Hungary and Poland starvation approaching bankruptcy and disease are making the path smooth for revolution. And behind the Red movement, inspiring it, directing it along ten thousand channels, stand the Bolshevist group in Moscow, very clever, very determined and quite unscrupulous as to how it achieves its purpose, which is avowedly the establishment of a proletariat dictatorship throughout the wrold.

An English labor leader, George Lansbury, just back from Moscow, writes in his newspaper, The London Daily Herald:

"Lenin and his friends are convinced that the capitalist system can only be removed by violent revolution. The Russians ask just one thing: 'Do you want to establish Socialism? Is the aim and goal of your efforts the destruction of the capitalist power of exploitation?' They think their partisans in every country ought to work together for the realization of this object by every means possible."

Nothing could be clearer or more explicit. Every big labor movement in every country has its inspiration from Moscow, is backed by Moscow's money, Moscow's advice and Moscow's propaganda. America has had proof enough in her own labor troubles, and yet the Atlantic is a wide barrier, and it is far harder to land men and documents from an ocean-going liner than to slip them across a European land frontier, loosely guarded save at the high roads and railroads.

Since last Spring the Bolshevist strength and influence have increased enormously. In Russia the Reds are absolute masters, their opponents having been killed or routed. They need trade with the outer world, but are almost able to make their own terms with the eager merchants of rival nations. What the greed of the latter will not obtain can be achieved through the pressure of the different labor parties, who know as little of what Bolshevism really means as they do of life on Mars.

Not that the Bolsheviki are unwilling to make—or at least promise—concessions to the very capitalism they are plotting to overthrow. From the outset they tried to overcome French hostility by an offer to pay a great part, at any rate, of the Imperial Russian debt. Krassin is reported from Copenhagen to have declared that they will not repay any of it. If the statement is authentic it is prooof of the Bolsheviki's consciousness of their own strength; but it is much more probable that the words have just been put into his mouth in that hotbed of lies and rumors about all things Russian that the Danish capital has been for the last three years.

At the end of April comes May Day, that has grown more and more since 1900 the occasion for proletariat demonstrations. Last year blood flowed even in the streets of nationalist Paris. This year may well see decisive happenings in Italy, Germany, Austria and Poland. Whether the blow falls then or later, plans are being made for it everywhere, and the Governments of Europe seem inactive or helpless before the threatened storm.

Farrell said that in his thirty years of court work he never before had known a tardy juror to fail to offer an excuse.

SMITH ATTACKED IN WHITE SLAVE CASE

Smith replied under the date of Oct. 29, 1918, that Lindsay would be brought to trial within sixty days.

"Months went by, and about March, 1919, I received information to the effect that Lindsay had got money and jewels from an old lady named ——, who was at that time staying at ——, Yonkers."

Purdie said that he had gone to see the old woman, and that she had told of the loss of $18,000 and jewels she had given Lindsay for investment purposes.

"As nearly as I could figure it out," the affidavit continued, "this sudden demand for money on Lindsay's part was about the time I asked Colonel Biddle to write to the District Attorney's office, asking that Lindsay be brought to trial.

"In the meantime I heard that Mrs. Weille had disappeared, and that she could not be found anywhere, and Mr. Smith told me once that he did not know where she was, and that the case could not proceed without her.

"I met Lindsay at Rockledge Manor one day when I was calling on Mrs. Rice, and he told me that the incident was closed so far as indictment was concerned, and that the case would never be brought to trial. He told me that he had retained the late James W. Osborne as counsel, and that Mr. Osborne had gone to 'Jim Smith' and told him that he had no case, and that Mr. Smith had agreed to drop the matter."

At the request of Mr. Purdie, the affidavit states, Captain John Trevor wrote to Mr. Smith early in 1919, asking when the case would come to trial.

After his discharge from the army, in January or February of this year, Mr. Purdie said that Assistant District Attorney Smith had sent for him and asked him where the complaining witness was. Purdie said that he did not know. Shortly after that Purdie said that he received a telephone call from Third Deputy Police Commissioner Augustus Drum Porter, who asked him to find out where Mrs. Weille was. Purdie said that he did locate Mrs. Weille finally, at about the same date that Mr. Porter was indicted.

"It is true that I procured the indictment of this man Lindsay," said Mr. Smith, "but the matter has not been in my hands at all since then. I believe it has been in the hands of Assistant District Attorney Markewich. I know of no reason for delay, except the statement that the complaining witness was missing.

"A couple of months ago former Deputy Augustus Drum Porter came to my office. He said that Lindsay had obtained jewels and money worth several thousand dollars from a woman friend of his and that he wanted to get them back for her. I told him that Lindsay was under indictment, awaiting trial, but that it was delayed by the disappearance of the complaining witness.

Told Porter to Find Woman.

"'You find her,' I said. 'You ought to have no trouble locating her if your Police Department is any good.' I then sent for Purdie and other witnesses to have them see Porter, in order to get what light we could on the whereabouts of the woman who was missing. Porter came back with another complaint. This time he said that Lindsay had obtained $900 from a man friend of his. I told him again to get busy and find the missing woman, so that we would be in a position to proceed against Lindsay.

"If the woman has now been found I believe that we can proceed promptly with the case and get a conviction."

Mr. Smith said last night at the National Democratic Club that he was looking for a letter he had received from Porter asking him for a Grand Jury subpoena for the purpose of reaching Mrs. Weille. He said he had sent a subpoena to Porter through Emil King, an investigator in the District Attorney's office.

"The bail was discharged in the Lindsay case," he said, "but there are two indictments which still stand. If Purdie will bring in the complainant we are ready to proceed."

Commissioner Hirshfield, who gave out the Purdie affidavit, sent a copy of it to the Extraordinary Grand Jury, he said last night.

Assistant District Attorney Markewich said last night:

"I have a hazy recollection of the case. Out of the mass of business that I handle I do not recall the details of this matter. I will have to refresh my memory at my office tomorrow before I can make any definite statement."

Mr. Smith, who was exonerated on Tuesday from the intimation in an official letter by Mayor Hylan that he had taken a bribe to stop proceedings against Arnold Rothstein, charged with shooting a policeman in a gambling raid, was before the Extraordinary Grand Jury for about three-quarters of an hour after Henry had completed his story.

Criticises Smith Raids.

Inspector Henry's affidavits were supplemented by charges that the thirteen spectacular raids conducted by Assistant District Attorney Smith in the Spring and Summer of 1918 had been made for the purpose of discrediting him, by making his district appear reeking with crime. Inspector Henry obtained a bulky envelope of documents from Police Headquarters, which were laid before the Jury, containing memoranda and reports relating to Smith's activities. It was said that no new affidavits had been made by Henry, and his testimony was an elaboration of previous charges against Smith.

Henry refused yesterday to confirm or deny reports that his testimony to the Grand Jury presented in detail fifteen charges against Smith, which had been only lightly touched on in the previous raids. Thirteen of these charges had to do with the thirteen midnight and early morning raids of Assistant District Attorney Smith, while two concerned white slave cases in which it was charged that Smith was not sufficiently prompt and vigorous to suit the police. Records were produced to show that about 500 persons who were arrested and questioned in the Smith raids had been found guiltless and turned loose.

Assistant District Attorney Smith smiled yesterday at the suggestion that he had carried on these raids in Inspector Henry's district for the purpose of discrediting Henry, but said:

"I can't talk about matters which are before the Grand Jury. I hope, however, that the jury goes to the bottom of every charge made by Inspector Henry. I want to see every statement of his investigated and proved true or untrue."

Regarding the charge that the sensational "white light" raids of Smith were not justified by prosecutions and convictions, District Attorney Swann said:

"We have letters from the Department of Justice thanking us for what we did at that time and describing it as 'splendid co-operation.'"

"What was actually accomplished?"

"The raids had a splendid cleaning-up effect on the city. They were carried on to protect the soldiers and sailors."

The Grand Jury will hold another session today, probably hearing Commissioner of Accounts Hirshfield and several detectives.

JILTED WIDOW TO GET $23,000

Engaged, but Didn't Promise to Marry, Regal's Defense.

The jury before Supreme Court Justice Platzek that heard the suit of Mrs. Cecelia Rosenthal against Samuel Regal of 97 Fort Washington Avenue for breach of promise of marriage, returned a verdict for $23,000 yesterday, after Regal had testified under questioning by Justice Platzek that while he was "engaged" to the plaintiff he never promised to marry her.

Regal, who has been married three times, denied testimony of Mrs. Rosenthal that he said the reason he broke the engagement was because the spirit of his third wife kept telling him "this marriage must not take place." He said the real reason was that the plaintiff's son, David, 28 years old, who was in his employ, did not attend to his duties and that Mrs. Rosenthal, when appealed to by the defendant, told him she didn't think she could compel her son to do anything.

Keeps the Hair in Curl

You've never seen anything work greater wonders for straight, lank, unruly hair than plain liquid silmerine. It keeps the hair in curl for a long time—produces such beautifully lustrous, natural-looking curls and waves. And no one need hesitate to use it, for it is so easily applied with a brush and is so perfectly harmless. It leaves no greasy, sticky or streaky trace. The curliness can be acquired in three hours, though many prefer to apply the liquid at bedtime, before putting the hair in curlers. When the hair is combed out it is delightfully soft and fluffy.

Anyone who will get a bottle of liquid silmerine from the druggist and follow the accompanying directions will have a most agreeable surprise. The liquid is also valued as a splendid dressing for the hair.

MARTENS OFFERS TO QUIT THE COUNTRY

Doesn't Want to Stay if State Department Won't Recognize Soviet, He Writes Colby.

HIS LETTER TO BE IGNORED

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—A move, ostensibly to force the hand of the State Department, was made this afternoon by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, the "Soviet Ambassador," when he wrote to Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, demanding to know if he would be recognized as the official representative of Soviet Russia in the United States. Martens added that "his Government" would not wish him to remain here if the State Department did not desire his presence, and did not intend to recognize the Soviet Government.

"If I am informed to that effect I shall be pleased to leave the United States as soon as facilities to reach my country are placed at my disposal," wrote Martens.

The letter was looked upon in some quarters as an attempt by Martens to embarrass the State Department into flatly refusing recognition of Soviet Russia. Others thought Martens was making a last desperate effort to obtain diplomatic status. He intimated today that his defense, before the immigration tribunal, which is considering the deportation charges against him, would be that of diplomatic immunity.

But a third, and the most popular view, was that Martens, scenting a probability that he would be deported, was getting ready to acquiesce, in the most graceful manner he could in the circumstances.

The State Department, it is understood, is not going to recognize Soviet Russia and has no intention of paying any attention to Martens's letter. He has been writing letters at various intervals to the department for a year and no replies have been sent to him. It appears that the department considers the man nonexistant so far as it is concerned.

At the hearing of his case today before Acting Secretary of Labor Post Martens alluded to his idea that he had diplomatic immunity, but Mr. Post practically set aside that question for the time being. The hearing was adjourned to Monday.

J. Edgar Hoover attended today, but said later that Mr. Post had ruled that he could not question Martens. A. B. Shell, an Immigration Inspector from the New York station, will be heard on Monday.

A Pittsburgh delegation of the American Association to Promote Trade with Russia, headed by E. B. Jenkins, arrived to attend the hearing today, but were not admitted.

PERMIT JEWISH BOARD TO VISIT SOVIET RUSSIA

But State Department Cannot Afford Members Any Protection, It Is Announced.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The State Department has granted permission to the Joint Distribution Committee for all Jewish relief funds to send its Ukrainian Commission into Soviet Russia at their own risk, the Department having stipulated that it could not issue passports or otherwise afford them any protection.

The Joint Distribution Committee has accepted these conditions on behalf of the commission, which is now in Poland. The members are Judge Harry Fisher, of Chicago; Professor Israel Friedlander, Max Pine and Maurice Kass.

The application for permission to send the Commission into Russia was made to the State Department by Louis Marshall, of New York, who explained that thousands of the Jewish population of Russia had been killed and famine and typhus were prevailing to such an extent that conditions could be ameliorated only "by finding a way whereby medical aid and food supplies can be distdibuted forthwith."

In a letter to Mr. Marshall, Frank L. Polk, Under-Secretary of State, laid down these conditions:

"First—The purpose of their going is solely to extend relief to the suffering and that they will not take with them supplies which if seized, might be diverted to military use.

"Second—That as this Government maintains no representative in the territory in question, and has no relations with those who are there in control, it will not be in a position to extend any protection to your representatives. If they go, it must be at their own risk, and under such arrangements as they can make with the local authorities, without involving the Government of the United States in any way.

"In a general way you may be assured that it is the desire of the Department to facilitate the distribution of relief to innocent sufferers in Russia. It is necessary, however, to take every possible precaution against the misuse of supplies which may be furnished."

Woman's Body in Connecticut Flood

HARTFORD, Conn., March 31.—In the flood water of the Connecticut River today was found the body of a woman, well dressed and with a wedding ring on the left hand. The body, it appears, may have been immersed a month, and it may have been brought down the river.

SENATORS ON VERGE OF FIGHT IN DEBATE

CHAMBER IN AN UPROAR

Anti-Saloon League Superintendent Acridly Assailed—Gillett to Call Up Beer Bill.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, March 31.—Debate over William H. Anderson, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, was responsible today for turning the Senate chamber into a near boxing ring, when Senator James J. Walker, minority leader, discussing him and yesterday's beer bill hearing, drew the ire of Senator George F. Thompson of Niagara, sponsor for the league's prohibition enforcement measure.

An exchange of blows was narrowly averted and an uproar in the Senate was only quelled when Senator Henry M. Sage called on Lieutenant Governor Walker to "preserve the dignity of the Senate."

The tumultuous scenes at yesterday's hearing, when the spectators threatened to "throw out" Mr. Anderson and booed and hissed his unsuccessful efforts to speak, were almost paralleled in the Senate when debate was suddenly shut off.

Senator Frederick B. Pitcher of Watertown, a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which with the Assembly Excise Committee conducted the hearing yesterday, rising to a question of personal privilege, attacked what he termed the "disgraceful" demonstration at the hearing and criticised the members of the two committees for voting 10 to 6 to refuse to Anderson permission to speak.

"That babel was not a hearing," said Senator Pitcher. "The pandemonium, cries of 'Put him out!' the hisses and outcries of every description resembled the clamor at a ringside. Hirelings of the liquor interests were yelping like a pack of bloodhounds. It was impossible to get any enlightenment out of the hearing and I left in disgust."

Minority Leader Walker, in reply, said he, too, regretted the conduct of the hearing, asserted that Senator Pitcher had not done his duty in refusing to remain through the hearing and maintained that resentment expressed by persons at the hearing was justified because of the insults hurled by Mr. Anderson at the Assemblymen and his "bulldozing tactics."

"Anybody who was not insulted by some of Anderson's statements is not capable of being insulted," he said.

"Well, what did Anderson say?" interrupted Senator Thompson.

"If you don't know it is the first time you have failed to acquaint yourself with anything that Anderson has done," retorted Senator Walker heatedly.

"I dare you to quote what Anderson said," responded Thompson. "You don't know what he did say."

Senator Walker left his place and hurried toward Senator Thompson's seat, his hands doubled:

"Do you mean that?" he thundered at the up-State Senator. When he was within two seats of him Thompson said:

"Well I'll take that back."

"You just about took that back in time," said Senator Walker.

Several members started to intercept the irate New Yorker, and Senator Sage called on Lieutenant Governor Walker to put a stop to what threatened disruption of the Senator's proceedings.

Senator Walker continued his attack on Anderson, charging him with being unscrupulous.

"If his cause is so weak, if it depends on his arguments, if he is a fair example of it, then it is dishonest," he said. "There was more honesty in the outbursts at that hearing than there was in the sulky, sneaking, snakelike hypocrisy that he represents, and I'll say that to him outside this Chamber, where I'm not protected. When he referred to Colonel Gillett as a booze agent and a fake war hero he did an injustice to a colleague of yours and mine that warranted his being prevented from being heard yesterday."

Senator Loring M. Black of Brooklyn also attacked Anderson as "this master of scurrility who plies his dirty trade at the expense of our reputations. He is a bigoted, blustering buffoon running around here with a whip trying to force us to do something that we know our constituents are opposed to," Senator Black added.

ALBANY, March 31.—Colonel Ransom H. Gillett today announced that it was his intention to get his 3½ per cent. beer and 10 per cent. wine bill on the floor of the House for a vote. "At least," he said, "I'm going to make an effort to do so, and I'm going to confer with Senator Walker to see what action, if any, the Senate is going to take on this question.

"If I had not already been convinced the vast majority of the people of this State wanted a light wine and beer bill yesterday's hearing would have won me over," said Colonel Gillett. "And it is because of the hearing yesterday, at which the plain citizens of the State urged enactment of a light beverage bill, that I will move to discharge the Excise Committee from further consideration of my bill if it is not reported out."

PERSHING SEES LAUNCHING.

Champagne Spatters Him as Army Nurse Names Transport Chaumont.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—General Pershing came here today and was a member of the party that saw the launching of the army transport Chaumont. Miss Julia C. Stinson of Washington, who had been selected by General Pershing for the honor, was the sponsor. She served in France as an army nurse.

The General's uniform was plentifully spattered with champagne when Miss Stinson broke the christening bottle on the prow. Before the launching he had laughingly suggested that the bottle ought to be opened and a portion of its contents consumed. "Half a bottle is plenty for the christening," he added. The Chaumont was named in honor of General Pershing, who chiefly made his headquarters at the French town of that name while he was in France.

Soon after the Chaumont slid into the Delaware the cargo carrier Capulin was launched, General Pershing being a spectator. Before returning to the Capital, General Pershing made a thorough inspection of the shipbuilding plant.

100 PLAYS ROUTED BY A. L. ERLANGER

He Plans for His Circuit Several New Theatres in New York and Other Cities.

BOOKING BELASCO'S STARS

Maude Adams in a Barry Drama, Dillingham, Cohan, Harris and Savage Attractions.

A. L. Erlanger yesterday announced the names of nearly one hundred attractions which have already been routed for next season on the erstwhile Klaw & Erlanger circuit. The recent congestion of plays, both in New York and on the road, has led to an earlier arrangement of bookings than usual. In anticipation of still further congestion, Mr. Erlanger is arranging for the building of theatres in half a dozen or more cities, all of which will be completed within a year. He is planning several theatres for New York, three in Philadelphia, two in Detroit, one in Cleveland, one in Cincinnati, one in Kansas City and one in Pittsburgh.

David Belasco's offerings, as usual, are all routed in the Erlanger theatres. These include for next season David Warfield in a revival of "The Return of Peter Grimm," Frances Starr in a new play by Edward Knoblock, Lenore Ulric in "The Son-Daughter," Ina Claire in "The Gold Diggers," "Daddies," "Tiger Rose" and a new play by Mr. Belasco, to be seen first at the Belasco Theatre.

The Dillingham attractions include Fred Stone in a new play, Doyle and Dixon in "Jack o' Lantern," Elsie Janis "The Night Boat," "The New Dictator," "Apple Blossoms" and a new musical comedy of which Joseph Cawthorn will be the star. Florenz Ziegfeld, in addition to sending the "Follies" on the road as usual, will present Billie Burke and Eddie Cantor in new plays. Charles Frohman, Inc., will be represented by Maude Adams in a new Barrie play, Ethel Barrymore in "Déclassée," Elsie Ferguson in "Sacred and Profane Love" and William Gillette and Otis Skinner in new plays.

George M. Cohan and Sam H. Harris, as Cohan & Harris, will continue to present Mrs. Fiske in "Mis' Nelly of N'Orleans," "The Acquittal" and "The Royal Vagabond." Mr. Cohan individually will offer his daughter, Georgette Cohan, in a new play of his own writing; a musical comedy, "Mary," until lately known as "The House That Jack Built," and a comedy, "Genius and the Crowd." Mr. Harris as an individual producer will present William Collier in "The Hottentot," Grant Mitchell in a new play, "Honey Girl"; "Welcome Stranger" and "Little Old New York."

Margaret Anglin, appearing under her own management, will be seen in "The Woman of Bronze." Henry W. Savage will offer Mitzi Hajos in a new musical piece; "Shavings"; "See-Saw," and Florence Nash in "Cornered." John Cort will present "Listen, Lester," "Just a Minute" and two new musical plays, "Jim Jam Jems" and "Mirishka." Raymond Hitchcock will appear in "Hitchy-Koo, 1920," under the direction of the Messrs. Erlanger, Dillingham and Ziegfeld. Ed Wynn's "Carnival" will be continued under the direction of B. C. Whitney. George White will offer "Scandals of 1920" and William Rock will have a revue. De Wolf Hopper will present himself in a revival of "Wang," and George W. Lederer's "Angel Face" will be continued.

John Golden will offer Frank Bacon in "Lightnin'," Hale Hamilton and Grace La Rue in "Dear Me," "Howdy, Folks," and "Three Wise Fools." George Broadhurst, hitherto exclusively a Shubert ally, is booking "The Crimson Alibi" and "The Storm" through the Erlanger office, and Augustus Pitou will send out May Robson in "Tish" and Fiske O'Hara in a new play.

In association with George C. Tyler Mr. Erlanger will offer "Clarence" and "Golden Days," the latter with Patricia Collinge, and Mr. Tyler individually will present George Arliss in "Poldekin," Helen Hayes in "Bab," and Emily Stevens in "Sophie." Gilbert Miller's London production of "Monsieur Beaucaire" will continue under Mr. Erlanger's management, as will Chauncey Olcott in "Macushla." Mr. Erlanger will also send out "Ben-Hur," and William Harris's production of "Abraham Lincoln" will be booked by Mr. Erlanger.

Robert B. Mantell will tour in Shakespeare, Julian Eltinge will go on the road in a revue and Lou Tellegen will be seen in a new play, as will Walker Whiteside. William Moore Patch will offer a revue entitled "High and Dry," and, with Edgar MacGregor, will present "The Sweetheart Shop," a musical play. Thurston and Alexander, magicians; Al G. Fields's and Neil O'Brien's Minstrels, Kolb and Dill, "The Rainbow Girl," and "Twin Beds" also will be continued.

"Alice in Wonderland" at Matinees.

A dramatization of "Alice in Wonderland," by Rachel Barton Butler, author of "Mamma's Affair," will be acted at the Little Theatre on the afternoons of April 12, 13, 16 and 17. The New York Kindergarten Association is co-operating in the production and will receive one-half of the proceeds.

Ida St. Leon will play Alice and the company will include Winona Shannon, Elizabeth Patterson, Carlotta Irwin, Viola Winkless, Edwin Beryl, Morgan Farley, Willard Barlowe, and Boyd Agin.

DISCOVERS NO TRUST OF VAUDEVILLE HOUSES

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The Federal Trade Commission decided today that no illegal combination of vaudeville houses existed. In declaring that there was no trust among amusement houses the commission issued an order dismissing the complaint containing the allegations. The result is a victory for the Vaudeville Managers' Protective Association, the B. F. Keith Vaudeville Exchange, the B. F. Keith Circuit, the Orpheum Circuit and others, controlling or representing hundreds of leading vaudeville theatres in this country. The order dismissing the complaint stated that the commission found no violation of the Clayton act or any other law.

The case was argued before the commission about a month ago. The vaudeville managers were represented by ex-Governor Folk of Missouri and Maurice Goodman of New York. E. J. Albee, the chief owner in the Keith Circuit and President of the Keith Exchange, was very active in the case.

The controversy had its origin in differences between an actors' organization known as the White Rats and the vaudeville managers. The White Rats demanded that no persons be engaged as actors except members of their organization. Upon the refusal of the managers to accede to this demand there was a strike of the White Rats throughout the [illegible] about three years ago. The complaint before the Federal Trade Commission followed.

More than three thousand pages of testimony were taken, and altogether the case was one of the most important involving theatrical interests in the country. Approximately over 450 vaudeville theatres were concerned.

E. F. Albee said yesterday, in discussing the findings of the Federal Trade Commission in the charges against him and his associates:

"The agitators have boasted: 'Wait until the Federal Trade investigation is over. Then the managers will be relegated to the ash heap.' Instead of this, the managers have been relegated to an elevated position of having complied with the law, complied with humanity in its dealings with the artists and their employes, and they propose to go straight forward with these improvements that they have undertaken with one point in view—to make the vaudeville business of the United States an ideal family institution, as far as the managers and artists are concerned, with principles of co-operation and liberality which will set an example for other business interests to emulate."

BELASCO TO VISIT EUROPE'S THEATRES

In London He Will Discuss Offer to Produce Plays There Six Months of Each Year.

David Belasco, accompanied by several of his stage executives, will sail for Europe Saturday on the Lapland. He will go to London, Paris and Rome, visiting the last named city primarily to confer with Puccini regarding the forthcoming operatic version of "The Son-Daughter."

Mr. Belasco said yesterday that his trip is not being made in search of plays or players, but that, on the contrary, he is at present well-stocked with material. He will go merely to visit the theatres of the English and Continental producers and to study their methods.

In London Mr. Belasco will discuss the offer recently made him by a group of English capitalists to go to London to produce plays six months of each year. The offer included the construction of a theatre, but Mr. Belasco declared at the time that he was unwilling to spend so large a portion of the year abroad.

SOTHERN-MARLOWE AGAIN.

They Will Be Seen Here This Month in Shakespearean Plays.

E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe, who were seen earlier in the season in Shakespearean repertoire and have since been appearing with great success on the road, will return to New York this month for a supplementary engagement. They will be seen in one of the Shubert houses in "Twelfth Night," "Hamlet" and "The Taming of the Shrew."

Mr. and Mrs. Sothern will spend next season in England, returning here in the Fall of 1921 and alternate years thereafter.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The students of Yvette Guilbert's dramatic school will be seen at the Thirty-ninth Street Theatre on Friday afternoon, April 9, in a mediaeval play, "King Stomach," "The Grocery," by Amy Lowell, and French songs.

George V. Hobart's "Experience" will be acted in Yiddish at the Second Avenue Theatre tonight.

"Easy Money," a comedy by Alan Brooks, will have its first performance in Baltimore on Monday night. In the cast will be Mr. Brooks, Carroll McComas, Lucille Watson, Lillian Tucker, Thais Magrane, Felix Krembs and others.

"Home Again," a comedy by Thomas Louden and A. E. Thomas, will be produced by Sam H. Harris next season, with Grant Mitchell in the leading role.

MUSIC

By Richard Aldrich

Miss Buell's Bach Concert.

Miss Dai Buell is a young pianist who has given recitals of the usual sort in Aeolian Hall for a number of years. This year she has been fired with a noble ambition to do something not of the usual sort, and to make her concert something of greater significance, and in some respects of more artistic value than the usual piano recital, beginning with a transcription of an organ fugue by Bach and ending with a Hungarian Rhapsody by Liszt.

She made her concert also one to celebrate an anniversary of Bach. The program was made up entirely of his works, and it required the coöperation of a small string orchestra which furnished the accompaniment for the clavier concertos in F minor and A major, and played several arrangements from other compositions by Bach made by W. H. Humiston, who conducted.

Miss Buell had a tussle with the Julian and Gregorian calendars to make March 31 the desired anniversary. The dictionaries give March 21 as Bach's birthday. By taking thought it was discovered that in 1685 the Julian calendar was still in force and that it was really 235 years ago yesterday, as reckoned by the Gregorian calendar, that Bach was born. At least it was established sufficiently to enable Miss Buell to call her concert an anniversary one.

The number of arrangements on the program was noteworthy in a program intended, doubtless, to have a certain historical value. Clavier pieces were transferred to strings; flute, 'cello and violin pieces were transferred to the piano. Besides the two concertos there were played the partita in B flat, the prelude and fugue in B flat from the "Well Tempered Clavier" nine of the Goldberg variations, the C minor fantasy, which stood as they were written. The arrangements included Hellmesberger's for string orchestra of the clavier fugue in A minor, and several of movements from sonatas for diverse instruments, most of which were made by Mr. Humiston himself. He also contributed a little book of well considered and informing notes upon the program, chiefly historical.

Miss Buell displayed a zeal and a seriousness in her performance equal to her noble enthusiasm. It was not a performance, however, that brought all the spirit of the music to realization. Her playing also left something to be desired in technical finish. Nor was there complete unity between the pianist and the orchestra in the F minor concerto.

MUSIC NOTES.

A special Good Friday performance of "Parsifal," sung in English, will be given at the Metropolitan tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 1:30 and closing about 5:45 o'clock by local "daylight saving" time.

Jerome Uhl, a baritone who has been heard on the concert stage, took the place of Marion Green at yesterday's midweek matinee of "Monsieur Beaucaire" at the New Amsterdam, singing the title role.

THE SOCIALIST ASSEMBLYMEN.

If the five Socialist members of the New York Assembly are expelled for disqualification, as recommended by the majority report of the Judiciary Committee, there are two ways by which they can regain their political standing and eligibility. Either their Socialist constitution must be amended or the Constitution of the United States and that of the State of New York must be amended. The conflict between the Constitutions is evident and irreconcilable, save by amendment; and as these Socialist members are pledged to obey their own constitution and to carry out the instructions of their own conventions and National Executive Committee, it will be plain to candid minds that they cannot in conscience and good faith take the required oath to "support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of New York."

The majority report went much too far when it said that the Socialist Party of America is "a disloyal organization composed exclusively of perpetual traitors." A Socialist can be a traitor only in war, not perpetually, and it may be that a good many Socialists would choose to be unfaithful to their constitution rather than become traitors to their country. But out of the mouths of their own witnesses, and notably by the testimony of Mr. HILLQUIT, their own counsel, the character, the principles and the aims of the Socialist "Party" were clearly established and were shown to be incompatible with support of the laws and the Constitution of the United States and that of the State of New York. A single citation from the Socialist constitution makes this evident. It is declared in Section 6 of that constitution that "any member of the Socialist Party, elected to an office, who shall in any way vote to appropriate moneys for military or naval purposes or for war shall be expelled from the party." The committee's report says of this that "the promise to oppose all military or naval appropriations and appropriations for war is a part of the plan of the Socialist Party to destroy the existing form of government and substitute the government of the proletariat, as fully appears by their propaganda." The committee is justified in saying that the refusal to appropriate money for national defense "involves a species of State suicide."

When the people of the United States established their Constitution they declared in the preamble that it was their purpose to "establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity." We know that the aims of the Socialist Party, of which these Assemblymen are members, are very different. Proletariat rule, and proletariat rule is the purpose they have in view, would not establish justice, and certainly it would not "secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity," for we have before our eyes the great example of the rule of the proletariat in Russia, where liberty does not exist, where there is no pretense of justice as we understand that word, and where domestic tranquillity is secured only by the slaughter of those who oppose the present ruling class.

Moreover, the Socialist Party is not a political party in any true sense of the word, for the members of a political party must be citizens, and the qualification for membership in the Socialist Party is only that of residence in the United States. Inasmuch as the Executive Committee issues orders to and exercises control over Socialist members of legislative bodies, it might easily happen that a committee of aliens would determine the action of members of the New York Legislature. Qualification is the very essence of this question, and the Judiciary Committee has established to the satisfaction of the great majority of the people of the State that these Socialists by their pledge to support their own constitution have disqualified themselves to take and keep the oath to support the Constitution of the State.

The right of representation has been invoked and the action of the majority of the committee is attacked for denying that right to a large number of persons in the State who vote as Socialists. In any republican form of government the right of representation must be exercised under conditions. The conditions are clearly laid down, but the Socialists have chosen to set up conditions of their own, incompatible with those established and observed by the majority of the people. To insist that the members of this organization, who openly aim at the destruction of the Government in its present form and at the overthrow of the existing social organization, have a right to take part in the making of the laws is to insist that the Constitution of the State of New York provides the means for its own destruction. It ought to be clear to every reasonable mind that no institution, celestial, terrestrial or infernal, could be successfully conducted on those principles. Every Government, every Constitution, on the contrary, provides for its own defense, maintenance and continuance, and punishes attempts at overthrow. No sane people would extend sanction and encouragement to organizations cherishing such purposes, by giving them equal standing and recognition with political parties loyal to the Constitution and to the country.

This Republic has been established 140 years. The social organization of the people of the United States is much older. The vast majority of them are content with their Constitution, their laws, their Government, with their society as it now exists. They are a free people, they are resolved to maintain their freedom, as any revolutionary group rash enough to challenge them will discover. They have no mind to submit themselves to the rule of a small minority aiming to establish a very different form of government, to make and to enforce laws which would destroy freedom as we know and enjoy it. If the members of the Socialist Party of America feel aggrieved at the action taken against some of their members at Albany, the remedy lies in their own hands. They have not become Americans, they do not understand American institutions or know what liberty is. They have formulated and profess a set of principles abhorrent to the vast majority of Americans. If they wish to enjoy the full rights of citizenship which thus far they have abused, it behooves them to make themselves worthy of the grant, to put aside their disloyal aims, their practices and principles which are not only un-American but are detested by Americans. Let them become merged in the common body of citizenship, obedient to the laws and to the Constitution. Then they will be free to take part in lawful political activities, to sit in legislative chambers and to exercise their influence in making and changing laws in the same manner as that influence is exercised by other Americans.

ONE STEP TOWARD BUILDING.

Mayor HYLAN's project of bringing together the various elements in the building situation has made haste slowly, but the fact that the bricklayers are again at work is the one definite advance which thus far has been achieved. There has been much talk of limiting rent advances, of portable houses in Van Cortlandt Park, of furbishing up outlawed or too squalid tenements; but such expedients, even if successful in relieving immediate distress, would leave the main problem unsolved. Permanent relief can be found only in a building program of unprecedented proportions; and this is possible only if conditions are stabilized in the labor market, in the market for building materials, and in the conditions under which real estate mortgages may be placed.

A building problem remains with regard to the structural iron workers, and this is likely to prove even more difficult of solution; but it fortunately affects only the more expensive type of apartment house, the richer class of tenant. If brick and stone can be laid, the first and indispensable step has been taken toward eventually supplying the wants of the great body of the public. Next in order is the question of materials. In all lines the market is thoroughly disorganized, and the difficulty centres not only in matters of supply and prices, but in matters of railway rates and a sufficiency of cars. Brick and mortar, laths, plaster, woodwork and fixtures, all present problems which are very largely beyond human power to control. Until the entire world of industry is far more stable than it is today building of any sort will continue to be a highly speculative enterprise.

This is the primary factor in the problem of enlisting capital. We have just seen a large proportion of the work in hand held up for almost three months, at a cost in interest and other charges incalculably great. At any time difficulties with a labor union or with the supply of some form of building material may bring similar waste and delay. With many attractive varieties of bonds at hand which yield around 7 per cent., there is as much likelihood of diverting money already placed in mortgages into other fields as of attracting more. When one of the measures restricting profits was advocated at Albany a real estate man remarked: "There goes 70 per cent. of the new building program!" The profiteer must be held in check by any and all legitimate means, and undoubtedly he will be; but a liberal margin of profit, adapted to the speculative chances involved, must be allowed to the real estate investor.

Chief reliance, meantime, must be placed upon an enlightened public spirit. Mayor HYLAN is on the right track. The primary need is that work shall be resumed and speeded, that building supplies shall flow in a steady and increasing volume. This granted, there is promise that the necessary capital will be forthcoming. A general good-will, the spirit of live and let live, will result in the breaking of ground, the completion of new housing. And this is as necessary to the labor unions and to the merchants of building material as it is to the public.

AN INCIDENT OF TAXATION.

It would be pleasant to compose an epithalamium in honor of MARY, the arch-angel-face, the darling of a nation, and the strong-armed DOUGLAS, who does more work in five reels than Hercules ever put into his twelve labors. But the affair transcends romance and descends into economics, a science which of late has become even more dismal than sociology. The union of two loving hearts is of less concern than the union of two monstrous incomes. We shall hear talk of the dangerous concentration of wealth, and some gloomy person will probably ask the familiar question as to whither we are drifting.

Whithersoever it may be, we have been drifting thither for many years since that question was first asked, and the world still goes round. Indeed, a few courageous persons unable to conform to the pessimism now orthodox may think that perhaps Whither is not such a terrible place after all. Wealth accumulates, but it is also dispersed. In times past the ingenuity of the second generation has often redistributed the greater part of a threatening concentration; this time we do not have to wait for that. Two incomes of a million or so each—if we believe the press agents—have been united; but the joint family exemption is still $2,000. Getting both millions under the same roof merely makes the work of the Collector of Internal Revenue a little easier. If, Heaven forbid, Mr. FAIRBANKS should some day break that nickel-steel neck of his and his widow should turn for consolation to the heart and hand of some other Croesus of the films, the tax on a single household could pretty nearly keep the Government going and the rest of us might be exempted. To be sure, we should be contributing to the tax every time we go to the movies; but it is notorious that the average man would rather be taxed a dollar in higher prices than a dime direct.

TURKS, GREEKS AND BULGARS.

Mr. WILSON's note on the Turkish question is sound on two important points: the Sultan must go, and Russia must have a voice in the control of the Straits. To be sure, what we think about it is of academic interest, but that is not Mr. WILSON's fault. The French praise our idealism, but ask who will furnish the army to enforce it. The answer to that is plain—a little too plain; Mr. VENIZELOS has offered the services of the Greek Army for a task which Greek soldiers would find congenial, a campaign against the Nationalist troops of MUSTAPHA KEMAL Pasha. If Greece undertook such a campaign on a commission from the allied Powers MUSTAPHA KEMAL's army would almost certainly be destroyed, and the settlement of the whole Turkish question—Constantinople, Armenia and all—would be made easy.

It would probably be made too easy. No longer would French investors and diplomats have any excuse for insisting on keeping the Sultan in Stamboul, nor would Mr. MONTAGU and his well-trained chorus of Indian Moslem leaders be able to decry all "religious fanaticism" but their own. Until the allied Governments give a plausible excuse for refusing to consent to the use of the Greek Army in an enterprise which they profess to regard as highly desirable, if it were only possible, their complaints about America's detachment will not be very convincing.

As to the other recommendations in the note, they are of a sort which might have been appropriate a year ago, but are somewhat belated now that something has to be done by way of settlement. Hostility to Greek claims is their most striking feature. Thrace should be Greek, says the note, except for the northern part, which "is clearly Bulgarian in population." Some frontier districts which are clearly Bulgarian in population have been conceded to Bulgaria by the Greeks, but our note expressly mentions "the cities of Adrianople and Kirk Kilisseh." It finds the Bulgarian claim "worthy of most serious consideration on ethnic and historic grounds." Statistics, fallible everywhere, are notoriously so in Southeastern Europe; Turkish statistics are far from faultless, but in a matter such as this may at least be more nearly impartial than Greek or Bulgarian statistics. According to Turkish figures, the Greeks outnumber the Bulgars three to one in Adrianople and more than two to one in Kirk Kilisseh. As for the historic grounds, Adrianople was Bulgarian for seventeen years in the thirteenth century, while the Latin Emperors held Constantinople, and for a few months in the Spring of 1913. It was Greek and Roman for something more than thirteen hundred years.

Our Government does not appear to think so much of the ethnic and historic arguments, when it reflects upon them; for immediately afterward it says that Bulgaria is entitled to favorable consideration here because it had to give up some thousands of Bulgars on its western border to make a strategic frontier for Serbia. That is, if we have violated the principle of nationality in favor of Serbia and against Bulgaria, we must compensate Bulgaria by violating the principle of nationality against Greece. The morals of this are somewhat hard to discern.

Moreover, we refuse to express an opinion on the question of Smyrna, because it is "too important to be passed on with the limited information this Government has as to the exact arrangement that is contemplated and the reasons for the same." Why do we not say what we want to do with Smyrna? Do we want to give it to Italy in accordance with the provisions of a secret treaty? Do we want to hand it back to the Turks? Some American missionaries would like that; the same whose influence has so notably affected our official attitude toward Bulgaria. Some enemies are enemies, but the Bulgarians, it is insisted, are our friends, and their enemies are not our friends. If we are going to let missionary influences continue to control our Near Eastern policy, we are likely to find some strange manifestations of statesmanship and ethics.

CONFIRMATION BY MAYO.

When Admiral MAYO, who commanded the Atlantic fleet during the war, told the Senate Naval Investigating Committee that the sea service was never better prepared than when war was declared by the United States, he meant that the personnel was well trained and ready to do its duty. He could not have been blind to the navy's need of battle cruisers, of submarines of the latest type, and of craft, including fast destroyers (we had a flotilla, but not enough of these indispensable little ships), to hunt down the enemy's U-boats. Admiral MAYO's statement that the United States Navy was as well prepared for war in April, 1917, as the British Navy was in August, 1914, would be disputed by Admiral SIMS and by other American officers, but they would never contend that the British Navy was as formidable as it should have been with its great array of units. Particularly was the British Admiralty backward in organizing a campaign of defense against the German submarines. The Germans had a much better knowledge of the usefulness of these boats than the directors of the British Navy had.

There can be no controversy between MAYO and SIMS about the competency of the American naval officers and the efficiency of the enlisted men. Handsomely has Admiral SIMS testified to the performances of our personnel in the war. Better could not be found. The issue is about the organization of the navy and about the responsibility of the "high command," including the Secretary himself, for mistakes made in strategic plans to carry on the war from this side of the Atlantic. The personnel was ready—that is to say, officers and men knew their duties—but the navy as an organization was not prepared. It had no well-worked-out plan for war on a large scale. What intelligent officer will deny this, or assert that the staff was capable of team work?

MAYO and SIMS are not far apart as regards the inability of the navy to function properly in an emergency. Admiral MAYO in his testimony before the Senate sub-committee made the best showing possible for the organization when he said that without the direction of the Chief of Naval Operations conditions would have been "chaotic." As the office had not been created until 1915, the results obtained were as good as could be expected. There had not been time enough to prepare war plans and to organize the service for all contingencies. Undoubtedly the department was handicapped, as Admiral MAYO intimated, by "the absence of a definite foreign policy." The conditions of such a war as the United States found itself involved in had not been made the subject of study by the "high command."

Much that Admiral SIMS has charged against the conduct of the war by the department must be true, or an officer so proud of the service as Admiral MAYO is would not have said of the present organization: "So long as it exists the maximum efficiency either in preparation for war, in the conduct of war or in economical development of the navy in peace cannot be attained." He intimated that the Secretary could not be expected to co-ordinate the work of thirteen offices, boards and bureaus, and he advocated more authority and a wider sphere for the Chief of Naval Operations. Admiral SIMS may not have presented a flawless case in indicting the present system, and he may be charged with inconsistency, indiscretion, and at times with error due to zeal that outran his judgment; but who can deny that in provoking an investigation of the naval establishment he has rendered a great public service?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Applicants Will Be Numerous. A truly restful and agreeable change from most of the things now going on in the world is to be found in contemplation of the plans of the expedition to the South Seas, soon to be made under the auspices of Yale University, using for the purpose a gift of $40,000 by BAYARD DOMINICK of this city. There, now, is something that has no relation to war or its consequences, none to Bolshevism or the Socialism that is Bolshevism in easily pierced disguises, none to struggles with the high cost of low living, none to the squabbles of aspiring candidates for office or to the charges they are making against one another. Instead the announcement is an invitation to dream about a long, long voyage among the most romantic of islands in the most romantic of oceans, made by men of science seeking new knowledge as to the origin of mysterious races.

They will not be mere closet or laboratory students, but men who, though learned in various domains, yet are prepared to have adventures—to contend with big winds, mountainous waves and wild folk as satisfactorily primitive as the missionaries have left to be interesting anywhere on this rather too well traveled world.

It will be a wonderful journey and it ought to have wonderful results, both those sought and those achieved by luck and chance. Of course, these belated explorers of the southern seas will not have the almost limitless opportunities to do and see quite new islands and peoples that Captain COOK had; they can hardly expect to make their voyage as famous as those of the Beagle or the Challenger, or of our own WILKES, but that disadvantage may be balanced by the better preparations that can be made in these days for scientific investigation.

To Hunt Racial Beginnings. Participants in the Dominick expedition are to seek especially for answers to a large number of questions highly interesting to ethnologists. They want to know how the Polynesians came to be where they are and why they are so unlike the peoples either to the eastward or the westward of them. Then the old and puzzling problem of the arrival of human beings on the American continents will receive new attention.

That all these mysteries and the others like them will be solved by a single voyage, even though it be two years long, cannot be hoped, but that progress will be made is more than fairly certain, and what happiness for the travelers, making one landfall after another in next to endless sequence, and with no responsibilities or duties except to do exactly what they like best to do!

Of any direct or material profit from their work they will not have to think even once. Their single task is the extension of human knowledge for themselves and everybody else, and they will not have to remember the probability that there are those who regard the making of money as the best use to which time can be put. Not everybody would like to give two years to such a trip, but there are also not a few who would regard it as a culmination of good fortune, with its real and rather numerous risks merely added attractions.

His Money Helped Not at All. People who are fond of saying that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor should consider carefully the case of young BERGDOLL, just convicted of desertion in time of war and sentenced to five years in prison at hard labor and to several incidental penalties that include deprivation of citizenship.

That money has done something, and may do more, for him cannot be denied. Had he or his mother been poor the proceedings after his capture would have been less prolonged and further efforts to save him from the consequences of his conduct probably would not have been made. But while wealth renders possible a harder fight against conviction of any crime, there is no reason and little excuse for charging that it enables the guilty to escape. In this particular instance, probably all that the defendant owes to his command of money is his long evasion of arrest, and it may be that since his capture he has had less than no help from his one unlikeness to other deserters of his kind. It rendered leniency for him practically out of the question, as its exercise in his behalf would have been so obviously undeserved as to have aroused loud and articulate condemnation by the public.

All the pleas made in his behalf were of the weakest, and the one most urged, "constitutional timidity," is not plausible when it is ascribed to a young man whose favorite sports have been automobile racing and amateur aviation. It wasn't war that frightened him, but he had a settled disinclination for participation in a war with Germany, and consequently he evaded the draft. That is all, really, there was in the case.

A Fashion Worth Considering. According to a dispatch from Vienna, the "intellectuals" of that cruelly harassed city, partly because of poverty and partly as a protest against a notable phase of profiteering, have organized themselves into a Barefoot Club. In other words, from now on and until cold weather comes again they are to wear no shoes or stockings.

This is a variously meritorious idea. Going barefoot in Summer is not a hardship, as is known by everybody now old whose boyhood was spent in the country. If he remembers those days, he remembers also that the arrival of barefoot time was welcomed, not dreaded, by the boys who were allowed to quit their shoes then, and that the other boys were bitterly resentful when deprived of the same pleasant liberty.

As a matter of fact, a large part of the earth's inhabitants walk in bare feet for the better part of every year, and no small minority for the whole of it. Certainly nothing would bring down the price of shoes more promptly or further than a general revival and adoption of this ancient and honorable custom. If it could be made the fashion, though only for the younger generation, the high cost of living would receive a jolt, as all parents know to their grief.

TRAVESTY OF ARTICLE X.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I have lately received under the frank of Senator France of Maryland extracts from the Congressional Record evidently sent out for propaganda purposes against the League of Nations. The two pamphlets are made beautiful by an extravagance of paper and type more than reckless in these lean days, but the thing to which especial attention ought to be called is the argument of Mr. F. E. Kip, read into the Record by Senator France. It is the most astonishing specimen I have yet discovered in the extraordinary campaign of misrepresentation and misstatement to which the Covenant of the League has been so generally subjected by its opponents. For this reason it ought to be rescued from oblivion as showing how far it is possible to go in this direction under the kind of hysterical frenzy which the Covenant seems to excite in some minds. For it is most charitable supposition to consider that such distortions are honestly made and that the declaimer really thinks he has stated things as they are.

One example will be enough. He says: "Article X. of the League of Nations Covenant, calling upon the United States to guarantee, for all time, the present territorial integrity of every nation all over the world, is atrocious in the extreme." It certainly would be atrocious in the extreme if it called for the guarantee stated. One of the most abominable results of the Senate campaign of vilification of the Covenant, regarding which no language can be too strong, is the creation of the belief in the minds of thousands of originally well-disposed people, who have had no time to study the Covenant for themselves, that this travesty of Article X. is what it really means. One does not have to go far to find such misconception among his friends. Yet any one who has read the Covenant with an open mind knows, not merely that Article X. asks for no such guarantee, but that, if it did, it would be wholly out of harmony with the spirit and purpose of the Covenant throughout. This result is made more heinous, if that is possible, by two facts: First, that the primary purpose of Article X. (deliberately concealed by the omission of the essential clause?) is plainly not to guarantee anything, but to do away with the most frequent cause of war in the past, wars of expansion and of conquest; and second, that the obligation is merely to extend to the members of the League the protection against aggressive attack which for a hundred years the United States has afforded to the Latin American States in the Monroe Doctrine.

Mr. Kip exposes to our abhorrence the origin of this atrocious article in the desire of Lloyd George and General Smuts to secure "the great power of the United States to back up England's present territorial integrity in all corners of the earth and for all time!" He develops also at great length what is, so far as I know, a discovery of his own, and an interesting one, that "the death knell of the great American Republic is sounded," by a change in our form of government made by the Versailles Treaty. I am sorry that I cannot explain here this awful change, but I do not understand what it is.

GERMANY'S CRIME WAVE.

Dishonesty Seems the Best Policy in That Country.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

An American who has long lived in Germany writes:

"The German nation seems to have gone all to pieces, militarily, financially and morally. Everything is now stolen which is not firmly secured. The upholstering is torn out of railway cars, windows are smashed out of pure wantonness and other destruction of public and private property goes on in the same manner.

"In many restaurants and cafes a deposit is demanded in advance for knives, forks, spoons, &c. We recently ordered some kindling wood, and were surprised to find when delivered it consisted of newly painted boards of a German freight car with all the newly painted signs and numbers upon it.

"What little there is left is being smashed and destroyed wantonly, and apparently nobody works now who can help it, but each one strives to lead a parasitic existence. In fact, the weight of the taxes is enough to discourage most any one from working. The laws are now such that the honest man has the entire weight of the taxes to pay, while the dishonest ones go scot free."

A PRIZE FOR WEAVING.

An Offer to Stimulate Interest in a Forgotten Home Industry.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

During the war hand knitting, which had almost become a lost art, was revived and millions of socks were knitted by our patriotic women and sent abroad to our soldiers. This effort gave a great appetite and zest for the re-establishment of some of our old home industries.

We spun and wove in the last century as high as 5,000,000 yards of linen in New York State, and in the other Eastern States about 21,000,000 yards. We have in and around New York hundreds of foreign women who are adepts on the spinning wheel and hand loom, and who can be used as teachers to bring back this important home industry. Now that we have a linen famine all over the world, there are also available a large number of spinning wheels.

I will give $100 for prize money for a spinning and weaving contest and will supply the flax fibre. I think the Needle and Bobbin Club could be induced to take charge of the matter. It would be not only of intense interest but it would possibly bring back one of our most useful home industries—the making of hand-made linen.

APRIL FOOL.

And I had taken it all so seriously—
Trudged through the mud and the gore of it,
Lived with the dead and the dying,
Crying into the night with a breaking heart,
Pained to the quick with the utter worthlessness of life!
But a gleam there was and it led me on
To die for the living day,
When volcanic passion would subside
And man become free—
Free to league in a world of peace,
No wars to threaten—no wars!

I did not know that old men were mumbling in their sleeves:
It was their last joke and they chuckled—
"Hee, hee, hee! April fool, April fool!"
I see the joke now—ha, ha, ha!—it is funny!
Let's laugh together—ho, ho, ho!—it sure is one on us!

BUYS RARE DELFT PIECES.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

THE HAGUE, March 30.—Simon Morgan's collection of rare old Delft, which a well-known Dutch dealer, Etien Delaunow, has just bought in Paris, is now exhibited in Amsterdam and has attracted much attention, bringing many collectors and connoisseurs to the city. The Dutch dealer, profiting by the advantageous exchange, bought the collection for about 3,000,000 francs.

The most remarkable pieces were a set of five Delft vases decorated with gold, signed Adrien Pynacker, which have been sold for 50,000 guilders.

One of the best known Dutch connoisseurs of Delft, Henri Piek, told THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent that Delft ware was now fetching higher prices in Holland than abroad.

RHEIMS SHELTERS 60,000.

France's "Martyr City" Steadily Recovering from Ravages of War.

RHEIMS, France, March 31.—France's "martyr city" has been able to offer makeshift shelter to 60,000 of its citizens who have returned, thanks to its miles of wine cellars.

The city's pre-war population was 120,000. It has been possible to resume the champagne industry almost at once. The recovery of the textile industry will be far less rapid as the plants in the neighborhood have been systematically destroyed, but already several are in working order again.

The latest sign of recovery is the resumption of the street-car service, but it is typical of the ruined city that during the first trial run, a house already tottering, fell across the track a few seconds after the car had passed, owing to the slight vibration.

DISCOVERS A NEW PLANET.

Spanish Astronomer's Find Announced by Harvard Observatory.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 31.—The discovery of a planet by the Astronomer Sola of Barcelona, was announced at Harvard College Observatory today, the news coming in a cablegram from Professor Lecointe of Uccle, Belgium, transmitted through Professor Stromberg of Copenhagen. An observation taken at 11:56 Greenwich mean time, March 21, gave its position as right ascension 12 h. 25 m. 12 s. declination plus 15 degrees. Its daily motion was right ascension minus one minute; declination plus one minute.

A subsequent message from Professor Lecointe indicated that some doubt had been felt at first as to whether the planet was a new one to astronomers or whether it was not in fact No. 90, one of the long list of small planets previously mapped. Professor Lecointe's message, although not entirely clear, was taken here as intimating his belief that the Sola discovery is new.

VOLCANO EXPERT SAILS.

Frank A. Perrett Returning to Observatory on Mount Vesuvius.

Frank A. Perrett, volcanologist for the Carnegie Institution in Washington, sailed yesterday for Naples on the White Star liner Cretic to take up his post in the observatory on Mount Vesuvius to continue the astronomical studies which he had relinquished during the war. He said that the time of the greatest tidal pull of the sun and moon on the earth surface was the period for valcanoes to be most active. He said that he had often passed two nights in succession down in the crater of Vesuvius and admitted that it was a terrifying ordeal until one became accustomed to the wondrous workings of the earth's interior.

Another passenger was Mrs. Kirby F. Smith and her daughter Rosamond Smith, on her way to Italy in the interest of the Free Milk Fund for Italian babies.

QUEENS GETS MORE TRAINS.

Interborough Agrees to Add Daily Facilities for 11,250 Persons.

Interborough service between Grand Central Station and Astoria and Corona, Queens, is to be increased by the equivalent of seventy-five cars, affording accommodation for 11,250 additional passengers per day. Public Service Commissioner Lewis Nixon so ordered yesterday and the company promised to obey immediately.

Commenting on rapid transit service to Queens Deputy Commissioner Barrett said that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit service with through trains across Fifty-ninth Street and down Broadway, Manhattan, without change, would increase transit facilities to Queens almost one hundred per cent.

WARTIME SHIPYARD IS SOLD.

New York Harbor and Dry Dock Co. Pays $2,225,000 for Bayles Plant.

The United States Shipping Board announced yesterday that the Bayles Shipyard at Port Jefferson, L. I., one of the plants developed under war-time necessity, had been sold to the New York Harbor and Dry Dock Company. The price is said to have been about $2,225,000.

The price the plant brought yesterday is said to have been a quarter of a million dollars more than had been tentatively accepted from another purchaser. That deal was not put through and the resale was ordered. The shipyard was formerly a yacht basin but the Shipping Board spent about $7,000,000 in bringing it to a state where it could turn out seagoing tugs.

SOFT COAL MINERS SIGN WAGE SCALE

Total Estimated at $200,000,000 a Year—To Advance Coal Prices, Owners Say.

Based upon the award of President Wilson's Bituminous Coal Commission, the General Scale Committee of operators and miners of the Central Competitive Field yesterday afternoon at the Waldorf-Astoria entered into a two-year agreement for 400,000 bituminous coal miners. The agreement involves a wage increase of 27 per cent., which is about $200,000,000 a year. The miners will receive approximately $1,000,000,000 a year. The contract became effective last midnight.

Representatives of the mine operators of West Virginia, Kentucky and other outlying districts, not included in the Central Competitive Field, immediately announced that they also would put into effect the new contract in their territory.

The agreement continues in effect the eight-hour day now observed in the soft coal regions. One feature of the new contract is a clause which provides that all "internal differences" in the various districts of the bituminous coal fields will be settled by the district officers of the mine workers and operators. There must be nothing done, however, in adjusting these matters that will increase the cost of production or decrease the earning capacity of the mine workers. The bonus system now used by operators in competing with each other for employes is condemned, and the contracts provide that all agreements in the various districts should contain a "penalty" clause for any "stoppage of work" or unauthorized strikes.

New Contract Promptly Signed.

As soon as the Scale Committee adopted the contract as drafted by a committee appointed for the purpose the instrument was signed by the International officers of the United Mine Workers, John L. Lewis, President; Philip Murray, Vice President, and William Green, Secretary and Treasurer, and by two operators and two miners of each of the four States of the General Competitive Field—Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Mine owners last night reiterated their announcement of the night before that the present coal prices will be advanced from 65 cents to $1.50 a ton at the mines. The proposed increases were characterized by Philip Murray as "exaggerated and uncalled for." The contention of the workers is that the increases should be borne by the operators without additional cost to the public. It was said by leaders of the mine workers that the increased cost to the operators under the new contract would not exceed 45 cents a ton.

T. L. Lewis, Secretary of the New River Coal Operators' Association of West Virginia, said yesterday that the operators were justified in increasing prices because of the increase in wages, cost of equipment and overhead expenditures. In his territory, he said, the price advance would range from $1 to $1.50 a ton.

Virtually no headway was made yesterday by the sub-committee negotiating the details of the new contract between the anthracite operators and miners, but it was said last night that with the bituminous contract out of the way the anthracite agreement probably would be completed by the end of next week.

To Settle Laborers' Pay Later.

The miners' representatives on the sub-committee handling the bituminous matter tried to have the pay of the day laborers raised from $1 to $1.35 a day, as recommended by the commission, but after considering the wording of the commission's award they agreed that this probably could not be done without invalidating the entire award, so this was passed over to be settled in the respective mines as best it may.

The contract which became effective last midnight expires on March 31, 1922. The agreement provides that an interstate joint conference be held prior to April 1, 1922, the time and place of holding the meeting to be determined by a committee of two operators and two miners from each State represented by the agreement, together with the international officers of the miners' union.

TELL OF FRICTION AT BREST.

Officers on Fletcher's Staff Say Naval Efficiency Was Affected.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Further details of friction and factional feeling among members of Rear Admiral William B. Fletcher's staff at Brest, France, during the war, were disclosed today to the Naval Court investigating the Admiral's removal by Vice Admiral Sims.

Two former members of the staff, Lieutenant Joseph A. Carey, Flag Secretary, and Commander F. D. Baldwin, Material Officer, were on the stand, the latter insisted that an "impression" had prevailed at Brest that Admiral Fletcher had not made full use of his staff. Baldwin said he had told the Admiral that in his own case he "hadn't enough to do" to fill his time.

Lieutenant Carey said that staff officers had criticised Admiral Fletcher's administration freely, which "was bound to affect the efficiency of operations." He added that each officer seemed to want to "run the whole show to suit his own ideas."

Carey said Commander Baldwin's feeling that he should have been continued as base commander was given open support on the staff, producing "factional feeling."

Baldwin subsequently told the court, however, that after he was placed on Fletcher's staff by order of Admiral Sims, he never discussed the matter again.

PHILADELPHIA SAILS.

Liner Delayed by Fires Will Take Precautions on Voyage Here.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, March 31.—The American Line steamer Philadelphia, the sailing date of which had been postponed from last week, owing to two fires on board, put to sea today for New York.

The origin of the fires has not been discovered. Special precautions will be taken to ensure the safety of the vessel on the westward trip to New York. The damage to the cabins by the fire will be repaired when the Philadelphia reaches the United States.

BRITISH REVENUE 6 BILLIONS

Increases Greatly in a Year, but Does Not Meet Outgo.

LONDON, March 31.—The exchequer returns for the financial year just ended show revenue of £1,339,571,381, an increase of £450,500,000 over the preceding year.

The expenditure was £1,665,772,028, showing a decrease of £913,500,000. The year's expenditure, therefore, was more than £326,000,000 in excess of the revenue.

Tarrytown Ferry Resumes Today.

WALES PRINCE SEES BLASTING AT PANAMA

Rock Removed from Culebra Cut to Let Battleship Renown Enter with Britain's Heir.

STATE OFFICIALS GREET HIM

Round of Festivities Arranged—Prince of Wales Will Also Call at Honolulu.

PANAMA, March 30.—Blasting operations in the Culebra Cut section of the canal were necessary today before the British battleship Renown, with the Prince of Wales on board, could proceed through the great waterway. As the Renown neared the point where landslides have recently occurred, boats went ahead and made soundings, discovering a rock fifty feet square directly in the course to be taken by the vessel. After a wait of two hours the rock was removed at the risk of dislodging more landslides, and then the Renown was towed over the dangerous and narrow channel.

This was the only hitch in the program arranged for the Prince's visit to the Panama Canal. When the Renown arrived at the Atlantic end of the waterway it was boarded by Governor Harding, President Lefevre, American and French representatives and commanders of the United States military, naval and Isthmian forces. When Gatun Dam was reached, Governor Harding explained the operation of the canal, the Prince expressing astonishment at the magnitude of the engineering feat accomplished there.

A luncheon was given on board the Renown, the only toasts being to President Wilson and King George. The British Minister gave a dinner, reception and dance in honor of the Prince at the Hotel Tivoli tonight.

Crowds greeted the Prince as his ship proceeded through the canal, while airplanes whirred overhead and served as escorts.

The Prince appears to be in better health than when he visited Canada and the United States.

The program arranged for Wednesday, March 31, included an address to the Prince to be presented by prominent members of the British colony here, and the rest of the day was to be spent in sightseeing. In the evening the Panama Government planned to give a state banquet in honor of the royal visitor, to be followed by a reception and formal ball.

The Renown will sail on Thursday for San Diego after taking aboard 3,000 barrels of oil at Balboa.

From San Diego, where the United States State Department will send a representative to again welcome the Prince of Wales to this country, the Renown will proceed to Honolulu, where she will arrive April 16, and thence to the Fiji Islands, New Zealand and Australia.

The members of the suite of the Prince of Wales are: Rear Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey, Chief of Staff; Lieut. Col. E. Grigg, Secretary; Sir Godfrey Thomas, personal secretary; Captain Dudley North, Extra Equerry, and Captain Lord Claud Hamilton and Captain the Hon. Piers Leigh, equerries.

The Rear Admiral's staff is composed of Lieut. Commander A. Janion, Paymaster, and Sub-Lieutenant Lord Louis Mountbatten, Flag Lieutenant.

The latter is a son of the former Prince Louis of Battenberg, whose ancient name has been changed by clipping off the Germanic title and substituting a British marquisate because of the war.

FOUR HELD IN BOND THEFTS.

Three Accused in $68,000 Robbery —Brokers Cause Another Arrest.

Magistrate Ten Eyck, yesterday in the Tombs Court, held Albert J. Grossman of Baltimore, Md.; Joseph McDonald of 552 East 158th Street, the Bronx, and August Hillbrecht of 876 Forest Avenue, the Bronx, in $10,000 bail each for a hearing tomorrow on a charge of being concerned in the theft of $68,000 worth of securities from Halle & Stieglitz, a brokerage house at 30 Broad Street, on Feb. 4. The securities disappeared after a messenger, temporarily employed by the brokers, is alleged to have placed them opposite a receiving clerk in the Chatham and Phenix Bank.

Michael Rost of 238 East 103d Street, was held in similar bail by Magistrate Mancuso in the Harlem Court, on suspicion of having received $4,500 worth of securities believed to be part of a packet valued at $25,000, stolen on March 2 from DeCoppet & Doremus, brokers, at 42 Broadway.

Detective Brown told the Magistrate that he arrested Rost Tuesday night in the office of Fordon Brothers, brokers, in 125th Street, near Lenox Avenue, where, the detective alleged, Rost tried to dispose of the securities. The detective had been called in by a clerk in the brokerage house.

The $25,000 worth of securities were stolen from DeCoppet & Doremus by an unidentified youth who represented himself to a clerk in the brokergae house as a messenger for another brokerage firm.

SHOPMEN JOIN CLERKS.

Five Thousand Norfolk & Western Employes on Sympathetic Strike.

ROANOKE, Va., March 31.—Shopmen of all crafts employed by the Norfolk & Western Railroad here walked out today in sympathy with the strike of clerks which began March 22 after the road had refused to discharge two nonunion clerks who were accused of having made insulting remarks to a woman employe of the road.

Labor leaders estimated that a total of more than 5,500 men were out, including 5,100 here, 400 at Shenandoah, Va., and 129 at Wilcoe, W. Va. The company made no estimate, but officials said shopmen at all other points were at work.

HIRSHFIELD RENEWS HORNADAY ATTACK

SAYS HE IS DOCTOR'S FRIEND

Old Stuff and Irrelevant, Director's Comment on Newest Criticism of Zoo Officials.

Commissioner of Accounts David Hirshfield returned to the attack of Dr. William T. Hornaday, Director of the Bronx Zoological Park, yesterday with a statement declaring that his contention that the city should take over the management of the Bronx Zoo was supported by Dr. Anton Joseph Hecker, a member of the New York Zoological Society, who asserted he was a friend of Dr. Hornaday.

Dr. Hecker, a German-born dentist at 200 West Eighty-eighth Street, expressed great indignation that Commissioner Hirshfield had made public extracts from his testimony before he had received an opportunity to verify and sign it.

"I am surprised that Mr. Hirshfield would do such a thing," Dr. Hecker said last night. "In answer to a subpoena, I testified before him March 26, but the Commissioner assured me he would not give out my testimony until I had read it over. I went to his office last Monday, but I was told the papers were not ready for me to read or sign. I do not care to discuss the case until I have seen a copy of my testimony."

According to the copy of the testimony given out by Commissioner Hirshfield, Dr. Hecker said that the 1,600 members of the New York Zoological Society had no voice in the management of the park, and he was convinced that the Zoo should be under the absolute control of the city.

"I go to the Zoological Garden to find recreation," Dr. Hecker is quoted as saying. "I became acquainted with every employe in the Zoological Garden, from the lowest garden digger up to the Director and became friends with them all. My friendship with Dr. Hornaday is such that he dedicated to me his work about wild animals, 'to my esteemed friend Dr. Anton Joseph Hecker,' and sent it to me.

"The Zoo park as it is run today is run on wrong principles. We employ men who work faithfully and are underpaid, with the exception of the officials."

The employes, the testimony read, ought to have protection of the civil service law.

A.—Everybody trembles when they see him.

Q.—What about those two nephews, the Mitchels?

A.—Well, I know one, H. R. Mitchel, the chief clerk and purchaser, was a railroad ticket seller somewhere West, and the other, his brother, was a railroad conductor.

Q.—Do you think that their education and previous experience fit them to run a zoological research station?

A.—No. The older, I think, is a shrewd fellow, but the other one is a damned fool. If I were director I would not even employ him as a porter.

Commenting on his recommendations that the city take over the Zoo, Commissioner Hirshfield's statement reads:

"Henry Fairfield Osborn, an old gentleman, nominally the President of the Zoological Society, is also President of the Museum of Natural History. Madison Grant and William W. Niles are really the men behind the animal doctor, Hornaday. William W. Niles is chairman of the New York Zoological Society and also of the Executive Committee. Madison Grant is the paid Secretary of the society and receives $5,000 a year and office expenses. Through the action of the society in foisting the Bronx Parkway Commission upon the city, which will cost the people over $20,000,000, both Niles and Grant became and are Bronx Parkway Commissioners, receiving good salaries."

"That is old stuff; the heads of the Zoological Society have known that for a long time. It's wholly irrelevant," Dr. Hornaday said last night. "As for Dr. Hecker, you can say for me that the Zoological Society has no interest in anything he may say, and it would not be dignified to answer him."

TREATS SLEEPING SICKNESS.

French Doctor Has New Method Based on Discovery by Hippocrates.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 31.—A new treatment for sleeping sickness, which claimed many thousands of victims in France last year, with about thirty per cent. of fatal cases, was described by Dr. Arnold Netter at a meeting of the Academy of Medicine here.

Dr. Netter disclaimed any originality in the discovery and said that the real discoverer was Hippocrates, who many centuries ago established the relation between lethargy and the presence of an abscess in the patient. All that the lecturer claimed to have developed from that was the use of injections for combating the abscess. An antiseptic, such as urotropin, is first administered. Then by means of an infusion of jaborandi salivary secretions, which contain considerable proportions of a pathogenic agent, the sleeping sickness victims are stimulated.

Asthenia and general weakening are prevented by the use of such a remedy as adrenalin. In mild cases such treatment is found to be effective, but in more severe cases heroic measures have to be taken. In these, by means of the injection of terebinthin, an artificial abscess is caused, which concentrates all septic matter in the body.

Out of twenty-seven cases treated by Dr. Netter by this methodonly one proved fatal, and that case was far advanced before being reported.

'PITCHED PENNIES FOR KISS.'

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., March 31.—That his wife and a bellboy in a hotel at Utica, N. Y., "pitched pennies for kisses" was one of the charges made by Harry Leroy Wright of New York, in his suit for divorce from Veronica Wright of Atlantic City. Testimony was heard today by Vice Chancellor Buchanan here and he granted the divorce without leaving the bench.

In addition to telling about the bellboy, Wright said that for twelve years he had been taking his wife from questionable places late at night and early in the morning and that during that time he had come into contact through her with at least a hundred different men whom he was forced to accept as his friends in order that the family name might be protected.

Farrar and Mr. Hackett sang the two lovers of Abbé Prevost's story, and Albert Wolff conducted.

OFFICER AND GIRL PICKED UP AT SEA

Special to The New York Times.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 31.—A wireless sent from the Steamer Hilton, bound for Baltimore, was received here today stating that Miss Blanche Frazer, of 36 Central Park South, New York, and Major Sidney E. Parker of the British Army had been picked up at sea Sunday at 10 o'clock off Palm Beach and would be back Saturday.

This was the first information friends of Miss Frazer had that she had not arrived at the Bimini Rod and Gun Club for which she started shortly before noon last Saturday. Bimini is one of the Bahama Islands 70 miles East of this resort. The message received was signed Frazer and had been relayed through the Diamond Shoals Light Ship off North Carolina.

Major Parker is said by the local branch of the American Transoceanic Company to have been the originator of the Goffport Training System officially adopted by the British Air Service, and to have a war record of distinction. He arrived from New York recently in his own plane, of the Curtiss flying boat sea gull type, after a long trip by way of Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans. Miss Frazer was with friends who left the Breakers Hotel where she was staying on Saturday.

It has been ascertained from Bimini that the couple never reached there, from which it is inferred that they drifted at sea about fifteen hours before being picked up.

SURE OF DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Marks Thinks Eastern States' Backing Will Make It Zone Law.

Marcus M. Marks, President of the National Daylight Saving Association, said last night he was confident that if several of the Eastern States adopt daylight saving laws the bill now before Congress establishing daylight saving for the entire Eastern time zone will become a law.

"If Massachusetts and New Jersey fall in line, as we have been told they will shortly, and if they are followed by Rhode Island and New Hampshire," said Mr. Marks, "I am confident that the bill now before Congress establishing daylight saving in the Eastern time zone will go through. This will straighten out all the difficulties that have attended the situation since the law went into effect in New York."

A different note was sounded by William W. Ragsdale, Secretary of the New Jersey Daylight Saving Association. "Friends of daylight saving laws scarcely realize how grave is the crisis confronting us," he said.

"The eyes of the whole nation are centred on this fight in the New York Legislature, and the future of daylight saving depends on the action there taken. The Legislature of New Jersey is only waiting to see what New York is going to do in this matter, and Massachusetts and New Hampshire are waiting to fall in line, and shortly the whole Eastern section will pass this measure."

URGE JAMAICA BAY WORK.

Mass Meeting Calls on Congress to Hasten Channel Widening.

Representatives of the Merchants' Association and civic and taxpayers' organizations as well as others interested in the development of the Harbor of New York held a mass meeting in the Aldermanic Chamber at the City Hall yesterday and adopted resolutions requesting Congress to adopt immediately the amended bill now before it for the deepening of Jamaica Bay Channel so that the largest ocean steamships will be able to use the 1,000-foot piers that are to be constructed.

Ex-Justice Van Wyck declared that the time had arrived for the promise to be carried out, but that there was "some unseen force at work to kill it." This force, he said, was the big railroads having their terminals in New Jersey who wanted Newark Bay improved so that all commerce centering in New York would remove to New Jersey.

Dock Commissioner Murray Hulbert declared that Jamaica Bay must be deepened without further delay, and that failure of Congress to pass the required amendment would have an effect upon the development of the commerce of the nation.

"Jamaica Bay must be developed or the Port of New York cannot hope to accommodate much more of the nation's commerce than it is now handling," said President F. H. LaGuardia of the Board of Aldermen. A delegation will be sent to Washington to lay the facts brought out at the meeting before the Senate Committee.

CAPT. J. M. FOOTE KILLED.

Ex-Army Flier, Testing Plane, Crashes at Mineola, L. I.

Foote, chief test pilot of the L-W-F Engineering Corporation, was fatally injured yesterday when a monoplane he was flying crashed to earth from a height of 1,000 feet near Roosevelt Field, Mineola, L. I. He was extricated from the wreckage by spectators and taken to the Nassau Hospital in an automobile, where he died shortly afterward. It is not known what caused the accident.

During the war Foote was one of the leading test pilots of the Government with the rank of Captain. When he left the service he became identified with the L-W-F Engineering Corporation. He was a member of the American Flying Club.

FIFTY MEN TO TRAIL PROFITEERS HERE

Violators of Lever Act Will Be Routed, Says A. W. Riley of Department of Justice.

The profiteer is to be routed in New York City, according to Armin W. Riley, chief investigator under Assistant Attorney General Francis P. Garvan, who arrived in New York City yesterday to open a branch office for the "Flying Squadron," a name given to a staff of men of the Bureau of Investigation in the Department of Justice, who seeks violators of the Lever act.

Mr. Riley expects to have an office on the fifth floor of the old Post Office Building. He invites the public to send to him complaints of overcharging in foodstuffs, clothing, shoes, &c. No attention will be paid to anonymous communications, but the name of the person sending in information of profiteering will not be divulged by the Government agents. Mr. Riley said he was prepared to have a staff of as many as fifty investigators in New York City alone.

Emphasis was laid on the fact that the Lever act is still in full force and effect and, strengthened by an amendment last October, now has teeth. The penalty for profiteering under the amended act is $5,000 fine, two years' imprisonment, or both.

WIFE ACCUSES MOVIE STAR.

Carlyle Blackwell Testifies He Has to Pay $6,000 a Year for Clothes.

Supreme Court Justice Hendrick yesterday began the trial of Mrs. Ruth H. Blackwell's suit for a separation from Carlyle Blackwell, movie star, on the ground of abandonment. Mrs. Blackwell said her husband left her in 1914 when they and their two children were living at the Claridge. She said he told her some time ago that he had refused a five-year contract at $500 a week from the Vitagraph Company and she told him he would have to take the $500 if he couldn't do better because she would insist on her alimony being paid. Then, she said, he worked from November until February with the International Film for $1,000 a week.

Mrs. Blackwell testified that she had visited her husband's present home at Spuyten Duyvil and found that he had three servants, a valet and a chauffeur, and that he was supporting a cabaret performer. The defendant's attorney objected to this testimony on the ground that he had agreed not to contest the suit on condition that only such evidence as was necessary to make out a case of abandonment be offered. Justice Hendrick ruled that the testimony was pertinent. The testimony showed that Blackwell got $11,303 from his recent engagement.

Blackwell testified that he was compelled to spend $6,000 a year for his wearing apparel. "So exacting is the public when it comes to the attire of one whose abode, speaking professionally, is among the gods on high Olympus," said Blackwell.

The trial will continue today.

PREPARING FOR PRESIDENT.

White House Attaches Arranging for His Summer at Woods Hole.

WOODS HOLE, Mass., March 31.—Members of the White House staff were here today arranging for the arrival of President Wilson about June 1.

At the request of Joseph Murphy and Edward W. Smithers, Secret Service men, who are representing Secretary Tumulty, real estate agents and other citizens made a survey of the town with a view of obtaining accommodations for a large number of clerks and Administration attachés, who must be near the President.

Homes were sought for Rear Admiral Grayson, the President's physician, and Secretary Tumulty, and plans were made tentatively to establish the executive offices in the Government buildings occupied by the Marine Biological Laboratories, a short distance from Juniper Point, where President Wilson will occupy the Summer residence of Charles R. Crane, Minister to China. The grounds of the latter have been closed to visitors.

believe himself when, after notifying Mr. Hart that the House was ready for his resolution, the Representative replied:

"I am not ready to call up the bill at this time. Certain things have happened to cause a delay."

This answer came as a bolt out of a clear sky, and it was some minutes before the members could recover from their astonishment. Pandemonium reigned for some time, and it was with difficulty that Speaker Corbit could restore order.

After a conference with anti-suffragist members Representative Lloyd introduced an exact copy of the Hart suffrage resolution, this action being taken as a reprisal to the suffragists, so that its opponents could control the measure when reported out of committee rather than wait for action by Mr. Hart. It is believed tonight that this move by Mr. Lloyd will result in Mr. Hart calling for a vote on his resolution tomorrow.

The suffragists, evidently fearing that further efforts might be made to influence Hart to call up his resolution, induced him to leave the chamber.

There is a feeling here tonight that if the House does not vote on the suffrage amendment tomorrow morning the Senate will, and that it may pass that body by one majority. It is reported tonight that enough "antis" have been won over to do this in the Senate.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 31.—Governor Holcomb will not call a special session of the General Assembly to take action on the woman suffrage amendment to the Federal Constitution. A delegation of Republicans waited upon the Governor yesterday and presented to him the resolution adopted by the Republican State Convention last week requesting him to call the special session. Major John Buckley, the Executive Secretary, on the authority of Governor Holcomb, gave out the following statement today:

"There will be no formal reply made to the committee's request for a special session. But the Governor's position continues that no special session will be called."

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 31.—By a vote of 20 to 7, the Maryland Senate has passed a joint resolution authorizing the Attorney General of Maryland, in his discretion, to take legal action to prevent the proclamation of the success of the woman's suffrage amendment until after the decision of the legal question as to whether ratification was complete in certain States without a referendum, as provided in the Constitutions of these States.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Suffrage forces will not slacken their efforts until thirty-seven States have ratified the suffrage amendment, the National Woman's Party announced today, so that the coming into force of the amendment will not be delayed should the Supreme Court hold valid the provision of the Ohio State Constitution permitting a referendum on Federal constitutional amendments.

LIPTON LIKELY TO DEMAND PRIVILEGE OF CHOICE BETWEEN SHAMROCKS

CHOICE OF YACHTS SOUGHT BY LIPTON

Irish Baronet Intimates He Will Expect Privilege of Sailing Faster Shamrock.

OLD BOAT BEING ALTERED

Twenty-three Meter Sloop May Leave Next Week for America's Cup Trials on This Side.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, March 31.—When interviewed on the discussion in American yachting circles that he might ask permission to substitute his twenty-three metre Shamrock for the Shamrock IV. in the series of races for the America's Cup, Sir Thomas Lipton told a NEW YORK TIMES representative that under no circumstances would he take an attitude that might cause him to be considered unsportsmanlike or calculated to disturb the excellent relations existing between the members of the New York Yacht Club and himself.

"The position," said Sir Thomas, "is this. Considerable alterations have been made to the old Shamrock whereby her sailing qualities are expected to be much improved. Let us suppose that in the trials in which she will engage with the Shamrock IV. she should prove the faster boat. I hardly think under such conditions the Defense Committee of the New York Yacht Club would insist upon my sailing the slower boat while they enjoy the privilege of selecting the best of any number of yachts that might be built for the honor of defending the cup.

"In 1901 the Defense Committee selected the two-year-old Columbia in preference to the vessel specially built for the defense of the cup that year."

The alterations being made in the old Shamrock include the lowering of the fore end of the keel, with the addition of about five tons of lead. This will make her grip to windward better. Work on the old boat is almost completed and she probably will start for America during the next week. She will be jury-rigged for the voyage across and will sail without any escort.

Sir Thomas Lipton's statement regarding the possibility of the 23-metre Shamrock being the yacht to contend for the America's Cup, instead of the Shamrock IV., in the event of her proving to be the speedier craft in the trial races between the two to be held off Sandy Hook this Summer, is the result of a story to that effect which appeared in the London Field several weeks ago, which stated that alterations to the older Shamrock would make her available for the international contests and that she would not have to give anywhere near as much time allowance to the American defender as would the Shamrock IV. It also stated that, although against the ruling of the Deed of Gift, the New York Yacht Club's committee undoubtedly would not desire to race against the slower of the two British craft, regardless of rules.

That story was republished in THE TIMES and representatives of the New York Yacht Club when asked to comment on the possibility of such a substitution being requested or granted if requested, refused to make any comment, although several others prominent in yachting circles expressed various opinions on the subject. Some of these were to the effect that it would be impossible to disregard the terms of the "Deed of Gift" and others that American yachtsmen would not care to race America's best yacht against Great Britain's second choice. A majority, however, were of the opinion that for the British yachtsmen to make any request that was opposed to the terms agreed to when challenging and also opposed to the "Deed of Gift" would be the greater lack of sportsmanship.

TIGERS LOSE IN FIFTEENTH.

Vermont Nine Takes Princeton Into Camp in Long Game.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 31.—The University of Vermont ball players went fifteen innings here today to add another victory to those they have gathered on their Southern trip. Fourteen scoreless innings had elapsed before the New Englanders shoved across the tally that beat the Tigers, the final score being 1 to 0.

The winning run was made in this wise: Brock hit to Keyes, and the Tiger shortstop made a low throw to Cooke, the runner perching safely on first. Conlin sacrificed him along a station and McGinnis flied out. Harris, who already had one hit to his credit, lined a clean hit to centre field and Brock crossed the rubber.

HOLY CROSS WINS EASILY.

Defeats Catholic University Nine by Score of 10 to 2.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31.—The Catholic University nine met its first defeat of the season today, when the fast Holy Cross team turned the trick to the tune of 10 to 2. Bill Dollard essayed to pitch for the Maroon and Black. Though he outpitched Horan, he was given ragged support. Errors by Foran and Lucey proved costly to the Brookland boys, for they gave the lads from Worcester many chances to score.

Fewster Operated Upon; Find Skull Is Fractured

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 31.—Wilson Fewster, the Yankees's infielder, underwent an operation at the Union Protestant Infirmary here late this afternoon. It was said tonight that Fewster's condition was good and that the crisis would be passed in forty-eight hours. The surgeons are said to have determined that Fewster's skull was fractured. There was bleeding from a hemorrhage. The physicians stated that Fewster's general condition was very good, but they are unable to tell of the condition of his vocal cords. These were injured or shocked by the blow and rendered Fewster speechless. Time alone can tell the results of this.

YACHTSMEN SETTLE DATES OF REGATTAS

American Y. C. Gets First Saturday in July After Discussion at Y. R. A. L. I. S. Meeting.

At the largely attended annual meeting of the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound, held last night in the Hotel Astor, officers were elected for the ensuing year without exception to the names presented by the Nominating Committee, but the attempt to allot racing dates for the season did not move so smoothly.

A tentative schedule of championship racing dates was submitted which met with the approval of all concerned save for the dates suggested for the American and New Rochelle Yacht Clubs on Friday, July 2, and Saturday, July 3, respectively.

One of the delegates from the American Yacht Club requested that Saturday, July 3, be allotted to the organization he represented, and a delegate of the New Rochelle Yacht Club insisted that the date be set aside for the Echo Bay Yachting Organization, as tentatively stated in the circular sent out in advance. The New Rochelle delegate [illegible] New Rochelle Yacht Club annual regatta had invariably been held on the Saturday following the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club's regatta.

After prolonged discussion a motion was made and seconded that the Executive Committee of the association investigate precedents and that the New Rochelle Yacht Club or the American Yacht Club, whichever had been granted the championship date on the last occasion when the 3d of July fell on Saturday, be granted the sanction this year. The motion was carried.

American Yacht Club Wins.

On Saturday, July 3, 1915, the American Yacht Club held its annual regatta off Milton Point, Rye, N. Y., so the action of the committee is expected to be in accordance. The New Rochelle club also had applied for Aug. 28 as the date for its Summer regatta, but the delegate present announced that the club did not expect to hold such an event this year. That date was left open for whichever lost in the American-New Rochelle controversy, with the proviso that, if neither of them desired it, it should be allotted to the Hempstead Harbor Yacht Club instead of Sept. 18, the last date on the season's schedule.

The schedule of handicap races as adopted follows:

May 31, Harlem Yacht Club; June 5, Knickerbocker Yacht Club; June 12, Manhasset Bay Yacht Club; June 26, Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club; July 3, subject to the Executive Committee's findings (the American Yacht Club's race on July 3, [illegible] her right to the date according to the motion passed by the delegates); July 5, Larchmont Yacht Club; July 10, Indian Harbor Yacht Club; July 17, Stamford Yacht Club; July 24-31, Larchmont Yacht Club race week; Aug. 7, Knickerbocker Yacht Club; Aug. 14, New York Athletic Club; Aug. 21, Manhasset Bay Yacht Club; Aug. 28, left open; Sept. 4, Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club; Sept. 6, Larchmont Yacht Club and Sachems Head Yacht Club; Sept. 11, Indian Harbor Yacht Club, and Sept. 18, Hempstead Harbor Yacht Club, unless that club is awarded August 28.

The following officers were elected: President, James W. Alker, Manhasset Bay Yacht Club; Frank Bowne Jones, Indian Harbor Yacht Club, Vice President; H. A. Jackson, New York Athletic Club, Treasurer, and Charles A. Marsland, Secretary. Edwin H. Tucker, the retiring Secretary, was voted a bronze medal and the thanks of the association for his services.

Favor Plan for National Body.

The project of organizing a national yacht racing association composed of all the yacht racing associations of the country was started recently, and Mr. Tucker stated that in response to letters sent to similar associations throughout the country only five responses had been received, all of them being favorable to the organization. It was decided that the others had not been heard from because of the infrequency of meetings at this time, and the Secretary was instructed to keep up the campaign.

The suggestion of the Executive Committee regarding two additions to the racing rules met with the approval of the delegates. The first was the addition of the following paragraph to Conditions Governing Championship Races:

"Any club which does not intend to hold a championship race allotted to it shall notify the Secretary of each club in the association and the press at least ten days previous to said scheduled date." The other, an addition to rule XVII., had to do with yachts finishing later than one-half hour after sunset, and as adopted, is as follows: "Other boats in the class finishing later shall, in the absence of the Regatta Committee, take their own time upon passing the finishing mark at the proper distance and report same to the Regatta Committee within twenty-four hours."

The Treasurer's report showed the association to be in better financial condition than ever before. Frank Bowne Jones of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club urged that the Secretaries or Chairmen of all the different racing classes furnish him with the names, racing numbers, owners and addresses of all craft in these classes that they may be tabulated by the association before the racing season starts. Clubs represented at the meeting include the American, the Bayside, Harlem, Huguenot, Indian Harbor, Knickerbocker, Larchmont, Manhasset Bay, New Rochelle, Orienta, Port Washington, Seawanhaka-Corinthian, Stamford and Hempstead Harbor Yacht Clubs and the New York Athletic Club.

NO PLAYERS NAMED IN MAGEE CHARGES

Heydler Says Accusations Refer to Ancient Case Against Hal Chase.

President Heydler of the National League yesterday gave out a copy of the letter which he sent to Robert S. Alcorn of Cincinnati, attorney for Lee Magee, in answer to the letter which Mr. Alcorn sent on March 26. Magee's attorney at that time stated that the letter contained the names of four National League players mentioned by Magee in connection with the alleged baseball gambling rumors.

In his letter, President Heydler points out that the latest Alcorn letter did not contain the names of any players other than Magee and that the alleged charges have in no way been sustained. Mr. Heydler calls the attention of Magee's attorney to the fact that the charges to which his letter refers were made in connection with the charges preferred against Hal Chase by Christy Mathewson, as manager of the Cincinnati Club in 1918. All the papers in this case, in which Chase was exonerated, are on record in Mr. Heydler's office.

President Heydler again goes over these affidavits and calls Mr. Alcorn's attention to the fact that they were not sustained in the Chase case and that the status of the papers now is the same as at the time of the Chase hearing. President Heydler again calls the attention of Magee's attorney to his promise that, if Magee has any further evidence of alleged baseball gambling involving any National League players, he is only too willing to probe these charges to the bottom.

Mr. Heydler's correspondence shows that Magee and his attorney have failed to throw any new light on the gambling situation, and the matters to which Magee referred are nothing more than a repetition of the charges in the Chase case, which were dismissed because they were not, in Mr. Heydler's judgment, sustained.

Extracts from President Heydler's letter to Attorney Alcorn are as follows:

You were the attorney of record for player Hal Chase when charges were brought against him in 1918. As part of the proceedings there was furnished to you a complete copy of the specifications and affidavits of Messrs. Mathewson, Neale, Ring, Perritt, McGraw and Regan filed against your client. As you well know, player Chase in his sworn answer, presumably prepared by you, and in his testimony, given under oath and while attended by local counsel representing you, denied each and every charge made in the affidavits. Opportunity was given his counsel for full cross-examination of each witness and to furnish such testimony as he desired to produce. These affidavits are no doubt the ones referred to by you in your letter of March 26, 1920, to me, as no others that I know of are in any way like your description.

On all the testimony then available I decided that the serious charge against Chase had not been sustained.

You now bring up these affidavits as alleged charges against the persons who made them and apparently against your former client Chase; for if you claim the affidavits are true now they were true in 1918 when the case was tried; and the defense made and testimony given by Chase under your direction in denial thereof could not be the truth if the charges and affidavits were true. The testimony, affidavits and charges in the Chase case came into your possession from this office. It would require no great astuteness on your part to conclude that the originals were still here; and to substitute a statement that I have such papers here for the announced exposé which your client was to make last Saturday seems like an anticlimax.

MAGEE ACCUSES HEYDLER.

CINCINNATI, March 31.—Lee Magee, professional baseball player, in a signed statement issued today, said President John Heydler of the National League makes a "wilful misstatement" when he says that charges against the magnates have not been filed by Magee. Magee demands that if Heydler has any complaint against him, charges be preferred. Magee's statement follows:

"I am a professional ball player and depend upon my salary for a living for myself and family. You have barred me from Major League ball, without any charges against me, and without granting me a hearing.

"I demand that if you have any complaint against me that you prefer charges in the manner provided by your constitution, and afford me an opportunity to defend myself under the method therein contained.

"When you say that I have not filed with you written charges against the magnates you make a willful fisstatatement."

President John A. Heydler, of the National League, when informed of the latest statement of Lee Magee, said:

"Up to the present time, all letters received at National League headquarters have been signed by Magee's attorney and not by the player in person. These have been replied to and the press will be kept fully informed regarding the League's attitude in the matter. I have no intention of engaging in a long distance controversy over vague statements with Magee, who has repudiated previous interviews.

"The main thing we are concerned in is Magee's offer, or threat, to name players who are guilty of wrongdoing, and which he has not as yet done."

DODGER REGULARS WIN.

Beat Brooklyn Yanigans in Practice Game by 8 to 6 Score.

Special to The New York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 31.—Uncle Robbie put his Brooklyn players in shape for tomorrow's battle with the Yankees by sending them through two workouts today. The morning session was cut short by rain, but in the afternoon the rotund leader brought his team out again despite threatening weather and a nine inning game was played between the Regulars and Yanigans. The game was played on a wet diamond, and the pitchers had difficulty in controlling the ball. At the end of the game the Regulars were on the right side of an 8 to 6 score. Burleigh Grimes and John Miljus performed on the slab for the Regulars, and Mosart and Conlan did the hurling for the youngsters. It was the first practice game Grimes had pitched in this Spring.

The score by innings follows:

Batteries—Grimes, Miljus and Beyers; Mohart, Conlan and Taylor. Umpire—Mr. Miller.

MEUSEL WILL PLAY THIRD FOR YANKEES

Huggins Selects Him to Replace Baker, Who Finally Decides Not to Rejoin Club.

Special to The New York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 31.—Frank Baker, for several years star third baseman of the Yankees, has had another change of heart. He will not return to the New York Club and Huggins announced tonight that until further notice Bob Meusel, the slugging lad from the Pacific Coast, would be the club's regular third baseman.

Colonel Huston, half owner of the Yankees, saw Baker three weeks ago, and on arriving at Miami, where the Yanks were then playing the Reds, Huston said he considered it a certainty that Baker would rejoin the club. Baker then said if he could get a proper person to take care of his two motherless children he would join the club.

In a letter received today by Manager Huggins Baker said he did not think it would be right for him to leave his children so soon after the death of their mother. Since the death of the mother the children cling continually to the father, who is their sole companion.

Huggins said that it was easy to see from Baker's letter that he was loath to quit the diamond. "He still loves baseball, and loves to play baseball as much as ever," said Huggins.

"We accept this as his final word, and will not try any further to get him to rejoin the club. Perhaps, after a few months, Baker may see things differently. If he cares then to rejoin the club, he will be welcome.

"In the meantime, it is my intention to use Meusel as the regular third baseman of the club. I also am hopeful that the big fellow can step into Baker's shoes and be the same power to the club's offense as Frank was during my connection with the club. He can hit a ball as hard and as far as Baker. I also am hoping he will hit as frequently."

The Yanks spent another day in idleness and wasted a perfectly good afternoon.

Bob Rice, a young semi-professional infielder working out with the Yanks, is the first rookie who has got notice that he has been let out. He will be sent to the Springfield Club of the Eastern League.

RAIN OVERTAKES GIANTS.

Prevents Scheduled Game with Red Sox at Memphis.

Special to The New York Times.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 31.—The Giants and Red Sox rested today, not because they desired to but because the weather made baseball impossible. Rain fell here all day and the game was called off a few hours after the touring rivals reached town. Tonight the clubs move on to Jackson, Tenn., where they hope to put on a game tomorrow.

The fact that the Giants are a better all around aggregation and stronger in pitchers has robbed the series now under way of much of its attractiveness. The Giants have won six of the nine games played, taking the last four in a row. From a defensive standpoint the Sox have come fairly close to holding their own with the National League rivals, but they have been outhit by the Giants by a wide margin. To date the club batting average of the Sox is .190; that of the Giants .280.

YALE AND PENN ON RIVER.

Crews Have Practice Spins and Appear in Fine Form.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—Yale and the University of Pennsylvania crews, which open the college rowing season Saturday, took practice spins on the Schuylkill today within full view of each other. Both 'Varsity boats presented a picture of superb physical condition. The Yale first crew, seven of the members of which tower six feet or more, made a particularly strong impression. Giants in stature and pulling strongly and smoothly, the New Haven sweeps looked like at least an even money bet to win Saturday's big race.

Coach Joe Wright's Pennsylvania oarsmen, though not as rangy as their Yale rivals, are more beefy. From Stroke Carl Thomas, who is rowing his third year as Red and Blue pace setter, to Walter Ames at bow, another veteran of three years' standing, the Pennsylvania blades average 175½ pounds. Yale's average weight is 172½.

Rowing critics who watched the opposing crews in their workouts were of the opinion that the race might resolve itself into a battle between the stroke oars, Thomas of Pennsylvania and Captain Churchill Peters of Yale.

PERFECT SCORE AT SHOOT.

A perfect score of 75 won the officers' match for Major G. H. Johnson of the Twenty-second Engineers last night in the third day's shooting of the indoor tournament being conducted by the Veteran Military Rifle Association at the Twenty-second Regiment Armory. The match was open to any active officer or veteran of the National Guard of this State or of the State veteran associations, and it attracted a large field. Major Johnson hit the bull's-eye in every one of his fifteen prone shots, and led his nearest competitor by two points.

The first of the two matches of the evening was the Twenty-second Regiment match, fifteen shots prone, and the first prize went to Sergeant Lawrence Cossa of the Thirteenth Regiment Veteran Association, who scored 74 points out of a possible 75. The prizes were offered by the Defendam Association of the Twenty-second Engineers.

The summaries:

RIFLE TEAM UNDER MARK.

Columbia Gunners Fall Below Their Record for Season.

The Columbia rifle team shot its seventh intercollegiate championship match yesterday afternoon and fell fourteen points below its high mark for the season. The best the Blue and White could do was 966 targets out of 1,000, every marksman failing to live up to his past performances. R. W. Kerr led the team with 197 points out of a possible 200.

R. W. Kerr, 197; W. P. Schweitzer, 194; L. R. Condon, 193; J. F. Klenninger, 191; J. R. Twiss, 191. Total, 966.

DOWN YALE AT HANDBALL.

Columbia Players Gain Third Victory of the Season.

Columbia University's handball team vanquished the Yale court players yesterday in a dual clash in the Morningside Heights gymnasium. The Blue and White collegians captured all six matches from the Eli team, winning a quartet of singles and two doubles events. This gave the Columbia representatives their third success of the season.

Willard Fined One Dollar For Disturbing the Peace

LAWRENCE, Kan., March 31.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight pugilistic champion, was fined $1 and costs in the court of Justice R. C. Manley here today on a charge of disturbing the peace. The complaint was made by Fred Logan, a negro policeman, who testified Willard threatened him during an argument which arose when Willard in an automobile attempted to pass Logan, who was riding in a wagon.

PRIMAKOW IS OUT OF CUE TOURNEY

May Forfeit Victories and Necessitate Playoff to Decide 3-Cushion Championship.

One of the most unusual situations that has ever developed in a championship billiard tournament exists in the event being staged at Joe Thum's Academy for the national three-cushion title of the American Amateur Billiard Association. Joseph Primakow, who was generally favored to win the crown, has found it impossible to continue although he had but one more match to play. He was scheduled to play against Joseph Cosgrove last night in a game that would have decided the championship, but late last week Primakow was called to Chicago on business and he has notified John Doyle, from whose room he entered the tourney, that it will be impossible for him to return to this city in time to complete his list of games. Cosgrove was willing to agree to postpone the deciding match for any reasonable length of time, but it is understood that Primakow will be detained in the West for about two weeks, and the Executive Committee is said to be opposed to postponing the match that long.

The Executive Committee of the A. A. B. A. will meet at Thum's at 8 o'clock tonight to officially decide what action is to be taken in the matter. From a reliable source it has been learned that it has been decided to throw out all of the six games which Primakow had previously played. This means that his defeat of William Blumenthal will be wiped off the slate and Blumenthal and Cosgrove will be tied for first place, each having won five games and lost one. The committee will also set a date for the play off of this tie. Blumenthal and Cosgrove have already met once in the tournament and the game resulted in a victory for Blumenthal. It was the only defeat that Cosgrove has sustained.

TWO VICTORIES FOR SUTTON.

Veteran Defeats Appleby and Cutler in Exhibition Billiards.

George Sutton added two more to his collection of exhibition game victories at the National Recreation Academy in Brooklyn yesterday afternoon and last evening when he defeated Francis S. Appleby and Albert Cutler at 18.2 balkline. He won from Appleby by a 300 to 71 score and took Cutler's measure, 300 to 127.

Sutton seems to have completely recovered the stroke which, a few years ago, caused him to be known as the "nurse king." Both of his latest matches were featured by his nurse shots. The delicacy of his stroke and his almost faultless second ball play proved that he was at the top of his game. This was particularly true of his work against Cutler in the evening match. In this game he made a high run of 105 on his second turn at the table and averaged 37 4-8. Against Appleby his best runs were two clusters of 68 each and he averaged 21 6-14.

The scores by innings:

AFTERNOON GAME.

G. Sutton—38 2 40 27 5 4 0 68 5 68 3 15 13 12. Total, 300; average, 21 6-14; high run, 68.

F. S. Appleby—0 6 1 12 4 18 4 5 10 0 8 0 0 3. Total, 71; average, 5 1-14; high run, 18.

EVENING GAME.

G. Sutton—0 105 32 30 3 47 67 16. Total, 300; average, 37 4-8; high run, 105.

A. Cutler—0 16 45 4 20 37 5. Total, 127; average, 18 1-7; high run, 45.

CAMP HUMPHRIES WINNER.

Beats Fort Myer for Eastern Department Basket Ball Title.

Camp Humphries's basket ball team carried off the army championship of the Eastern Department yesterday when it defeated the Fort Myer quintet in the final game of the departmental tournament at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory by the score of 54 to 12. The result makes the Humphries soldiers eligible for participation in the round robin tournament which will commence shortly to decide the national military basket ball championship.

The contest was as one sided as the score indicates. The Fort Myer aggregation showed a deterioration of form as compared to its playing in the semi-final round Tuesday. The team's defense was totally inadequate for the thundering Camp Humphries' attack, and the comparatively weak defensive efforts of the vanquished quintet were unceremoniously swept aside.

Camp Humphries's representatives displayed excellent team work and individual ability as occasions demanded. In fact, in the second half there was little pretense at team work, the players giving their attention directly to the problem of outscoring each other in the team's overwhelming total of points. Hahn was the leader in point of field goals scored, annexing eight baskets for the Humphries cause, but Schrader, with six field goals and eight fouls, topped this score by four points.

The lineup:

C. HUMPHRIES (54).		FORT MYER (12.)
Schrader	R.F.	Williamson
Britton	L.F.	Hayman
Vidal	C.	Cole
Niles	L.G.	Gleason
Hahn	R.G.	Stone

Field goals—Schrader (6), Britton, Vidal (4), Niles (3), Hahn (3), Gleason, Hanson. Goals from foul—Schrader (8), Britton (2), Gleason (2).

Substitutions—Camp Humphries: Johnson for Niles; McKee for Britton; Dietrich for Hahn; Hahn for Schrader. Fort Myer: Hanson for Williamson.

To Resume Billiard Tourney.

Play in the annual 18.2 balkline billiard handicap tournament for the J. F. Poggenburg Cup will be resumed at the National Recreation Academy in Brooklyn this afternoon, when Charles White, who won the event last year, will make his first appearance. He will play George Spear. Tonight Frank W. Boyd and John Low will meet. Play in this tourney was postponed because of the series of exhibition matches being played at this academy by George Sutton.

Pete Herman Wins Bout.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 31.—Pete Herman, bantamweight champion, defeated "K. O." Joe O'Donnell of Gloucester, N. J., in an eight-round bout here tonight. Willie Jackson, New York, showed superiority all the way in an eight-round bout with Ralph Brady, Syracuse, N. Y. Jack Perry, Pittsburgh, outfought Joe Welsh, Philadelphia, substituting for Irish Patsy Cline, who is said to be ill. Sergeant Ray Smith, Camden, and Clay Turner, St. Paul, Minn., heavyweights, fought a draw.

Benny Valger Outpointed.

DRISCOLL BREAKS 500-YARD RECORD

Two American indoor records were shattered and an armory mark equalled last night on the occasion of the first annual indoor athletic meet of the Thirteenth Post, American Legion, at the Thirteenth Regiment Armory, Brooklyn. New American marks were produced for the 500-yard run and the one-and-one-eighth-mile walk. An armory figure was duplicated in a half-mile race for novices. The competition was witnessed by a crowd of more than three thousand which did credit to the record-wrecking performances with a voluminous applause which rocked the foundation of the spacious Brooklyn armory.

James W. Driscoll of Boston College, New England intercollegiate and A. A. U. quarter-mile champion, obliterated the record for the 500-yard run in one of the most spectacular races ever seen on a local board floor. The New England crack, with a sensational burst in the final sixty yards of his journey, displaced Jimmy O'Brien, the stout-hearted little Loughlin Lyceum runner, and raced away to victory over the local and Canadian quarter-mile champion by a margin of about one and a half yards. O'Brien fought with every ounce of his strength to stave off defeat but his best wasn't quite good enough against the remarkable speed burst of the New Englander. Following O'Brien came Jack Sellers of the New York A. C., local 600-yard title holder, in third position, while Elmer W. Smith, crack University of Pennsylvania middle-distancer, took up the rear of a field of four. Driscoll raced to victory in 59 1-5 seconds, displacing the previous mark of one minute, which was made in 1914 by Ted Meredith, Pennsylvania star.

Willie Plant, the Morningside A. C.'s crack walker, who holds several national titles, registered the record figures of 7:27 4-5 in capturing the one and one-eighth mile handicap walk from scratch. Plant's time performance eclipsed the mark of 7:40[illegible] made in 1883 by Frank P. (Cinders) Murray.

Plant's race was one of the greatest achievements of his career. In breaking the worsted a winner the Morningside "ped" avenged a defeat suffered recently at the hands of Joseph B. Pearman of the New York A. C., in the one mile national title test. Pearman, starting from scratch with Plant last night, trailed the Morningside walker a matter of about fifty-five yards. Frank Keiser, another wearer of the Winged M, finished third, and Teddy Neundorfer, Todd Shipyards A. A., was fourth.

E. Vander Pyle, Yale University equaled the armory mark of 2:09 in capturing the half-mile novice run.

Miss Constance Vauclain Announces Retirement from Tanbark.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—The breaking up of one of the greatest stables of show horses started today. This is the string of Miss Constance M. Vauclain, daughter of Samuel M. Vauclain, President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works. She says she is tired of showing her horses and of the work connected with maintaining the large stable at Rosemont.

Miss Vauclain will dispose of virtually the entire stable, retaining only a handful of her favorites for her own use. She has vowed never again to enter the show ring, and leaves it with the record of having been the country's leading exhibitor in 1919. She had planned to take twelve of her thirty horses to the Olympic show in June, but her recent decision has canceled this proposed trip.

Among the thoroughbreds she will retain is the redoubtable Whip, the chestnut hackney mare imported from England by Miss Vauclain some years ago. The Whip has been queen of the stable for several years, and is her owner's favorite. It has been years since the Whip entered the tanbark without carrying off the blue ribbon.

CHAMPION RICHARDS CONQUERS VOSHELL

ENTERS THE SEMI-FINALS

Tilden, Hardy and Botsford Also Remain to Contest Final Honors—Progress Made in Doubles.

Four days of play have been completed in the national indoor tennis tournament at the Seventh Regiment Armory and Vincent Richards is still champion in both singles and doubles, with only two more rounds to go in each event. Yesterday the youthful prodigy eliminated the most dangerous contender in his half of the draw by defeating S. Howard Voshell in straight sets, 8—6, 6—4 and later, with William T. Tilden, 2d, as a partner, reached the semi-finals in the doubles as well, through a pair of decisive victories.

Tilden also became a singles semi-finalist by disposing of Percy L. Kynaston, and the other two brackets were filled by Samuel Hardy and Willard Botsford, the latter springing a surprise by his defeat of G. Carlton Shafer, one of the famous veterans of indoor tennis.

Young Richards has never played better in his life than he did yesterday afternoon, and he needed all his skill, for Voshell hung on like a bulldog and was not beaten until the final point had been scored against him.

Wins on Voshell's Service.

It looked for a time as though the opening set might end before the calling of deuce games, but after trailing at 3—5 Voshell won his service and broke through for the tying game with three dazzling placement shots in a row. Richards was behind at 5—8, but evened things up with his service, and then upset his rival's delivery once more for the crucial game. It was the champion's set on service at 8—6.

Only one break was necessary in the second session, and this time it came in the fifth game, Voshell netting three low volleys as he came in. By the mere alternation of service to the finish the match went to Richards at 6—4.

Aside from his volleying errors, Voshell played a splendid game, with a distinct edge in the matter of serving. He delivered no less than nine clean aces in the first set, and forced many a weak return in addition, which went as a technical error, but was fairly well earned. If his net game had supported his serves consistently, he would have been almost unbeatable. Voshell, however, made just enough errors to lose, and Richards made practically none. More nearly perfect tennis, both as to intention and execution, has rarely been seen on any court, indoors or outdoors.

The champion accomplished the unusual feat of earning more points throughout the match than he lost through errors, and this in spite of the fact that eight double faults were scored against him, mostly as the result of foot-faulting.

Steadiness Rules.

Eliminating these double faults, Richards could fairly be charged with no more than 28 errors in the two sets, a record of extraordinary steadiness. In only two or three cases were these mistakes of the flagrant kind, one coming on a smash which was flubbed through overanxiety. The champion depended largely on his uncanny command of volleying, and repeatedly outguessed his opponent as to the direction of his shots by delaying the stroke until the last possible moment.

Voshell earned only one less point than his conqueror, and the margin of difference in the stroke analysis may be found entirely in the error column. The loser netted twice as often as Richards in the course of the match, and in the opening set he also hit nearly twice as many balls out. His total of double faults was only two, and in general his service broke down simply as the result of his erratic volleying.

The linesmanship was cruelly bad all the way, and Umpire Cunningham, in the high chair, consequently had a harder time than usual in getting his decisions straight. Both players suffered about equally in being deprived of well-earned points.

Voshell served two successive aces at the very start, and Richards showed at once that he had a very good lob up his sleeve. They split on service up to two-all, when Richards got the first break on three bad errors in succession. A double fault helped Voshell to get back the odd game and force a deuce set, but more errors at the net put him in the hole again at 6-7. Richards drew another error after his little service trick, and ended the set by smashing a high bounder from deep court to Voshell's feet.

Richards broke through again in the second set when Voshell continued to miss his volleys, and kept ahead after a long deuce game, in which he was handicapped by two double faults. The final game also went to deuce, but the champion judged his rival's shots nicely, and when two of them sailed past the base-line, the challenger's last chance evaporated.

The point score, with stroke analysis, follows:

Botsford Plays Aggressively.

Botsford's victory over Shafer was earned by a consistently aggressive game, and even the stubborn steadiness of the former runner-up did not avail against the variety of strokes that the youngster had at his command. McAllister also surprised Hardy by the strong opposition which he gave the Westerner, and for a time the regimental Captain looked like a possible winner, taking the first set handily, and coming from behind for a determined bid in the rubber. But Hardy was content to play safe, and his knowledge of court tactics eventually brought him out on top by the narrow margin of 6—4.

Tilden had everything against Kynaston, and his exhibition was brilliantly impressive. Against such accurate driving and terrific serving the Long Islander did well to score at all.

The summaries:

SINGLES—Fifth Round—Willard Botsford defeated G. Carlton Shafer, 6—3, 6—8, 9—7; William T. Tilden 2d, defeated Percy L. Kynaston, 6—2, 6—3; Vincent Richards defeated S. Howard Voshell, 8—6, 6—4; Samuel Hardy defeated Samuel R. McAllister, 3—6, 6—2, 6—4.

Third Round—Tilden and Richards defeated F. Letson and Hartman, 6—1, 6—4.

Burke Race Track Bill Is Passed by Maryland Senate

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 31.—The Burke-Janney Race Track bill was finally passed by the Senate today and now goes to the Governor. It provides for a State Racing Commission; limits the number of racing days to 100 and imposes a tax of $6,000 a day, giving the State an annual revenue of $600,000 from this source.

RACING AT BOWIE WILL OPEN TODAY

Inaugural Handicap Has a Notable Entry List—Ormonda Probable Favorite.

BOWIE, Md., March 31.—With everything in readiness, even to the removal of the last legal obstacle, the Eastern racing season will be formally ushered in here tomorrow with the opening of the Spring meeting at Bowie. This meeting, which will last thirteen days, during which time $100,000 will be distributed among horsemen, ushers in a season that holds promise of being the most successful the turf has enjoyed in many years. The feature for the opening day will be the Inaugural Handicap, a seven-furlong sprint, for which nine good performers have been named.

That racing will be heartily welcomed is evident from the enthusiasm of the followers of the sport who have gathered for the inaugural. Horsemen from all over the country have arrived in Maryland within the last few days to be present at the meeting, which will have no opposition. Already there are more than 400 horses in training at Bowie and other Maryland tracks, and the entries for the first day show that all events will be well filled. Many horsemen will give their racers a tryout here preparatory to the meetings at Havre de Grace and in Kentucky which follow.

The Inaugural Handicap will bring back to the races some high-class performers which have not been seen under colors since last Autumn, and some others which have been heard from on the Winter tracks. The top weight in this event will be carried by William Shea's fleet filly, Ormonda, which will have 117 pounds up. Ormonda has worked very well and will probably be the public choice, though there is certain to be a strong following for Monty Murphy's consistent racer, Chief, which was one of the best performers at New Orleans during the Winter season. Chief has been assigned 115 pounds for the Inaugural dash. Next in the matter of weights is Slippery Elm with 113, a horse that is always dangerous when in shape.

THREE PLAYERS TIE IN PINEHURST GOLF

Standish, Graham and Newton Record a 75 Each in First Medal-Play Round.

Special to The New York Times.

PINEHURST, N. C., March 31.—A record field of 289 golfers played the first eighteen holes of the thirty-six-hole qualifying round in the North and South amateur championship tournament at Pinehurst today, half of the great field going over Course 3 and the other half playing on the No. 2 or championship course. Tomorrow each group will be transferred. Prior to today's round the largest field that had ever taken part in this event was 250 in 1919.

The round resulted in a triple tie for the lead among Jim Standish of Detroit, Sam Graham of Greenwich and F. C. Newton of Brookline, captain of the Massachusetts State team, all three of whom finished in 75.

Francis Ouimet made a great start with an eagle three on the first hole and followed this up with a birdie three on the fourth, but his putting was not up to his usual standard and he took a 76 for the round. He just missed getting into the tie for first place when his putt rimmed the cup on the final green. Perry Adair, the young Atlanta expert, tied with Ouimet at 76. All these five leaders played the championship course today and have the greater troubles of the No. 3 course still before them.

Major A. Elliot Ranney of Greenwich turned in the best score on Course 3 today, finishing in 77 and in sixth place.

Last year the qualifying medal was won by Albert J. Mendes of Siwanoy, with a total of 160 for the thirty-six holes and 172 was good enough to qualify for the championship sixteen. Today eleven players finished in the seventies and thirty-four went around in 85 or better.

Thirty-four players finished today's round in 85 or better and comprise about the possible contenders for the championship sixteen. Their scores and the courses played follow:

SOLDIERS BATTLE FOR BOXING TITLES

Carpentier, Descamps and Biddle Referee Bouts—New Yorker Among Winners.

Georges Carpentier, his manager, Francois Descamps; Major A. J. Drexel Biddle, head of the Army, Navy and Civilian Board of Boxing Control, and Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, Commander of the Department of the East, U. S. Army, were the principal actors last night in the final matches of the two-day championship boxing tournament held at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory. The other and more exacting roles were taken by the soldier-boxers themselves, twelve fighters from camps and cantonments throughout the Department of the East.

Major Biddle refereed in no fewer than three of the bouts, Carpentier and Descamps officiated in one each, and Gen. Bullard put an official climax to the evening by presenting the trophies to the winning contestants in each class. The other two matches were in charge of the regular referee, Harry Stout of Milwaukee.

The winning doughboys in each weight were as follows: Bantamweight, Private Willie Mitchell, Fort Wright; featherweight, Private Joseph Kressner, Motor Transport Corps, New York; lightweight, Private Frank Lawrence, Camp Lee; welterweight, Private Clarence Null, Fort Wright; middleweight, Private Dominick Katarsky, Camp Dix; light heavyweight, Private James Selfstein, Fort Myer; heavyweight, Private Frank Yarchan, Camp Eustis. One of the winners, Kressner, is from New York City, and two others hailed from camps in this State.

Carpentier received probably his greatest ovation since his arrival in this country. Introduced by Announcer Joe Humphries with the proper emphasis on the military side of the Frenchman's record, the soldiers and officers that filled the armory to capacity paid their tribute to the war hero by a prolonged outburst, lasting more than a minute. The casual observer would have been led to believe that Carpentier was the idol of America rather than of France, and at the moment he probably was, especially in view of the doubtful standing of America's heavyweight champion with the fighting men of the army. The French boxer seemed to be at home in the uniformed throng and acknowledged the demonstration with a fraternal wave and handgrip.

If he expected to see some possible future rivals in action, however, Carpentier was in for a keen disappointment. The only heavyweight battle of the evening was the tamest bout of them all, the two fighters entertaining the French idol with an exhibition of wrestling and clinching that definitely eliminated either as potential aspirants for a championship. Private Frank Yarchan, of Camp Eustis, Va., finally won the judges' decision from Private Charles Garner, of Fort Wright, after six rounds.

The twelve battlers last night were the survivors of preliminary bouts held in the Eastern Department and of the semi-finals on Tuesday evening in the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory. They met in six-round contests of three-minute rounds, and the winners will represent the department in the U. S. Army championships in this city in May. Competing in this tournament will be the pick of the army boxers from three departments, Eastern, Western and Middle States, and the final victors will be the army representatives in the boxing at the Olympics.

The bout refereed by Carpentier saw a victory for a New York City soldier, Private Joseph Kressner of the Motor Transport Corps, in the featherweight final. Kressner vanquished Private Frank E. Burke of Camp Dix on decision, the New Yorker outpointing his opponent by a large margin.

The lightweight title was won by Private Frank Lawrence of Camp Lee without his appearing in the ring. He was awarded the bout on default, when it was announced that his opponent, Edward Kopinsky, had broken his hand the previous evening.

Featherweight Class, Final—Joe Kressner, Motor Transport Corps, New York, defeated Private Frank E. Burke, Camp Dix, six rounds, judges' decision.

Who Discovered RICORO?
Told by an Orchestra Leader

"....Napoleon was a great man—
Ricoro IS a great cigar!"

"Napoleon Bonaparte discovered Ricoro", laughed the orchestra leader, "or at least, that was who he was dressed like.

"It was at a magnificent masked ball at Newport, and my orchestra was furnishing the music.

"Between selections, I stepped out on to the balcony—and met Napoleon face to face!

" 'Good evening', he said, 'I have enjoyed your playing, and may I offer you a cigar worthy of your art?'

"I bowed to the compliment and lighted up. The cigar was—well—superb!

" 'Your cigars are as excellent as your disguise,' I said, 'May I ask their name?'

" 'Ricoro', he answered, 'An imported cigar masquerading under the domestic price of 2 for 27c.

"Since then, I play Ricoro through every intermission!"

Sooner or later you'll discover Ricoro.—You'll be surprised at the rare fragrant quality of Ricoro—and even more surprised at its price. Grown on the hillsides of tropic Porto Rico, the tobacco is wonderfully mild and balmy. And because Ricoro is imported, duty free, it costs as little as domestic cigars. Made in a dozen shapes and sizes—8c to 3 for 50c. Sold only in United Cigar Stores.—"Thank You!"

Printers do not wax rich because of "author's alterations"—all popular belief to the contrary notwithstanding. By a most reasonable trade custom they make an additional charge for all time consumed in making changes and corrections ordered on the author's proof. Otherwise it would be impossible to make an estimate. Not infrequently "author's corrections" take longer than the original composition. All printers—both righteous and unrighteous—keep an exact record of the time consumed in making "author's corrections."

KINGS COUNTY GAS DEFIES STATE LAW

"Go Ahead and Prosecute," Says Counsel in Reply to Nixon Order for More Service.

LEGAL COMPULSION ASKED

Civil or Criminal Proceedings to be Started Today—Company Says It Lacks Funds.

Legal proceedings will be begun today to compel the Kings County Lighting Company to comply with the order of the Public Service Commission to supply with gas all of the applicants within the district served by the company. The question of whether to prosecute the company criminally or civilly will be decided, after a conference of counsel for the commission. Under the Public Service Commission law it is a misdemeanor for a public utility company to disobey an order of the commission. District Attorney Lewis of Kings is ready to proceed against the company.

During the hearing yesterday on the company's failure to obey the order to supply gas S. F. Moran, counsel for the company, said:

"The company is doing the best it can. Our treasury is empty. There are 500 applications for gas awaiting action. Go ahead and prosecute us. The people should remember our situation when they go to the polls. Responsibility for the situation lies at the door of the city administration. It's a shame."

The company has stated frequently that an attempt to supply new demands with the present equipment would endanger the lives of the consumers unless the rates were increased. The city has protested any increase.

William Merrifield, the commission's chief gas engineer, testified the company could care for more consumers without adding to its plant. He stated it was of vital importance that the company provide for the accommodation of a large increase in its customers without delay. The area served by the company is increasing rapidly in population and realty men have complained that development work in the district has been greatly delayed because there was no assurance of a gas supply.

An application by the Brooklyn Borough Gas Company for permission to charge $1.25 a thousand cubic feet for gas was refused yesterday by the Public Service Commission despite the statement of the company that it would not be able to continue in business unless the increase were allowed. Deputy Commissioner Barrett said he would permit an increase from $1.10 to $1.15 for the remainder of the year because the company has been compelled to face extraordinary expenses. Within a short time the company will have to spend $300,000 to make necessary extensions to meet increased demands.

In recommending the 5-cent increase to Commissioner Lewis Nixon Mr. Barrett said:

"I think that in fixing a rate for the future the commission should not proceed upon the assumption that costs will remain the same in 1920 as in 1919. There is always the possibility of increased costs of labor and materials which cannot be foreseen. The Brooklyn Borough Company is enjoying the benefit of a low price for gas oil at present, but this price will continue only until Aug. 1, 1920. Then the company will have to pay more for its oil."

SHOE MACHINERY CO. ENJOINED BY COURT

ST. LOUIS, March 31.—The United Shoe Machinery Company of Massachusetts was enjoined by Judge Trieber in the United States District Court here today from enforcing any of the lease clauses in contracts made before the passage of the Clayton Anti-Trust act in 1914.

The suit, brought by the Government, charged that the company controlled 98 per cent. of the shoe machinery business of the country, and that under leases, known as restricted and unrestricted, manufacturers were required to pay prohibitive royalties on shoes made on machines rented from the company.

The Government failed in 1918 to dissolve the company under the Sherman law, after a hearing before the Supreme Court, but Judge Trieber held that this decision had no bearing on the present case, as the suit was filed before the passage of the Clayton act.

The Sherman act, the Court held, was intended to check trusts after they had become hurtful, while the Clayton law was designed to stop monopolies in their incipiency. The suit decided was instituted in 1916.

'LIAR!' YELLS LAWSON, AND IS THROWN OUT

Boston Stock Promoter Evicted from Legislative Hearing After Offer to Confess Illegal Acts.

BOSTON, March 31.—Thomas W. Lawson, stock promoter, was evicted from a legislative hearing in the State House today after he declared that a witness "lied."

Lawson previously had announced that, in order to qualify as a witness at the hearing, he would confess to his guilt on charges of illegal stock flotations pending against him, and would agree to accept such sentence as the court might impose. He demanded that he be heard.

The hearing was on a bill designed to give broader powers of supervision over stock issues to the Attorney General, which had been requested by Attorney General Allen in connection with his inquiry into recent activities in the sale of certain stocks. Lawson and ten other promoters and brokers have been arrested.

Speaker Warner of the House of Representatives announced at the hearing that none of those arrested would be allowed to testify because they would thereby be rendered immune from prosecution. Lawson jumped to his feet with the statement that he was willing to confess and would insist on being heard, and the Speaker notified him that he would be removed unless he quieted himself.

Lawson remained standing while former Senator John E. Beck of Chelsea criticised recent advertising campaigns conducted by him in the interests of his stock. When Beck introduced a pamphlet which he claimed Lawson had sent out some time ago, Lawson exclaimed "You're a liar!"

Speaker Warner ordered the Sergeant at Arms to remove Lawson, and, with the officer grasping his arm, the stock promoter put on his light-colored gloves, straightened the pink in his buttonhole, and, swinging his cane, was conducted from the hearing.

CHICAGO OFFERS RISE TO STRIKING EMPLOYES

Council Votes 10 Per Cent. Increase, but the Strikers Say That Is Not Enough.

CHICAGO, March 31.—The City Council today voted a $4,000,000 increase in the 1920 budget, to provide a 10 per cent. increase for more than 1,000 municipal employes now on strike. Aldermen said that it is now up to the strikers and those threatening to strike to accept the advance or quit their jobs permanently.

The strikers are demanding more than a 10 per cent. increase.

Discontented groups of firemen and City Hall office employes gathered in the City Hall today and their sentiment was that the proffered raise is not enough.

"Junior clerks get only $90 to $110 a month," some of the office men said. "That isn't enough to live on, even if you add a 10 per cent. increase to it."

Half of the city firemen met this afternoon and voted to resign in a body on April 7 unless their demands for a $300 increase are granted. The other half of the firemen will meet tomorrow, when the same action is expected.

The firemen are prevented by law from striking, so they have already prepared resignations and turned them over to their union officials.

Seventy-four food inspectors, who supervise the handling of the city's food supply, decided to strike today.

Collection of garbage had already ceased as the result of a strike several days ago of 200 garbage handlers.

Two hundred sewer workers were called on strike today and members of the engineers, draftsmen and architects' union announced that they were preparing to strike unless wage increases were provided.

FINE 300 DRY-LAW CULPRITS

They Plead Guilty Before Judge Mayer and Pay $5 to $75 Each.

Three hundred cases of violation of the prohibition law were disposed of yesterday by Judge Julius M. Mayer in the Federal District Court. The rapid disposition of these cases, which ordinarily would have taken about two years to try, was made possible through the acceptance of pleas of guilty offered by the defendants, who were fined from $5 to $75 each. The National Treasury was swelled to the extent of about $4,000.

The defendants, consisting of metropolitan café keepers, and hotel keepers in Port Jervis, Poughkeepsie and other Hudson River cities and towns, asserted, in nearly every instance, that they would not have supplied the stuff had they not been coaxed into doing so by the Federal agents pleading that they were sick and chilled and needed something "warm."

B. R. T. WILL SUE FOR 8-CENT FARES

Way Paved for Court Action in Application to Public Service Commission.

NIXON DENIES PERMISSION

Suit to Ask Increase on Brooklyn, Nassau, Queens, Suburban and Coney Surface Lines.

An action is to be instituted in the Supreme Court by Carl M. Owen, counsel for Lindley M. Garrison, receiver of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, for permission to charge an eight-cent fare on the Nassau Electric, the Brooklyn, Queens County & Suburban and the Coney Island & Brooklyn Railroad Companies, part of the surface line system of the B. R. T. Company. In order to establish a standing in court, an application was made yesterday to Public Service Commissioner Lewis Nixon for authority to make the increase, and it was formally refused on the ground of lack of jurisdiction.

It was explained that the object of the company was to have the rate case presented to the higher courts in such a manner as would insure a fair trial and consideration of all of the issues involved. It was stated that this had not yet been done and that the action would cover the entire ground, as far as surface railroad operation was concerned. The Court of Appeals has decided that the Public Service Commissions were without authority over fares in default of favorable action by the Board of Estimate, and the Supreme Court here has restrained the commission from hearing an application for an advance in the rate.

But Mr. Owen intimated the situation, as presented to the courts, was restricted and did not disclose all facts or all phases of the matter. He contended the commission had enough power to grant the application submitted, but Mr. Nixon replied:

"I have grave doubts whether, upon the facts as alleged in the petitions, this commission has any power or jurisdiction to determine the questions presented and to grant the relief prayed for. I think I am precluded by recent decisions of the courts from passing upon these applications."

Mr. Owen contended there were plenty of judicial decisions in fare cases which plainly indicated that the commission had sufficient power to act. He asked the commission to hear the applications, to examine witnesses and to prepare a record of the facts as developed. Such a record would be of service in any court proceedings if it tended to establish the fact that the three companies were in desperate financial straits because of insufficient income.

"I shall hold," Mr. Nixon said, "that this commission has no power or jurisdiction to grant the relief sought or to authorize any increase in fare on the railroads in question. It would therefore be useless to gather together facts to prove that the present rate of fare is unjust and unreasonable."

A formal order denying the motions of Mr. Owen was then made and a request for a rehearing was denied. This clears the way for an appeal to the courts, where an opinion will be sought on the question of the commission's power in the matter and whether the franchises providing for a five-cent fare shall be supreme.

ROCKEFELLER FINED $2.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who was appointed recently by Sheriff Knott as a member of the third panel of the Sheriff's Jury, failed to appear yesterday on the first day he was called for duty. According to the rules of the jury, the Secretary, Michael M. Rayens, fined him $2.

Mr. Rockefeller had accepted the appointment, but it was understood that he was unable to be present because of absence from the city. His father was a member of the same panel for many years, and usually appeared. The jury, called to pass on the mental condition of James J. Guild, who attended the Plattsburg camp, and who has a claim against the War Risk Board, pronounced him incompetent.

BUSINESS WORLD

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Yesterday .6¾@7 per cent. for the best names.
Tuesday ..6¾@7 per cent. for the best names.
The quotations are for six months' paper.

Silk Price Situation.

Although the big factors in the silk trade did not make large purchases of raw material at the record prices it reached, nevertheless it was found necessary to buy some of the product at over what is considered a reasonable level. As the representative of one large organization explained it, looms could not be kept idle waiting for the price of raw silk to come down, and therefore some of the largest operators had to become parties to raw silk speculation. The Fall lines now opened consequently show some increases. Sellers report, however, that the orders being taken are satisfactory.

New Sports Hats Are Striped.

The striped hat is now "top of the mode" so far as models for sports wear are concerned. It is much newer than the solid (color) effects, and promises to meet with an even better demand than the latter have enjoyed. Milan models showing two, three and more stripes of different hues are seen in small "crushable" effects, all of the stripes being very narrow. Oriental colorings are also seen in the new headgear, one model in particular showing narrow stripes in red, green, brown and yellow. Some of the new hats are made of striped wool and hemp. On white bodies there are seen fine strands of colored wool edging and narrow stripes of straw.

Found Good Orders.

To the surprise of a specialty clothing manufacturer whose salesmen have been on the road for the last two weeks, orders have been fully up to normal. With prices what they are he expected, he said, that he would be lucky to get 65 per cent. of his usual business. The line of this manufacturer consists of overcoats, raincoats and clothing specialties ranging from medium to the better grades. The results obtained in all sections compared favorably with one another. The manufacturer in question has promised himself to make no more predictions while conditions continue in an abnormal state.

Prices for Next Year.

The American branch of a large English manufacturer of woolens has received some prices for next year that do not indicate any symptoms of a price recession. One line of goods priced this season at $5 a yard will go up to $6.50 for next Spring, and there is a similar advance of $1.50 a yard placed on another line for which $6.50 is asked this season. Orders to guide the manufacturing in this country call for continued operation, which is taken to mean that the home office sees no prospect in prices falling. Six months ago, it was explained, there was a temporary slump in business in England, which seemed to have its echo in this country a month ago.

Worse Than War Conditions.

According to woolen mill representative, conditions the industry is up against now are worse than any experienced during the period of the war. He stated that for six weeks his mills received no yarn shipments, which has a great deal to do now with overdue deliveries complained of by buyers. This transportation difficulty, along with the smaller amount of work being done by the operatives, as well as the restricted production natural in making fine goods, are the excuses which the mill agents must make at present. Even though cancelations have been quite heavy, it is said that even a fair portion of the orders taken will not be delivered.

Printcloths Feature Gray Goods.

It was all printcloths again yesterday in the local market for gray goods, with 38½-inch 64-60s the stars. Not only were all the Southern spots of this construction cleaned up at 25 cents, but Eastern goods sold at that price for shipment through the next sixty days. In addition to this they brought 23½ cents for delivery as far off as August and September. Buyers again paid 33 cents for spot 39-inch 80 squares, and they also took spot 72-76s in that width at 29¼ cents. April trading was done in 39-inch 68-72s at 26 cents, and the same construction brought 25¼ cents for delivery in May and June. Aside from printcloths, the market held little of interest.

Silk Rates Come Down.

The formation of the Textile Transit Insurance Company has had the effect already of causing a drop in insurance rates charged by the regular line companies. Policies written during the last week, it was explained, have been taken by the companies at 2 and 3 cents a hundred lower than former rates. But even these reductions, it is felt, will not be as great as the mutual company operated by the silk manufacturers themselves will be able to effect. At the offices of the Silk Association of America yesterday it was stated that the new company will have its financing completed by May 15 and be ready to do business at that date. So far, $400,000 of the total stock of $525,000 has been subscribed.

Fall Silk Hosiery Does Well.

While it is said that certain lines have yet to be formally priced for the coming season, salesmen on the road with samples of high-grade silk hosiery have turned in substantial advance business. This was booked in spite of the increased prices quoted, which are said to be between 20 and 30 per cent. above those prevailing in the current season. The increases were made necessary, from all accounts, by the sharp advances in raw silk while the Spring selling season was in progress, as well as by higher labor costs and other items that went to swell the cost of production. While there has been an active business in novelty hose for the new season, so far as could be learned yesterday there is no single thing that stands out prominently in the orders taken.

Ethyl Alcohol in Demand.

An unusually heavy demand for ethyl alcohol was evident here this week, Drug and Chemical Markets will say today, at prices ranging from $8 to $9 a gallon. Bismuth preparations were advanced, owing to the higher cost of metallic bismuth. Strychnine preparations are also higher on account of the advance in nux vomica buttons. Mercury is strong and higher. Japanese refined camphor is easier and American refiners have also reduced their prices. Caustic soda weakened on reports that manufacturers were preparing to enter the market because of the high price asked by second hands. Soda ash, however, advanced slightly. Among the intermediates in demand for making colors, para-nitraniline is attracting much attention, owing to the rapid advance in price.

New Rug Prices Made Today.

Prices will be made today on Fall lines of the carpets and rugs sold through the wholesale department of W. & J. Sloane. The new figures will show advances of 10 to 15 per cent. over those made last October at the opening of the Spring season, the latter prices having remained unchanged since that time. All orders are accepted subject to the mill's ability to execute, and all goods are to be shipped as manufactured. Any unfilled orders will be canceled on Sept. 30. The production of any patterns not selling up to the expectations of the manufacturers is not guaranteed, and the right is reserved to sell all stocks of discontinued patterns, without rebate, at any time after Sept. 1. Sales terms are free on board mill, 4 per cent. discount for payment in ten days, with sixty days' dating from date of invoice, subject to approved credit. Anticipation is allowed for unexpired dating at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum. Bill of lading constitutes delivery. Except on certain specified sizes, an extra charge of 35 cents per rug is made for packing singly.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Howard A. Preston, who was formerly the Philadelphia agent for Ostrander & Co., is now representing Charles Kohlman & Co., Inc., of 38-40 Thomas Street, in that city, handling wash and white goods.

The Syndicate Trading Company, 280 Fifth Avenue, is to open a buying office in London, according to a trade report. The company already has an office in Manchester, England.

UNMUZZLED DOG LIKE DRINK AND DODO BIRD

HIS RIGHTS NOT INFRINGED

Stone Age and Eighteenth Amendment Cited as Having Nothing to Do with the Case.

Police Captain John Kelly of the Flushing district proposes to see that all dogs are muzzled according to law. Captain Kelly has issued a proclamation to the residents of Flushing, College Point, Whitestone, Bayside, Douglaston and Little Neck. It reads:

"It must be plain to every one that something must be done to abate the unmuzzled dog nuisance.

"If dogs are permitted to increase and run at large for a few more years we will have Constantinople beaten forty ways.

"I don't believe that you would really desire to rob the poor Turk of the honors that are still his.

"In the stone age the dog was man's most useful companion. He assisted in the chase, fought by the side of his master in the village wars, knowing who and when to bite.

"At that time man's intellectual superiority over the four-footed members of his household was not as noticeable as at present.

"Some people seem to think that the ordinance requiring all dogs to be muzzled is an infringement on the dog's natural rights.

"Moderate drinkers, men who are satisfied with five or six whisky sours before breakfast, feel the same way about the Eighteenth Amendment.

"Of course you will understand that the stone age and the Eighteenth amendment have nothing to do with the dog problem."

The idea is to take some of the sting (or bite) out of what is to follow. In spite of some past disappointments the author still persists in believing that the best way to govern an orderly, decent people is to get their help and good will.

"Few of you have seen the interior of a Magistrate's Court. It is our very earnest wish that you will preserve an unblemished reputation to the end of your lives and we want to help you to do it.

"But the unmuzzled dog must go the way of the dinosaur and the dodo bird. If you happen to have one (a dog, not a dinosaur or a dodo bird), procure a muzzle for him without unnecessary delay.

"You have until April 5 to comply with the ordinance. After that time, if your dog is found at large without a muzzle, neither your wealth, poverty, social or political connections or any earthly influence will save you from appearing in court."

CAPTAIN ACCUSED BY GIRL.

City College Military Instructor Held on Serious Charge.

Captain Thomas S. Bridges, an infantry officer assigned by the War Department to City College as instructor in military science, was arraigned yesterday before Magistrate Tobias in the Washington Heights Court on a serious charge made by Cora M. Tower, 16 years old, of 1,632 Amsterdam Avenue. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $2,000 bail for the Grand Jury.

The girl charged that on March 8 Captain Bridges assaulted her in the apartment of two girl friends with whom she had been living at 164 West 147th Street. She said she had met him while employed as a telephone operator and had invited him to visit her at the apartment. Testimony was given in court that the complainant had been absent from home since Feb. 20. Captain Bridges gave his age as 34 and said he was married and had one son.

PORT TIEUP THREATENED.

Terminal Workers Refused to Handle United Fruit Cargoes.

The Port and Terminal Workers, affiliated with the International Longshoremen's Association, last night served notice on the railroads that, effective at 8 o'clock this morning, they would handle no more car floats to the piers of the United Fruit Company. They are the firemen, oilers and deckhands. H. L. Joyce, Chairman of the Associated Marine Department of the Railroads, said last night that there would be a meeting this morning of the marine managers of the different railroads at which some action would be taken. He pointed out that under the law the railroads were compelled to handle freight offered by steamship companies upon which there is a through bill of lading.

Mr. Joyce regards the situation as serious, but expressed hope that some solution could be found short of tying up the port again. He confessed that he didn't know just what could be done, as the management of the United Fruit Company had declined to arbitrate its differences with the Port and Terminal Workers, whicyh is the beginning of the present complication. Pier workers of the United Fruit Company, affiliated with the International Longshoremen's Association, went out last week because of the alleged employment of non-union workers.

GUILTY OF FREIGHT FRAUD.

G. S. Dumont, Former Exporter, Sent to Tombs for Thirty Days.

Gerome S. Dumont, late managing partner of Mogensen & Co., an exporting concern now bankrupt, and Solomon Shuldiner of the United States Brokerage and Trading Company were sentenced yesterday by Federal Judge Mayer to the Tombs for thirty days and five days, respectively, on pleas of guilty to an indictment charging them with defrauding the Government. The United States Brokerage and Trading Company was fined $500. Charles E. Johnson and Robert Lowrie, formerly employes in the freight claim department of the New Jersey Central Railroad Company, each was sentenced to remain in the custody of the United States Marshal for one day.

The indictments against the accused were found last Summer on charges that the Government had been defrauded of more than $50,000,000. Dumont and Shuldiner had an agreement with the railroads to sell freight which had been damaged or gone astray in transit on a 10 per cent. commission basis and costs. It was alleged that only part of the amount realized from the sales was accounted for. Johnson and Lowrie, it was alleged, had been bribed to assist Dumont and Shuldiner in carrying through the alleged frauds. Judge Mayer said a thirty-day term in the Tombs was as severe to a man of Dumont's intelligence and standing in the community as a three-year sentence in the Atlanta Penitentiary would be to many men. Counsel for the accused men said they had paid the Government $35,000 in restitution.

LABOR PROPOSES CHANGES

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, March 31.—The second reading of the Home Rule bill was carried today by a vote 348 to 94 after a debate which alternately sounded hollow as the speakers discussed details like the meaning of dominion home rule and rose to real eloquence as they touched on passions underlying the controversy.

Sir Edward Carson and the Ulster members abstained from voting on the bill in accordance with their announced intention. The minority was composed as follows: Labor 43, Independent Liberals 20, Conservatives 24, Irish Nationalists 7. The National Democratic Party voted for the bill and the labor vote against the bill included all the labor members present with one or two exceptions.

A report is current that Ian MacPherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland, has to resign owing to ill health. Sir Hamar Greenwood and Cecil Harmsworth are mentioned as his successor.

Sir Edward Carson opened the debate and made clear Ulster's position.

"I don't believe in home rule," he said. "I believe it is fraught with disaster to both Great Britain and Ireland. There is in truth no alternative to union but separation. I will not vote for the bill, but I will do nothing to prevent it becoming law."

The Ulster leader asked the house to sweep aside the "ridiculous phraseology," which beclouded the controversy.

"Self-determination, make the world safe for democracy, make the world safe for hypocrisy," he cried. "What you are doing is to give your enemies a constitutional lever to undermine the British Empire."

Sir Edward explained why he had mitigated his opposition. He knew he would be called by his friends a traitor and a blackguard, he said, but, after all, the new bill killed the Home Rule act of 1914 and gave a Parliament for six counties. How could he bid the Belfast people get their rifles and fight for a Parliament which he could have got without fighting at all?

Sir Edward turned aside to jeer at Lord Northcliffe. Amid laughter he contrasted the attitude the editor assumed now on the extent of new Ulster with advice he gave in 1916. "He puts down all the discontent in Ireland," exclaimed Carson, "to my power over the Government. That is what he always tries to have himself, good old Northcliffe."

Then he turned on the Labor Party and asked if they were really willing to force Ulster under the power of Sinn Fein. He took occasion to attack Irish-Americans. It was not Irishmen, he asserted, who were guilty of the recent assassinations, but ill-conditioned men from the United States, who had returned and were even carrying out acts of propaganda which went on in America and which the Government had never taken the slightest trouble to answer.

"When the Ulster business was at its height," he went on, "I was warned by Scotland Yard to be careful, as six members of the Clan na Gael had left New York to assassinate me.

Once more he urged Ulster's plea to be let alone and gazing across at Devlin, the Nationalist leader made a proffer of cooperation for Ireland's sake. There was no response. He ended by saying:

"Must you always abuse Ulster? Must she even receive the abuse of malignant politicians?"

William Adamson wound up the debate for the Labor Party. He asked if there was any wonder that Sinn Fein was sweeping all Ireland like a holy war? He asked how the Prime Minister could apply the doctrine of self-determination to other countries and not to Ireland and warned the House that denial of it to the thirteen colonies had led to the establishment of the United States. He suggested two alternatives, to present a bill for dominion Home Rule or to summon a constituent Assembly elected under proportional representation.

When the Prime Minister rose to reply, the House was crowded to the doors, members were sitting on the steps of the Speaker's chair and inside the galleries, and there was evidence of far more party feeling than there has been in recent debates. He, himself, was in fine fighting form and spoke with more freedom than in discussing international or military issues.

He began by making capital out of his difficulties. No one, he said, liked his bill. That was what he had expected, he said, and the very reason why he had drafted.

He then declared that Mr. Asquith's suggestion of one Irish Parliament, with the Ulster counties to have the option to come in or stay out was impractical, and striking the table with his fist exclaimed:

"No plan acceptable to England is acceptable to Ireland, that's the fundamental fact. Let's get that into our minds."

This was in fact the key to the Premier's argument. He asked the House to concentrate on the actual conditions of affairs in Ireland and to think only of what was practical. He emphasized again and again the complete lack of accord in that country. In the face of angry interruptions from Devlin, he asserted that the Nationalist Party itself was divided and declared that a responsible Government could do nothing but think what was best for the empire at large.

The powers to be conferred on the new Legislature were ridiculed in the debate, and Lloyd George referred to the American system to answer it. He read a long list of subjects with which the Irish Parliaments could deal and said, "Go to any State in the United States and deprive it of these powers and then say they are too wretched to discuss. See what kind of a reception you would get."

In much the same vein he replied to Mr. Asquith's criticism of his proposals for an Irish council composed of delegates from both of the new Legislatures. It would have authority over all "private bills," and the Premier waxed eloquent as he enlarged on the importance of control of measures dealing with railroads, gas, electricity and water.

It was folly, he asserted, to call such gigantic powers matters of no account, and he declared that only good feeling could be promoted by co-operation in such affairs. He hoped, he said, to ultimately bring the North and South of Ireland together.

This led the Prime Minister to make one more appeal for better feeling between the two sections of Ireland. He concluded with an eloquent peroration on the future before Ireland if she would but forget her differences, blot out her memory of past wrongs and live as one country within the British Empire.

LONDON, March 31 (Associated Press).—The United States was mentioned both by Premier Lloyd George and Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, in the debate in the House of Commons today on the second reading of the Irish bill.

"I want to say this to our American friends," said the Premier, "Mr. de Valera is putting forth the same claim in exactly the same language as Mr. Jefferson Davis, and the ancestors of some of the men who voted for that motion in the Senate the other day fought to the death against conceding to the Southern States of America the very demand their descendants are supporting for Ireland. The acceptance of that demand we will never concede. It is a demand which, if persisted in, will lead to exactly the same measures of repression as in the Southern States of America. We claim nothing more than the United States claimed for themselves, and we will stand no less."

Sir Edward Carson in opening the debate, said he believed that the Irish murders were committed "not by my countrymen, but by ill-conditioned Americans," misled by Sinn Fein propaganda, which, he declared pointing to the Government, "you are doing nothing to counteract."

"Do you suppose that if I worked against the bill and it was killed and the 1914 act becomes effective I could call upon my followers to get their rifles to maintain our position in the six Ulster Counties when this bill gives us the right to control those counties?" asked Sir Edward Carson.

He declared that Mr. Asquith by his proposals for amending the 1914 measure "killed his own child," which was so distasteful to Ulster. He promised that Ulster would do the best it could under the two Parliament plan.

William Adamson, Labor Leader, said he was opposed to the bill and that his followers had adhered to this decision in a vote, but he did not outline any definite plan for a solution. He stated his personal views, which, he said, should not be confused with the view of his party, as he had not placed them before the leaders of labor. He was for one parliament with full powers for everything, except defense and foreign affairs, and for immediately calling a constituent Assembly.

Passes Second Reading 348 to 94.

The second reading of the bill was passed by 348 to 94. Those who voted against it included Mr. Asquith and his following among the Independent Liberals, including the Irish Nationalists and a few Unionists. The attendance for the vote was the largest during the present session.

Replying to criticism against the Home Rule bill Lloyd George declared that the Government had every reason to be satisfied with the course of the debate, as it had demonstrated that the Government's plan was the only one that held the field.

The difficulty of the problem, said the Premier, was that no proposals which would be acceptable to any party in this country would be accepted by any party in Ireland. If the people of Ireland were asked what plan they would accept, declared Mr. Lloyd George, they would say by an emphatic majority: "We want independence and an Irish republic."

The Premier insisted that there was no use talking about self-determination, since those who supported it must go to the full length of granting an Irish Republic.

"Self-determination," continued the Premier, "does not mean that every part of the country, which has been acting together for a hundred years, should have the right to say: 'We mean to set up a separate republic.' There must be a limit to the application of any principle; otherwise, it might be carried to every locality in every country throughout the world."

Dealing with the suggestion of John R. Clynes, Labor, for a constituent assembly, the Premier emphasized that the previous Irish convention had failed, and asked if it were likely that the assembly proposed by Mr. Clynes would be any more successful. Since any proposal which Irish opinion would by a large majority accept would not be accepted by any party in Great Britain, Mr. Lloyd George declared the Government must exercise its judgment for the United Kingdom and the whole empire in order to come to the wisest conclusion possible.

There were certain powers which might be conferred upon Ireland when she settled down to an established union and accepted partnership with the United Kingdom, said the Premier, but if they were given at the present they would only be wasted, to the harm of the union and of herself. It would be placing dangerous weapons in the hands of an infuriated people, he declared. The Premier concluded by saying he believed the bill would result in bringing about the union of the north and the south, union with Protestants and Catholics, union with Great Britain and Ireland.

William Morgan Jellett, member for Dublin University, asked Ian Macpherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland, whether the Government would be prepared to facilitate and finance a scheme of emigration for such loyalists of the south and west of Ireland as may desire to leave that part of the country through apprehension of results to themselves in the event of the Government's Irish proposals becoming operative, and to compensate them for their losses.

Mr. Macpherson replied that he hoped such a contingency would not arise, but if it did it would have to receive grave consideration.

Alsace-Lorraine Workers in Several Trades Strike

METZ, Alsace-Lorraine, March 31 (Havas).—The railway employes of Alsace and Lorraine today determined to stop work tomorrow, their demands for increased wages having been refused.

The mechanics, miners and metal workers, whose unions are affiliated with the General Federation of Labor, also will cease work tomorrow. The managements of the coal and iron mines and the blast furnaces have made no reply to the men's demands for increased wages and the workers decided to quit their tasks.

HUNDRED SINN FEINERS BLOW UP BARRACKS

Two Policemen Are Wounded at Durras During a Sharp Combat.

SKIBBEREEN, County Cork, Ireland, March 31.—More than 100 armed men attacked the police barracks at Durrus, seven miles southwest of Bantry, County Cork, with rifles and petrol bombs last night. A portion of the building was blown up and two policemen were wounded, one seriously.

After a fierce fight the raiders, some of whom are believed to have been wounded, were driven off.

SOVIET OFFERS ARMY TO 'LIBERATE' CHINA

TO DENOUNCE ALL TREATIES

Also to Turn Over Great Russian Factories at Hankow—Seeks to Bolshevize Nation.

LONDON, March 31.—A despatch to the London Times from Peking dated March 29 says the Chinese Government has received a message from the Moscow Soviet through Commissary Jansen at Irkutsk announcing that a Red army is marching east to succor the workmen and peasants in Siberia from the "Brigands Kolchak, Semenoff, Horvath and their Japanese allies and establish everlasting peace."

The communication expresses horror at the crimes committed against China and undertakes to annul all treaties and renounce all privileges improperly acquired from China.

China is urged in the communication to resume negotiations for the restoration of the Chinese Eastern Railway, the cancellation of the protocol of 1901, and the extra territorial rights hitherto enjoyed by the Russians, and the renunciation of the "Boxer" indemnity, the privileges of orthodox missionaries and mining rights.

The dispatch says the Soviet also offers to hand over to China without charge the great Russian tea factories at Hankow. The only condition made is that the people of China have complete freedom to determine their own system of Government.

The message, the dispatch declares, vaguely indicates that the services of the Red army will be available to deliver China from foreign imperialistic and capitalistic ambitions.

The correspondent says there is no doubt that everything offered will be accepted by China. The Bolsheviki, he adds, have succeeded in establishing themselves in the good graces of the Chinese and the future between them promises to be full of harmony.

JAPANESE LOSE HEAVILY IN FIGHTING IN SIBERIA

Russians Said to Have Wrecked Consulate at Nikolaevsk—Consul Missing.

HONOLULU, March 31.—(Associated Press.)—Severe losses have been suffered by a portion of the Japanese troops stationed near Nikolaevsk, Siberia, in a battle with Russian forces, says a Tokio cablegram to the Nippu Jiji, a Japanese newspaper here. The cablegram quoted delayed dispatches from Japanese military headquarters in Siberia as its authority.

The cablegram said the fighting began on March 18, and continued two days, but gave no estimate of casualties or the number of troops involved.

According to the advices, the Russians destroyed the Japanese Consulate at Nikolaevsk during the fighting and the fate of the Consul, Mr. Ishida, is unknown.

CHAMBER INDORSES NITTI'S POLICIES

Premier Says Italy Wants No Turkish Territory and Is No Vassal of England.

ROME, March 31.—Following a discussion of the general policy of the Government, the Italian Chamber of Deputies last night gave the Cabinet a vote of confidence, the result being 250 to 195.

Before the question of confidence was put to a ballot, Premier Nitti made a statement in answer to various speakers in which he said he felt that he was far away from the Socialists, but equally far—and indeed still further—away from those suggesting a reactionary policy or the application of the law in a rigorous and provocative manner.

"In all its acts the Government is the spirit and not the letter of the law," the Premier said. "I am the faithful servant of the King and of the Constitution, but I must not give the impression that the laws are directed against the people. If the laws were to be applied as the Rome Conservative Deputies have suggested, we should be compelled to have recourse to violence, keeping the country in a continual state of rebellion."

The Government, Signor Nitti added, was anxious to avoid conflicts which would be extremely sanguinary.

Regarding emigration, the Premier said the Government was only aiming to direct it in the best manner to countries where the emigrants would have work assured them and protection guaranteed. The Government did not favor emigration, he continued, but it was inevitable, considering that the yearly difference between births and deaths amounted to 500,000. Emigration to the United States was out of the question because labor was not needed there. Brazil desired peasants and workmen, but no engagement had yet been taken with that Government on the subject with the exception of negotiations for a labor treaty.

"All of us foresee that our emigration will direct itself toward Brazil," the Premier asserted, "which is fifty times larger than Italy. Germany foresees the same thing."

Premier Nitti said he believed Italy must go through two or three years of very hard trials, but would emerge triumphant eventually.

BLACKJACKED BY ROBBERS.

Two Men Assaulted on Lower East Side in Early Morning.

Two men were assaulted with blackjacks and robbed within a few blocks at the same time early yesterday morning on the lower east side. Isaac Silver, 50 years old, an auctioneer, of 400 Sixth Street, was attacked by two men as he was walking through Sixth Street, at First Avenue, on his way to his home about 2 o'clock in the morning, dragged into a nearby hallway and robbed of a diamond ring valued at $250. When the men seized him he attempted to fight them off, but one of them struck him on the head with a blackjack, cutting his scalp and causing concussion of the brain. Silver was removed to Bellevue Hospital. The robbers escaped.

A few minutes later Fred Hourse, 32 years old, of 274 East Fourth Street, was passing Avenue A and Houston Street when two roughly dressed men confronted him and ordered him to throw his hands up. He refused to do so, and one of the men struck him on the head with a blackjack. While he lay unconscious on the sidewalk the holdup men took $20 from his pockets. Dr. Forsythe was summoned from Bellevue Hospital to put several stitches in Hourse's head.

Brig. Gen. Andrews Decorated.

Brig. Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, retired, who commanded a brigade of the 86th Division during the war, has been made an officer of the French Legion of Honor and a Commander of the Order of the Crown of Italy, it was announced at Governors Island yesterday. Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, commander of the Eastern Department, presented the decorations on behalf of the French and Italian Governments.

More Political Riots in Mexico City; Killing or Wounding of Bonillas Rumored

LAREDO, Tex., March 31.—One policeman was killed and another seriously wounded Monday night at a suburb of Mexico City, in frustrating what is asserted to have been an attempt to kidnap Ygnacio Bonillas, former Mexican Ambassador to Washington and now a Presidential candidate, according to the Porvenir, a newspaper of Monterey, Mexico.

An automobile bearing Senor Bonillas was attacked, the newspaper declares, 'but the police guard fired at the assailants, dispersing them." When nearing Mexico City, the account continues, an automobile without lights ran into Bonillas's motor, but he escaped. In the resultant fight between guards and the assailants one policeman was killed and another injured.

General Panfilo Natera and other military officers near the scene offered their services in pursuing the assailants, the newspaper says, but "soon after they (the officers) were arrested because they could not explain their presence near the scene of the attack." Several "important politicians are reported to have been arrested because of the affair," the newspaper adds.

There was no information available here regarding a report that Senor Bonillas had been killed in a disturbance in Mexico City yesterday.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 31.—Ygnacio Bonillas, Mexican Ambassador to the United States and a candidate for the Mexican Presidency, was wounded yesterday in rioting in Mexico City, according to a wireless dispatch from the Mexican capital picked up by the Fort McIntosh station. The report, it was said today, did not state the extent of Señor Bonillas's injury.

BOGUS STOCK SELLER GETS PRISON TERM

KIDNAPPED HIS STEPSON

Tried on Charge Arising from Selling Alleged Letter of Grover Cleveland.

Earl Victor Broughton von Brandenburg, a "free lance" writer under the nom de plume of "Broughton Brandenburg," who was convicted of selling stock in a mythical mine, was sentenced to serve three years and six months in Sing Sing Prison by Judge Crain in General Sessions yesterday. After the sentence Judge Crain granted a certificate of reasonable doubt on the motion of R. L. Moore, attorney for Brandenburg. He was released in bail of $7,500 pending appeal.

Although the indictment charged specifically that Brandenburg had swindled William A. Thurnholst, a marine engineer, by selling him worthless stock for $100, the prosecution alleged that the public had lost thousands of dollars through Brandenburg's operations, which were ended when the police raided his office in the utpown hotel, where he was engaged in the promotion of the "New Methods Moulding and Metals Company."

In out of town advertisements and circulars this concern was represented as the owner of an alleged asbestos mine at Tompkinsville, S. I. It was also hinted that gems of several kinds were likely to be found in the proximity of this mine. The mine was supposed to be on Pavilion Hill. This property was actually owned by William A. Maxwell, who, returning from a Western trip, found that some one had dug a big hole in his property and had photographed a group near the shaft, who purported to be the mine operators and investors. Maxwell was a witness for the District Attorney.

In 1908 Brandenburg was tried on a charge of grand larceny, based on a bogus political story purporting to have been written by Grover Cleveland and sold to THE NEW YORK TIMES. The article was made to appear as among the last of the letters of the President and bore his name, but Mrs. Cleveland and other executors of the Cleveland estate pronounced the signature a forgery. A jury acquitted him of this charge.

Brandenburg was arrested here and convicted in St. Louis of kidnapping his stepson, J. S. Cabane, Jr., and ordered to pay a fine of $500. On March 3, 1911, he was sentenced by Judge Swann, in General Sessions, to serve from two to four years in Sing Sing Prison for forging the name of Doubleday, Page & Co. to a check for $50. This charge against Brandenburg was made by Hugh J. Logan, a newspaper reporter, who had cashed the check.

BOY ADRIFT FOR 30 HOURS.

Arthur Gans of Perth Amboy Has Trip to Sea and Back.

Adrift alone all night in a canoe on the Atlantic Ocean, most of the time without a paddle, Arthur Gano, nine years old, of 337 Madison Avenue, Perth Amboy, was picked up yesterday on the sands of Rockaway Point, exhausted and numb with cold.

The boy told a story the police thought incredible. Early on Tuesday morning, said the youngster, he and two companions broke into a shack in Perth Amboy where canoes were stored. Each boy took a canoe and started on a ride along the Perth Amboy water front.

After they rounded the Kill van Kull, separating Staten Island and Perth Amboy, the canoes became separated. The Gano boy went on alone, losing sight of his two companions whose names he did not remember. A swell caused by a passing vessel wrenched the paddle out of his hand and the frail shell nearly upset. The canoe drifted out into the ocean.

Darkness came and the boy became drowsy and fell asleep. When he awoke the sky was still dark. He did not know how long he slept. He found nothing to eat or drink. The only things in the canoe were an American flag, a rusty revolver, a safety razor and some chalk. During the night the boy had wrapped the flag about him.

There was a good tide flowing toward Rockaway Point, and the canoe drifted slowly toward the Long Island shore. The boy again tried to sleep, but was unable to close his eyes. Finally the sun came up and Arthur saw the outline of Rockaway Point becoming clearer.

The current bore the canoe to the beach and as it grated on the sand the boy dragged himself ashore. He was found by John Kennedy, owner of a hotel at the "Point." The police estimated the boy was adrift thirty hours..

After a warm supper, Arthur was taken to the rooms of the Children's Society in Brooklyn and his mother was notified. She started from Perth Amboy for Brooklyn immediately.

DANISH KING BARS LABOR COMPROMISE

PEOPLE ARE HOARDING FOOD

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, March 31.—A meeting of the Socialist unions today ended with the declaration of a general strike beginning next Tuesday. The feeling, however, was not unanimous, and it is evident that the leaders think their ground unsafe.

Workmen at several places have declared against the strike on the ground that the question of the Zahle Cabinet is not worth it.

The decision not to start the strike before Tuesday seems to have been taken in the hope that something may turn up in the meantime to make it unnecessary.

The "Business Cabinet" of Liebe, now officially appointed, declared in a proclamation that it will only remain in office only until the new election are over.

In the meantime the radical Socialists are doing their utmost to excite the people, crying that there is a coup. Other elements hold that the Kink has acted strictly according to the fundamental law.

All parties except the radical Socialists have issued proclamations to the voters urging them to stand loyal to the King and the new Cabinet. The King goes out alone every morning for a horseback ride and yesterday and today he was greeted cordially by the population.

COPENHAGEN, March 31 (Associated Press).—A general strike will go into effect throughout Denmark next Tuesday, following the rejection by King Christian and the new Ministry of an offer by the trades unions to compromise the political crisis if the Rigsdag were convened immediately.

The strike was declared by the Trade Union Congress.

The water, gas and electric services alone are excepted in the general strike order. A member of the trades union executive body said that the strike would include the postal service. It was opposed by the Syndicalists, who declared that it would be useless to strike merely for the purpose of "reinstating political frauds."

All classes of the population are hoarding food, petroleum, candles and water. No serious trouble has developed yet, as the police have been able to disperse hostile street crowds.

In a conversation held with former Minister Stauning, the Socialist leader, King Christian is quoted as having said:

"If you come back with a Socialist majority from the election I will have a Socialist Ministry, and you will see that we will work excellently together."

The Liebe Ministry has issued an appeal to the population, saying that it will resign as soon as the elections are over and the new Rigsdag has met.

The National Tidende learns that the Rigsdag will be dissolved April 22 and that new elections will follow.

The coup of the King has been received with enthusiasm in Flensburg, and it is rumored here that an illustrious Dane used his influence to postpone the decision of the International Commission with regard to Flensburg, which otherwise would have reached Paris last Monday.

While the parties which hitherto have been in the opposition indorsed the King's action and approved the new Ministry, the radical party has issued a proclamation alleging that the new Ministry's real business is to alter the policy with regard to Slesvig previously followed by Parliament and the Government.

"When Parliament is dissolved," says the proclamation, "the Ministry will be without a mandate from any one, and it will be misusing the irresponsible royal power to pursue a policy the aim of which is the annexation of Flensburg, even though this aim for the present is concealed behind plans for the internationalization of the town and its hinterland."

BELIEVES MARS SIGNALED.

Flammarion Also Thinks Sun Storms May Agitate Men.

PARIS, March 31.—Belief that the strange signals picked up by wireless stations recently come from the planet Mars is expressed by Camille Flammarion, the famous astronomer.

He thinks that interstellar communication may yet be realized, but is inclined to believe it will be accomplished by the use of some magnetic force which is not yet developed.

"Since the signals appear to be regular," he says, "it is improbable that they come from the sun, although our great luminary is displaying prodigious activity. It is possible, however, that the present chaotic conditions on earth may be traced to solar storms, which may have a reactive effect on the earth and the minds of men."

MUELLER YIELDING ON RUHR DEMANDS

HOPES FOR QUICK PEACE

By GEORGE RENWICK.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, March 31.—The gruff ultimatum to the Ruhr rebels brought all Socialist parties together, and at a meeting yesterday of the Majority and Independent Socialist Parties, the Communist Party, trades union representatives and delegates from the Ruhr region, Silesia, Saxony and South Germany, it was decided to proclaim a general strike in Berlin unless the Bielefeld arrangement was adhered to, and unless all military dispositions and orders were cancelled, and unless General von Watter was recalled, all to be done within forty-eight hours. There would also be a general strike in the Rhineland, in Westphalia, in the Frankfort region and in Silesia.

The situation today is greatly improved. The trade unions and Socialist Parties declare they have not gone so far as to consider the resumption of a general strike here. Indeed, it is not necessary, for the Government has yielded to a satisfactory extent. It is believed an agreement will be adopted by it and carried out within the prescribed time.

Though General Watter has not been recalled he has received orders not to advance into the industrial region. The latest reports today show the general position there is not so serious. The strike has not become general or even widespread and hopes are entertained in labor circles here that normal conditions will quickly restored.

BERLIN, March 31.—(Associated Press.)—The situation in the Ruhr district was regarded somewhat more hopefully today in parliamentary circles, where it was reported that the Red Army was breaking up.

A Düsseldorf dispatch to the Vossische Zeitung says it was announced at a meeting of the officials of the three Socialist parties that each town in the Rhenish Westphalian industrial region had sent representatives to Münster to confer with the Commanding General and Commissioner Severing and had decided to await the result of the conference before calling a general strike.

COBLENZ, March 31 (Associated Press).—Reliable information received here from the Ruhr region says the Workers' Council at Hagen and Düsseldorf will accept the conditions of the Government. Several local railway organizations in the district have declared a strike against the Reds and will take up their work again when the Government is in control.

The Reichswehr advance, which is reported to have commenced at noon along the line of Ludinghausen-Hamm, was progressing slowly this afternoon. An advance on other lines is scheduled for Thursday and Friday.

BUDERICH, Rhenish Prussia, March 31 (Associated Press).—The Reichswehr have advanced eastward and southward, and have occupied Hüxe, Haltern and Achman. The Spartacides lost three guns in the fighting.

THE HAGUE, March 31.—The Münster (Ebert) Government, in a communication issued today, says:

"Soldiers still are being held prisoners at Elberfeld and Essen. Some of them have been badly treated. At Herne the radicals took the Town Hall and dismissed the Laborers' Council. At Elberfeld armed rebels compelled the workers in factories to strike.

"Discord between the Spartacan parties is increasing.

Hope for Peace in Essen.

ESSEN, March 31 (Associated Press).—Hope for the ultimate peaceable settlement of the troubles in the Ruhr district was strengthened this morning by the receipt at the Central Committee headquarters of the news from Berlin that the three Socialist parties and the trade unions had demanded that the Government compromise with the workers.

The general strike is still in effect here. There was an attempt today to operate the street cars, but the running of these conveyances was soon stopped.

The railroad men here, it is understood, are becoming restless, and it seems not unlikely that some trains will be run shortly.

ESSEN IN TOUCH WITH MOSCOW

Wireless Communication Between Ruhr Reds and Lenin Army Also.

THE HAGUE, March 31.—The Red Central Council at Essen, according to the Berlin Tageblatt's correspondent there, has been in wireless communication since Friday with the Soviet at Moscow and the Belshevist commander of the troops in Russia fighting against Poland.

RAILROAD BRAKEMEN VOTE TO WALK OUT

But Union Official Declares Rock Island Men Cannot Speak for the Brotherhood.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 31.—A strike effective next Sunday evening, April 4, has been voted by brakemen on the entire system of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, it was announced today by W. D. Jackson, State Chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of Arkansas.

CHICAGO, March 31.—A. F. Whitney, Vice President of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said today that W. D. Jackson of Little Rock had no authority to speak for the brotherhood, with which the brakemen of the Rock Island system are affiliated, and no strike had been voted.

Daylight Saving Up to Gov. Coolidge

BOSTON, March 31.—The State Senate late today passed, to be engrossed by a voice vote, a bill which would provide for daylight saving in Massachusetts, beginning the last Sunday in April. The bill had previously passed the House. Governor Coolidge is not expected to act upon it before next week.

Bar Speculative Borrowing From Banks in House Bill

WASHINGTON, March 31.—A bill designed to stop "speculative borrowing" from Federal Reserve banks was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

The bill is in the form of an amendment to the Federal Reserve act, and under it each Federal Reserve bank would be given control of rediscount rates and the volume of rediscounting by its member banks.

In presenting the measure the Banking and Currency Committee contended that legislation was needed to check abnormal rediscounting and general expansion of credits.

RED ARMY RALLIES AFTER BIG DEFEAT

REBELS EXCEED 100,000

But Comparison of Opposing Forces Shows "Armed Workers" Have No Chance to Win.

By LEONARD SPRAY.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MUENSTER, Westphalia, March 31.—Here in the capital of Westphalia, fifty miles away from Essen, which lies to the southwest, and nearly as many from Wesel on the Rhine, about midway between Essen and the Dutch frontier, there is still talk of an armistice, but despite all attempts to secure a peaceful settlement Germany's civil war is still raging. I have just traveled hither through the night from a visit to the front on the Government side. Late last evening a brisk artillery fire was going on. Both light and heavy guns were in action, though the position is very confused.

It seems clear enough that the Red Army rallied after its defeat near Wesel two days ago, though it failed to retake the ground which was then wrested from it by the Government troops.

At headquarters I was officially informed the Government now has at its disposal about 75,000 men, including one cavalry division and reinforcements of Bavarian and Württemberg regiments. At present the front extends from Wesel eastward for a distance of seventy-five miles, that is into the heart of Westphalia, south and southeast of Muenster. According to the estimate given me by a Government staff officer the Reds number well over 100,000 and have a certain amount of artillery, including heavy guns.

Expects More Fighting.

"I hear," he said, "there is bound to be heavy fighting, because, although the Red leaders seem desirous of submitting, a large number of extremists refuse to yield."

As evidence that the Reds are in possession of artillery the same authority said a 21-centimetre gun had been captured from them and a battery of six light guns was destroyed in an airplane bomb attack.

Motoring from Münster toward the front in the afternoon I heard the first sound of firing when approaching Wesel which town, however, is now beyond the range of the Red guns as they have been pushed back toward Dinslaken, which is midway between Wesel and Essen and about eight miles from either.

Going over the scene of this fighting I saw marks of the severe combat. The Red gunners had greatly damaged a factory on the borders of the town. One direct hit had carried away a high chimney. Here and there houses were practically destroyed by shell fire and others which bore scores of shrapnel dents. Empty shell cases littered the roadsides and at one point I passed the body of Red fighters still unburied.

I found the last Government post at a machine-gun emplacement just beyond Frederichsfeld, where there is a huge camp used during the war for prisoners from the western front. About half a mile distant were the opposing red outposts, and intermittent machine-gun fire was being exchanged.

The return journey was dramatically interrupted near Haltern, midway between the Wesel Dinslaken front and Münster. My car was held up and searched, as also was I myself searched for arms. There were other signs at this point of the front of considerable tension. A heavy gun was roaring not far away, strong patrols armed with rifles and hand grenades and wearing steel helmets were moving warily. Conditions had become much sharper since morning and the front line was in such close proximity that to try to proceed further along this direct road into Münster involved the certainty of coming under rifle fire. A wide detour northward had to be made in order to reach Münster. This town itself, however, is officially stated to be very strongly garrisoned and beyond the possibility of a serious Red threat. The sight of Government forces and dispositions afforded a tremendous contrast with the scene and conditions on the other side of the firing line. This whole district is organized as an armed camp. Units are composed entirely of seasoned fighters, equipped with all means of warfare, including armored cars.

There is no such confusion reigning as was seen among the Red army when I saw the latter in the field a few days ago. Intermingled with a large number of former soldiers in the Red army where thousands of boys, not to speak of the hundreds of girls and amateur nurses, so many of the latter in fact, that the force might have been called not the Red army but the Red Cross army. Therefore, notwithstanding the Red army's momentary rally and numerical superiority, the impression is strengthened by a view of the opposing Government troops that "the armed workers'" force is bound to crumble before any real assault and the present obstinate resistance is tragic madness.

Cox Calls Conference to Curb Rents.

COLUMBUS, March 31.—Governor Cox today called a meeting of City Solicitors of the State and the State Attorney General to meet here Thursday, and to combat increasing rents. Included in the many complaints made to the Governor are reports of transfers of tenement properties at highly fictitious prices, for the purpose of making basic cause for increased rentals. It is expected that some means will be evolved to handle the situation without calling a special session of the Legislature.

GUNMAN MURDERED ASLEEP WITH WIFE

ONE BULLET WOUNDS WIFE

WEST SIDE THIEF KILLED

Gang Leader Shot Dead in Taxicab After Stealing Bread and Milk.

The murder of Dennis L. Meehan, described by the police as "the most desperate gang leader in Brooklyn"; the shooting and killing of "Red Dan" Houlihan, a youthful gunman, as he and three unidentified companions were fleeing in a taxicab from a policeman in the Greenwich Village section on the lower west side, and several holdups and assaults of citizens with blackjacks were outstanding criminal incidents yesterday.

Meehan was shot through the head and killed yesterday afternoon as he slept beside his wife, Sadie, in their home on the third floor of 452 Warren Street, in the Red Hook section of Brooklyn, by one of five gunmen who fired five shots at the sleeping couple. The bullet passed through the head of the gang leader, and then lodged in the shoulder of his wife, who was removed to the Brooklyn Hospital in a serious condition.

The shooting of Meehan is believed by the police to be the outcome of the gang leader's activity in supplying strike breakers to take the places of employes of the United Fruit Company on piers along the Hudson and East Rivers who recently walked out when their demands for more pay were refused. The police also believe an element of revenge entered into the killing, for Meehan was suspected by members of his own band of criminals of having "double-crossed" a confederate, now awaiting sentence, when they were on trial last week before Judge Aspinwall in the Kings County Court. Meehan was acquitted of a robbery charge, but his fellow defendant, Edward Gilchrist of 23 Bridge Street, Brooklyn, was convicted and is to be sentenced next Monday.

West Side Gangster Shot.

"Red Dan" Houlihan, a member of the notorious "Gopher" gang on the lower west side, was killed by Policeman Abraham Martling of the Charles Street Station, after the policeman detected him and his three companions in the act of stealing two bags of bread and three cans of milk from in front of the grocery store of Herman Kulick at 581 Hudson Street at 5 o'clock in the morning. The policeman fired two shots at the youths as they were escaping from him in the taxicab, but it was not until "Red Dan" was found dead in the abandoned taxicab at Sixth Avenue and Thirteenth Street an hour later, that the policeman knew that any of his shots had found a mark.

"Dinnie" Meehan, as the dead Brooklyn gang leader was more familiarly called, was awaiting trial on three indictments when he was shot to death. One of them charged him with participating in the holdup of a man at 5,601 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, and he was under $5,000 bail on that charge. Another indictment charged him with being the leader of a band of thieves who stole an automobile truck containing 24 cases of shoes valued at $10,000 from in front of the factory of Hanan & Son, at Bridge and Water Streets, Brooklyn, and the third indictment accused him of having directed the theft of $10,000 worth of silk from a warehouse in the Red Hook section of Brooklyn.

Murderers Push Child Aside.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Rose Leighton, mother of Mrs. Meehan, was dozing in a chair in the kitchen, adjoining the bedroom of her son-in-law. Over near the stove, on the side of the room and within four feet of the door leading to his parents' bedroom, her grandson was playing with an improvised hobbyhorse. The door leading from the hall outside the Meehan apartment was closed, and neither Mrs. Leighton nor the child knew that five men were in the apartment until the leader of the murder band attempted to step over young Dennison on his way to the room occupied by the sleeping couple.

"Don't go in there," admonished the boy. "My papa and mama are asleep, and you'll wake them."

"No we won't," said the leader of the five gunmen, as he playfully patted the little fellow on the head, "we just want to look in."

The boy started to run into the room ahead of the five men, when one of them gently pushed him aside and told him not to make a noise or he'd displease his parents. Mrs. Leighton continued to sleep during the brief conversation between the gunmen and the child, and before the boy could arouse her there was a volley of pistol shots in the bedroom, followed almost immediately by the screams of Mrs. Meehan. Her mother jumped out of her chair and started to run toward her daughter's room, when the five men came hurrying out of the bedroom, and before Mrs. Leighton could get a good look at them they bolted through the door leading to the hall and disappeared down the stairs.

Frank Giordano and Alexander Campbell, tenants in the house, were standing at the entrance to the building when the five gunmen jumped off an automobile truck. As the men passed into the hallway of the building they smilingly commented on the weather. It was not until they had escaped in the automobile truck, however, that the two tenants knew that they had called to kill the gang leader, and then they informed the police that one of the men had driven the automobile truck through Warren Street, and disappeared through Nevins Street.

Victim Had Many Enemies.

Captain Coughlan, head of the Brooklyn Detective Bureau, said that Meehan was known to be a marked man among criminals along the Brooklyn waterfront, and for a long time the police expected to hear of his being killed for the shooting and killing of Chris Maroney, a leader of a band of criminals who made their rendezvous in the Navy Yard section of Brooklyn. Meehan was arrested seven years ago for the shooting of Maroney, and after a sensational trial, he was acquitted. He had previously served time in Elmira Reformatory, the Penitentiary on Blackwell's Island and the Workhouse, but it was his boast that he never would be sent to State's prison.

"Meehan unquestionably was the worst criminal in Brooklyn," declared Captain Coughlin. "He was feared by other criminals, for it was commonly known among them that he never threatened to harm a man unless he was prepared to make good. We expect to arrest his murderers, because he had so many enemies in the underworld in Brooklyn, the identity of the men who participated in his murder soon will become known."

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Professional Dealings Advance Particular Stocks—Stutz Motor Dealings Halted.

The general trend of the stock market was toward higher levels in yesterday's dealings, marked by irregularity disclosed in quick changes of the price front. The calibre of transactions was hardly of a sort, however, to persuade anybody except seekers for quick profits that new influences were at work. Professional traders found that motor, sugar, some steel and the express company shares, together with a number of specialties could be lifted by a little buying and these were the prominent issues throughout the session. In quarters where the cumulative cost of carrying stocks on margin with high money rates is a guiding factor there was little practical interest in the market. Call money went higher than the day before, moving from 8 to 12 per cent. This demonstration of continued tightness of demand loans evidently had connection with the large interest and dividend payments due today.

The unpleasant market situation of Stutz Motor shares came into particular prominence, and the decision by the Stock Exchange to suspend dealings in them indefinitely contains possibilities of dramatic moment to the short interest. It was clear enough before noon that offerings of the stock had practically disappeared and the Governors acted through a morotorium to protect those speculators who had worked themselves into an untenable position. A single group was found to own more stock and contracts for delivery of stock than the full outstanding Stutz shares. The ruling prevents Stock Exchange members from participating in further dealings in Stutz stock until the ban is lifted, which suggests that the functions of the Exchange will be denied owners of long sock as well as the short account, presupposing that dealings may spring up elsewhere if ways are found to avoid but not technically break the rule. The manner in which the deadlock will be terminated may not be predicted, but the episode promises to have unfortunate developments before it is completed. The question may be raised whether or not the Stock Exchange is free from criticism in permitting the listing of stocks which are not sufficiently distributed to prevent so tight a corner as the one developed in Stutz Motors. In the light of his experience it might also be asked whether other stock issues, of corporations formed in the last year or two, which were rapidly added to the trading list in the last few months are divided among a number of holders large enough to insure free dealings.

News that more gold was on the way from London had a stimulating effect on sterling exchange, the check rate swinging upward 4¾ cents to 3.90¼. The full gain was around 6 cents to the pound, a late reaction carrying the edge off the rise. The Street expects that at least $10,000,000 more gold will arrive in the next ten days, possibly more. French and Belgian rates also moved upward after several days of declining movements. The influences which have swayed francs and lire during the last fortnight cannot be set apart from those behind sterling, owing to uncertainty in regard to financial transactions among England, France and Italy. At times when sterling has risen rapidly the others were falling, suggesting sales of francs and lire for the purpose of converting the proceeds into pounds. Owing to the expectation that France and Italy will utilize part of their latest loans to retire outstanding currency notes, there may be reflection sooner or later of such a development in the exchanges.

Suit Against Island Oil Co.

The Eastern Potash Corporation has issued a circular letter to bondholders and stockholders of the Raritan Refining Corporation and its own stockholders announcing the beginning of an action against the Island Oil and Transport Corporation for $5,800,000 damages for alleged breach of contract. The action was started by the Raritan Refining Corporation in the Eastern District of Virginia following a dispute over a contract made in May, 1919. The letter states that both the Raritan Company and the Eastern Potash Corporation have made other arrangments to obtain their oil requirements.

BLAIR AND SALOMON COMPANIES MERGED

Banking Houses Will Operate as Blair & Company, Inc., Under New Charter.

CAPITAL OF $30,000,000

Stock to be Held by Officers and Directors—C. Ledyard Blair Will Be Chairman.

The banking firms of Blair & Co. and William Salomon & Co., have been merged, and their joint business will be conducted after this week under the name of Blair & Co., Inc. The new concern has an authorized capital of $20,000,000 preferred 6 per cent. stock, and $10,000,000 common stock, all of the shares to be held by the Directors and officers of the corporation. The partners of both firms will be affiliated with Blair & Co., Inc. C. Ledyard Blair will become Chairman of the Board of Directors, and Elisha Walker, of William Solomon & Co., will be the President.

Directors include members of the old organizations, with several additions. The latter include James C. Brady, Harry Bronner, formerly a partner of Hallgarten & Co.; Frank C. Armstrong, George Armsby, J. Cheever Cowdin and Dunlevy Milbank. The complete list of Directors will be Messrs. Blair, Walker, Armsby, Armstrong, Brady, Bronner, Cowdin and Milbank and William Braden, John B. Dennis, Heman Gifford, Edward F. Hayes, Clarence Lewis, George N. Lindsay, Edward L. Marston, Hunter S. Marston, Alonzo Potter, Lewis P. Sheldon, Jacques Weinberger and Graham Youngs.

The Executive Committee is to consist of Messrs. Bronner, Walker, H. S. Marston, Weinberger, Armsby, Lewis and Cowdin. The offices will be in the Blair Building, 24 Broad Street. There will be branch offices in large cities. Mr. Sheldon will be the European representative, with offices in London.

An announcement yesterday said the corporation had been organized to engage in a general business of underwriting and dealing in investment securities. Blair & Co. was established in 1890, the head of the house being a descendant of John I. Blair, who was associated with the construction of the Chicago & Northwestern and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroads. The firms participated in recent years in the financing of the Republic Iron & Steel Company, the Pressed Steel Car Company, Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, the Virginia, Carolina Chemical Company, Bordens Condensed Milk Company and other corporations. The underwritings of William Salomon & Co. include Mexican Petroleum Company, the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico Railway Company, Pan American Petroleum & Transport Company, Western Pacific Railroad Company, Wilson & Co., California Packing Corporation, the Worthington Pump & Machinery Corporation and others. Blair & Co. has been identified particularly with the issue of railroad equipment notes in the last few years, a type of security they were instrumental in developing.

As an incorporated organization cannot hold membership on the Stock Exchange, the seat owned by Mr. Blair will be disposed of. Stewart Waller, Stock Exchange member for William Salomon & Co., has formed the firm of Waller & Co., with Frederick T. Armstrong. Mr. Armstrong has been associated with Salomon & Co. for the last fifteen years. The firm will take offices in the Blair Building to handle a general business in stocks and bonds.

GAIN BY NATIONAL SURETY.

Business Increased More Than 40 Per Cent. in Last Three Months.

During the first three months of this year the National Surety Company has increased its business over 40 per cent. as compared with the business done in the corresponding period of last year. It states that total losses reported and paid in the first quarter were less than normal. Through its affiliation with the American Express Company the National Surety is now able to make banking arrangements in all of the importan commercial cities of the world.

Results of the 1919 operations show there has been a big increase in the demand for all kinds of corporate suretyship and burglary insurance. At the close of last year total assets were more than $20,000,000 and combined capital and surplus was $10,512,028. In the course of the year the company wrote fidelity, surety and burglary premiums of $12,170,000, which was the largest sum ever written in the history of the business. Income from securities owned by the company is more than enough to pay its present dividend rate of 12 per cent.

Caddo Central Oil Profits.

The report of the Caddo Central Oil and Refining Corporation for the nine months ended with Dec. 31, 1919, shows gross profits of $747,560, net profits of $619,072, and total income of $647,229. Interest and other charges were $163,893, leaving a surplus of $483,336. The balance sheet as of Dec. 31 last shows current assets of $1,756,289 and current liabilities of $373,649.

EQUIPMENT NEEDS PUZZLING RAILWAYS

Executives Committee Discusses Need of Method to Finance Immediate Wants.

NO FIGURES YET AVAILABLE

Member Roads Expected to Suggest Disposition of $300,000,000 Fund at Chicago Meeting.

The shortage of equipment and the necessity of finding some method to finance the immediate requirements of the railroads was discussed by the Standing Committee of the Association of Railway Executives yesterday. No formal statement was made, but the matter was talked over in a general way, along with the new developments in the railroad situation since the carriers were returned to private control.

How soon definite figures regarding the minimum capital requirements of the roads for 1920 will be available could not be ascertained, but it is expected that something will be presented before the meeting of member roads on April 9 in Chicago.

It is also expected that suggestions from member roads as to the best disposition of the $300,000,000 revolving fund provided in the Transportation act will be reported upon at the meeting. These are in answer to an inquiry sent out by the association at the request of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Talk continues in banking quarters that equipment financing may be offered in fair quantity in the next few weeks, but no definite announcements have been made. Dispatches from Chicago stated that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Company had ordered fifty locomotives, 500 gondola cars and 2,500 refrigerator cars. At average prices for such equipment, the purchase would amount to between $15,000,000 and $18,500,000. The Chicago dispatches mentioned a total of 150 locomotives, but had the company ordered only switchers it could not have paid for them and for the additional equipment for the maximum of $18,500,000 mentioned.

New Federal Reserve Memberships.

The North Side Bank of Brooklyn and the People's Bank of Hamburg, N. Y., were yesterday admitted to membership in the Federal Reserve System, according to an announcement made at the Federal Reserve Bank yesterday afternoon.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Specialties Strong.

While there was a strong undertone to trading yesterday the advances of any sizeable proportions were confined for the most part to the specialties. A number of these were bid up sharply, as, for instance, Vanadium Steel, which made a new high, with a net gain of more than 5 points. Many of the so-called specialties are closely held stocks, so that the price movement may sometimes not be an actual reflection of the statement made not long ago that "prices on the New York Stock Exchange are the truest guide to investment values." The Street is apparently once more getting accustomed to a money flurry with each succeeding day, and an advance in call loans from 8 to 12 per cent. yesterday received only passing attention.

Two Holidays.

The Board of Governors of the Stock Exchange voted yesterday to close the Exchange both tomorrow and Saturday. A petition for closing on Friday was circulated some time ago, and was signed by a large number of members. Eventually Saturday was included, and this was signed by another large delegation. This preponderance of opinion was not ignored by the Governing Committee.

Sales of Copper.

There were reports yesterday that 400,000,000 pounds of copper had been sold within the last ten days. It is possible that such tremendous sales have been put through, but there are few who take the rumors seriously. If any such sales have taken place the copper companies will be called upon to resume capacity operations immediately. It is probable that copper sales in the period mentioned have been heavy, but 400,000,000 pounds appears to be a big exaggeration.

Gold and Reserves.

Those who are wont to attempt a bull argument out of the expected arrivals of gold, on the theory that it will replenish the Federal Reserve system's gold stocks and thus allow money rates to become easy and loan supplies free, found ammunition in the news that three steamers are bringing $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 of the yellow metal, in addition to the $9,000,000 or $10,000,000 which arrived within the last few days. On the movement to date there is in sight perhaps $30,000,000, with how much more to be added nobody knows. But so far as this replenishing Reserve Bank stocks, it may be noted that between June 6, 1919, and March 19, 1920, the reserve system lost, on balance, $267,223,000.

The Argentine Loan.

The $50,000,000, or to be more exact, the $25,000,000 and £5,000,000 loan which the Government of the Argentine has falling due here on May 15, still is under discussion. A conference of bankers was held yesterday, but no final decision was reached. A definite decision is likely to be reached next week. Some prominent local bankers believe that a portion of the maturity, say half, should be renewed, the remainder being paid off, but there is some doubt as to how the Argentine officials will receive the American bankers' refunding proposition, for the rate for the renewal is sure to be high. At Washington, it is said, there is a desire that the whole loan be paid off, to protect American gold from further encroachments by the Argentine, but bankers believe that for the good of our future relations with that country some sort of refunding of at least part of the maturity should be arranged.

More Railroad Financing.

Rumors are afloat in the financial district that the Pennsylvania Railroad soon will attempt some financing, presumably through the medium of equipment trust certificates. In yesterday's bond market Pennsylvania bonds were notably heavy, the general 5 per cents. selling down from 88¾ to 86¼, while the general 4½ per cents receded from 79 to 78. Southern Railway is another road spoken of as likely to apply to the investment market for accommodation in the near future.

Financing Equipment.

While the special committee of the Association of Railway Executives has been in session for several days on the equipment financing question, no definite reports have been made of the actual conditions on all of the lines in the country. A query has been sent to all of the class 1 roads, for their individual opinions on just how the $300,000,000 revolving fund in the new act shall be expended. It is not believed now that all of the roads will suggest that the money be spent to ease the present equipment shortage, some already having announced that they intend to finance such purchases, and will not call on the fund for the financing of additions and betterments either. In railroad banking circles it has been suggested that it would be wiser to husband the revolving fund and to finance equipment in the open market as long as there is an appetite for equipment trust certificates. At the same time several railroad companies have already applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for loans from the fund, and there is speculation as to how the Commission will decide that it shall be used.

Express Stocks Move Up.

The sharp and somewhat surprising advance in the Express Company shares was attributed chiefly to speculative interests, as those who know the physical condition of the express business now say there has been no new development in the situation. With the exception of the American Express Company, which is understood to have done well in its banking business, the actual condition of the express business has shown little if any improvement since the termination of Federal control. Under the transportation act the American Railway Express was guaranteed against deficit until August 31. At the same time, the law provides that earnings, if there should be any, be taken by the Government. Under the leadership of American Express, which continued its recent advance, soon after the opening the Adams and Wells Fargo stocks also advanced considerably. American sold to a new high at 175 on a turnover of less than 2,000 shares and then eased off to a closing at 155. Adams and Wells Fargo also sold up sharply and reflected profit-taking later although they closed with substantial net gains. It is hoped that some agreement may be reached this year with the railroads whereby the express companies may be assured of earnings, but such developments are not expected for some time.

April Dividends and Interest.

Dividend and interest payments this month will amount to $356,920,878, as compared with $353,871,177 in April a year ago, according to compilations of The Journal of Commerce. Stockholders will receive an aggregate of $95,265,595, against $91,518,420, the increase being due to larger and more numerous dividends, and interest payments will be $261,655,283, as compared with $262,352,757 in April, 1919. The Government will pay out in interest some $145,355,283, of which $142,152,853 will be the semi-annual interest on the Fourth Liberty 4¼ per cent. bonds, as against $151,152,757 in the preceding year.

Third Avenue Earnings.

The February income statement of the Third Avenue Railway system shows decreases in almost all departments as compared with the corresponding month in 1919, but for the eight months ended with February, 1920, the earnings are shown to have improved. In the last month the deficit shown by the company increased to $203,683 from the $104,018 reported in February, 1919. For the eight months, however, there was a decrease in the deficit, after all deductions, to $40,567 from $626,590. Total operating revenues in February were $627,534, as compared with $764,758 in the preceding year, while total operating expenses were $569,831, as compared with $593,490. In February, 1919, operating income was $107,259. Last month there was a deficit after taxes of $979.

HARDING CONFERS WITH BANKERS HERE

FAVORS BANK CREDIT BILL

Says Measure Before the Senate Would Make Rediscount Rates More Stable.

W. P. G. Harding, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, conferred here yesterday with five bankers who deal in bankers' acceptances. They were Albert Breton, Vice President of the Guaranty Trust Company; John E. Rovensky, Vice President of the National Bank of Commerce; Charles Wall, Secretary of the National City Company; Maurice L. Farrell of F. S. Smithers & Co., and Morton H. Fry of Bernhard, Scholle & Co. Routine affairs and the state of the bill market were discussed without suggestions as to future conduct of dealings.

Governor Harding told newspaper men the bill designed to empower the several Federal Reserve Banks to establish lines of credit for their individual member banks would make regular rates of rediscount more stable than at present. This would be brought about, he thought, by having each Reserve Bank establish the ordinary line of credit for each member bank, with provision for advancing rates of rediscount as the individual members exceeded their allotments of accommodation. Thus, the fluctuation in rediscount rates would be confined largely to the excess borrowings, and not to all borrowings, as is the case under present regulations. The bill, which was proposed by the Federal Reserve Board, is now before the Senate.

Mr. Harding said the board was not prepared to lay down any hard-and-fast rule as to the manner of determining individual credit lines. This, he thought, would be a matter for each Reserve Bank to arrange for itself. The proposed law states that the formula for arriving at a member bank's credit line may be made by the individual Reserve Bank, as long as the formula is made to apply to all member banks in the Federal Reserve district. Mr. Harding said this could be done on a basis of a percentage of a member bank's capital and surplus, or of its deposits, or its average loans over a period of time. That, he thought, could be worked out satisfactorily after the law is passed.

TELLS OF WIRELESS WORK

The pamphlet report of the General Electric Company for 1919 which have just been issued shows orders received totaling $237,623,932, compared with $234,134,037 in the preceding year. For a few months after the signing of the armistice, the report says, there was a sharp curtailment of business. In the last eight months of the year, however, orders increased rapidly and steadily and the present demand for the company's products is greatly in excess of its factory capacity.

Sales billed were $229,979,983, or $13,164,706 more than in 1918. At the close of the year the amount of orders unfilled was $98,880,000, compared with $80,000,000 at the end of the year before.

C. A. Coffin, Chairman of the Board, says in the report to stockholders:

"Your company has for several years been engaged in its research laboratories and factories in the development and manufacture of apparatus and devices essential to the transmission and reception of wireless communications. Its inventions have had a far-reaching effect on the entire radio art. The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America is also the owner of valuable patents, rights and licenses, and it has seemed wise to the Boards of Directors of both companies that their research and engineering resources should hereafter be used in closest co-operation. To this end, and in order to secure the benefits of the long and varied electrical manufacturing experience of the General Company on the one hand and the operating experience of the Marconi Company on the other, a new company has been formed, known as the Radio Corporation of America, in which both your Company and the Marconi Company have accepted a considerable participation.

"The expenditures for additional land, buildings, machinery and other equipment during 1919 amounted to $14,462,285.77. The sum of $7,688,893.68 has been written off the plant account or added to the general plant reserve.

"The great increase in orders for all classes of apparatus makes it necessary to add substantially to manufacturing capacity. This is being accomplished partly by enlarging present plants and in part by purchasing, or leasing with option to purchase, factories which offer immediate available facilities, thus enabling your company to secure an earlier output than would be possible by erecting and equpping new factories of like capacity."

The preliminary income account of the company was printed some weeks ago and the figures presented in the pamphlet report show but slight change.

There are other exclusive features in Prudence-Bonds, but suppose you try to punch holes in these for a start.

If you can't do it, send for us, and if you can do it, send for us, because we want to know about it.

APRIL, 1920

453d Monthly List of Payments to Investors

THE attention of bondholders is called to the following list of payments of principal and interest due in April on first mortgage bonds safeguarded under the Straus Plan. All of these bond issues are amortized by annual serial payments of principal. In addition, we require each borrower to make monthly deposits in advance from the earnings of the mortgaged property, thus automatically providing the cash to pay both interest and principal on the days due. Funds, therefore, are now ready to meet the following semi-annual interest coupons and principal maturities.

The Company agrees to pay interest without deduction for any Normal Federal Income Tax to an amount not exceeding 2% which it may lawfully pay at the source.

The following information is taken from official sources:

The Union Electric Light and Power Company owns and operates all but a small part of the central station electric light and power business in the city of St. Louis and in the counties of St. Louis, Franklin and Perry. The total population served is estimated at approximately 1,000,000.

The gross earnings of the Company for the year ended March 31, 1920, with the month of March partly estimated, were $8,793,342, the net earnings being over twice the annual interest on the funded debt, including this issue.

Based on the valuation of the Company's properties made by the Public Service Commission of Missouri as of December 31, 1915, plus subsequent expenditures for additions and extensions, the value of the property of the Company as of February 29, 1920, (exclusive of working capital) was more than $31,500,000 as compared with the total funded debt, including this issue, of $22,510,000. Investments of the Company in the Union Colliery Company and other subsidiaries are not included in the foregoing value figure.

We have been identified for the past twenty-two years with the bond financing of this Company and its predecessors.

These debentures are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to prior sale and advance in price. It is anticipated that permanent debentures will be available for delivery on or about April 5, 1920.

83,583 OWN STEEL STOCK.

Corporation's Records Broken for Holding of Common Shares.

With the closing of the books of the United States Steel Corporation for the March dividend on the common stock, the number of holders reached the record total of 83,583, which exceeded the former high figure of 78,018 shown a year ago. In the last quarter of 1919 the number of common stockholders was 74,318. Figures show that holders of preferred shares of the corporation total 78,633, as compared with 77,910 in the preceding quarter.

In the financial district the impression prevailed that the additional stockholders bought their shares after the break in the market in February, when Steel common sold as low as 92½. The books of the corporation closed Feb. 28, and the quarterly figures seem to make it plain that the additional investors bought their stock at the low prices in that month. In March, 1911, dividends were paid to 29,231 common stockholders. In December, 1916, this number had increased to 37,720.

The high record for holders of the preferred stock was made in February, 1915, when the dividend payment was made to 85,912.

American Capital in Canada

United States capital placed in Canada during 1919 is estimated at $100,000,000, making a total of $450,000,000 invested by this country in the Dominion. Canada's industrial progress and her unbounded possibility of development justify such investment.

Canadian Government, Provincial and Municipal bonds, backed by the country's prosperity, offer an investment doubly attractive to the American buyer because of present rates of exchange. These securities may be obtained now at prices which will yield

KEYSTONE FINANCE CORPORATION

Preferred Stockholders receive checks covering the third quarterly dividend at the rate of 7% per annum. And it was earned four times over.

The Keystone Finance Corporation deals in money only, hence its business is sound and permanent. Its accounts have been selected and are of the highest grade, while courteous treatment on the part of its officials has linked it to those dealers who enjoy its service. That the human element need not be removed from business is demonstrated by Keystone Success.

The Company has accomplished these results in seven months. Having in mind its foundation, management, earning power and security, as well as the assured growth of the business, we believe Keystone Participating Preferred to be a good investment.

Each share of Preferred carries a bonus of one-half (½) share of common. When the Preferred and Common shall have received $3.50 in any year they participate equally in any further distribution.

THINKS PRICES DROP NOW NEAR AT HAND

SPRING OUTLOOK GOOD

Lack of Labor and Shortage of Materials Chief Difficulties Now in Sight.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Nation-wide reports from Federal Reserve Bank officials, made public tonight, disclose their opinion that the post-war era of "extravagance and reckless buying" by the public is nearing its end.

A "hesitation, if not an actual recession," of prices is noted, and the Federal Reserve Board's statement summarizes its advices as indicating a generally more hopeful view of the country's business condition than for several months.

While the price changes are shown by the Board not to be universal, they are, nevertheless, regarded as positive and of importance as a basis for reckoning what the immediate future holds.

Relief from the high prices for the consumer will not be completely obtained until present stocks are absorbed in practically all lines, according to the board's view. Manufacturers everywhere, however, were shown to hold the view that the peak of high prices has been reached and to expect a gradual recession.

In the clothing trade, particularly, the board said there was a marked tendency of the public to make old supplies last longer and to refuse to pay exorbitant prices. This phase can mean only that an awakening has come, the statement said, and that many people have arrived at the conclusion that they are themselves responsible for a continuing high range of prices.

Wholesalers in the dry goods trade, to some extent have taken a "commendatory attitude" and are discouraging their customers from placing heavy Fall orders. This has served to slacken demand and create a feeling that lower prices will follow.

The reports do not give encouragement concerning a price reduction in shoes. There was, however, a wide divergence of opinion as to what shoe and leather prices will do.

In its review of general trade conditions during March the Federal Reserve Board says that business and financial developments for the month have shown some confusion and lack of uniformity which indicates that the country is passing through a transition stage.

"The outlook for the Spring season, both industrially and agriculturally, is excellent, the chief modifying factors in the situation being inadequacy of labor supply and shortage of various kinds of materials, as well as of borrowing facilities of banks."

Loans in New York District.

"In District No. 2 (New York)" says the bulletin, "the activity of the stock market, together with the prospective demand for funds for tax payments was reflected in a rise in call money rates Friday, March 12, to 15 per cent., but, following the payment of taxes, rates eased off gradually to 7 and 6 per cent. Time loans, which have been practically unobtainable at from 9 to 10 per cent. on all-industrial and 8 to 9 per cent. on mixed collateral, with lenders in most cases demanding payment of maturing obligations, have lately been renewed more freely at 8 per cent. on mixed collateral and 8½ per cent. on all-industrial, but little new money is forthcoming."

In the Chicago district extravagance continues unabated and is tending to stimulate inflation by swelling profits to the extent that manufacturers of luxuries are undisturbed by advances in discount rates, while the latter bear heavily upon those who are working on a narrow margin. There are accordingly conflicting reports concerning the general outlook.

The opening of the spring season has given an impetus to the agricultural side of activity and is rendering the farmers' problem for the coming season considerably more definite than heretofore. In the Southern States cold weather has somewhat retarded the preparation for the new crop season.

The Federal Board finds that the iron and steel industry has shown a continuation of its great prosperity, being booked up far ahead. The demand for pig iron is very strong and prices have advanced, but great difficulty in securing adequate transportation is reported. Producers are beginning to hesitate in taking new orders and are opposing the new advance in prices.

Coal output is still seriously hampered in some districts by shortage of cars, but production is gradually recovering. No decline in bituminous prices is expected, as there is at present a considerable shortage. The anthracite situation is complicated by discussion of a new wage agreement with the miners on April 1. The prices are still trending upward.

In the Textile Field.

Extremely interesting conditions in textile production are reported. In the Philadelphia district demand for cotton has fallen off and free buying from abroad has been checked by low exchange. Manufacturers of cotton goods are running nearly to capacity. Orders on hand will maintain operations for a few months, but there has been a falling off in activity.

In leather and shoes, it is reported from the Boston district that there has been a slackening of demand, which has affected hides, leather and shoes themselves, although in the finished product there is some difference of opinion, several houses reporting about stable conditions. Shoe retailers, however, are holding off on their Fall orders because they expect a reduction in prices. Some manufacturers report an oversupply of manufactured goods.

The employment situation has been, on the whole, satisfactory during March, at least as compared with recent months. Wages have been very high and tending to rise, but the total volume of employment has been large, and mills have been operating nearer to capacity than heretofore. The labor shortage in agricultural operations throughout the country appears to be critical, and is only partially relieved by the application of machinery on a larger scale than heretofore to farming.

Building Conditions.

The building situation the country over has continued about unchanged, although it has, if anything, become slightly more critical than heretofore. In the Eastern industrial centres the movement of labor from the farm to the city has created a very sharp demand on all possible housing facilities, a situation which has been peculiarly aggravated in New York and in industrial cities in the Middle West. Building permits continue to increase in many parts of the country and there is a substantial volume of building, but capital hesitates to go into this form of enterprise as freely as it otherwise would do on account of the unfavorable conditions of taxation.

Despite the effort to meet the urgent necessities of the case, the country as a whole has made comparatively little progress toward providing for catching up with demand in regard to house accommodation. Much the same is true with respect to shortage in industrial building.

"Production conditions the country over," according to the bulletin, "give every reason for encouragement with reference to actual industrial and agricultural potentialities. The crop outlook, so far as can be judged at this season, is hopeful. There is a substantial degree of harmony between capital and labor, as indicated by the small amount of unemployment and labor controversy now in existence. The difficulties in sight are due to conditions of relative underproduction or decrease of production resulting from lessened activity of capital and labor, problems arising out of heavy taxation and measures resulting from the one-sided working of present tax laws, while, financially speaking, caution and conservatism are called for and the efforts to restrict the volume of credit which have thus far been made have been only partially successful. As a result, high interest rates and relative scarcity of funds will continue to prevail during the period in which the country is endeavoring to extend its productive facilities and to overcome the relative loss of progress resulting from war limitations upon investment and production."

CHICAGO LOAN RATE UP.

Federal Reserve Makes Banks Pay 5½% to Check Inflation.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, March 31.—In an effort to check the great inflation of credit in the Middle West and to discourage further borrowing by the banks the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank today imposed a higher interest rate on loans to the banks secured by bankers' acceptances. The rate was increased from 5¼ to 5½ per cent. Other rates were unchanged.

The necessity for discouraging loans to the banks, which in turn is expected to cause the banks to curtail their loans to customers, lies in the fact that the Federal Reserve Bank now has loaned to member banks the largest amount in its history, which was $396,544,867 last Friday.

Nearly two-thirds of this amount was loaned on securities other than those of the Government.

This large loan total, which showed a sharp increase from the preceding week, had the effect of decreasing the Federal Reserve Bank's reserves to the lowest point in its history and only slightly above legal requirements.

Chicago Clearings Pass 3 Billions.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Chicago bank clearings this month established a new high record and passed, for the first time, the $3,000,000,000 mark. They totaled $3,175,902,777, as compared with $2,247,290,085 in March, 1919, a gain of $928,612,692, or 45.9 per cent. The previous high record was $2,856,731,829, made last January.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

The National City Company, the Guaranty Trust Company, E. H. Rollins & Sons and Ames, Emerich & Co. have purchased and are offering $2,000,000 Cook County, Illinois, 4½ per cent. bonds of serial maturities at prices to yield about 4.90 to 5.25 per cent.

Bonbright & Co. is heading a syndicate which is offering $2,000,000 United Light & Railways Company two-year 7 per cent. gold notes, due April 1, 1922, at a price to yield over 8 per cent.

Harris, Forbes & Co. is offering at 97¾ and interest, to yield 8 per cent., a new $2,500,000 issue of three-year 7 per cent. gold debentures of the United Electric Light & Power Company of St. Louis. These debentures have been authorized by the Public Service Commission of Missouri.

William A. Read & Co. has announced that the issue of two-year 7 per cent. gold notes of the Hooker Electrochemical Company, offered by them on Tuesday, have been all sold.

A. L. Sayles & Sons Company reports 1919 net sales of $3,003,231 and net earnings of $452,327, equal after preferred dividends to $6 a share on the $25 par value common stock. Unfilled orders are sufficient to take the entire 1920 production.

TELEPHONE COMPANY BUYS RIVER BLOCK

OTHER PROPERTY SOUGHT

Building of Automatic Exchange in West Seventy-third Street Also Planned.

In furtherance of its construction program looking toward the rehabilitation of service, the New York Telephone Company is conducting a quiet, extensive real estate buying campaign in various sections of the city.

That these operations are in progress became known yesterday when it transpired that the company already has acquired virtually the entire block bounded by Vesey, West, Washington and Barclay Streets, on the lower west side waterfront, just opposite the New Jersey terminal of the Hoboken Ferry. News of this purchase was termed premature by the company in as much as it has not yet obtained all the property it desires within that area. An official of the company said there were several plots within the block which were not wanted, but that there were others it would acquire in addition to those already bought, provided disclosure that a large corporation was the prospective purchaser did not make the price prohibitive.

J. S. McCulloh, Vice President of the company, said the exact nature of the improvement, which will follow the razing of more than thirty of the three and four story shacks in the block, would depend upon whether the company was able to buy, at reasonable rates, the rest of what it wants.

He expressed the hope that in the interest of the company's efforts to restore service to its former level—an effort that will benefit the whole city—property owners within that block or in the other, unnamed sections where quiet buying is in progress, would not put up prices beyond a fair figure.

Officials of the company thought it unwise to disclose at this time in precisely what sections it contemplates new construction, beyond those already announced, which include a site in West Seventy-third Street between Columbus and Amsterdam Avenues where a huge new automatic exchange is to be built, provided the restriction limiting the block to residences can be overcome. This project now is pending before the Real Estate Board of Appeals, and thus far, it is said, no objection to waiving the restriction has developed.

The use to which the lower west side plot would be put, an officer of the company said, would depend upon whether it was possible to buy exactly the amount of ground wanted. Either a manual or an automatic exchange may be erected there and tentative plans even contemplate the erection of two exchanges on the site. Another tentative plan is to use the location partly for an exchange and partly for administrative quarters.

PARIS TO BORROW IN CANADA

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 31.—The Budget Committee of the Paris Municipal Council today approved a loan of $20,000,000 to be contracted by the city in Canada. The loan, which will be repayable in ten years, is to be used for the purchase in Canada of foodstuffs and other merchandise which will be sold in the municipal shops and by small dealers, with the object of helping to prevent profiteering and to reduce the cost of living.

During the discussion on the vote it was urged that it was likely to be additionally advantageous, as in ten years, when it must be repaid, the exchange rate is likely to be more nearly normal.

In city politics the authorization of the loan is regarded as a victory for the anti-profiteering section of the community.

Bank Adopts Profit-Sharing Plan.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Charles G. Dawes, President of the Central Trust Company, announces a unique plan of "profit sharing." The Directors have decided to declare in December of each year a cash "dividend" on salaries earned during the year at the same rate as dividends on the bank's capital stock. Stockholders are now receiving 10 per cent. a year as dividends, so that under the new plan each officer and employe will receive a sum equal to 10 per cent of his pay for the year.

EQUIPPED with a remarkable railway system covering nearly 32,000 miles, or about 154 miles of railway per thousand square miles, France has set to work to rebuild her war ruined industries. Already new railways have been pushed into Alsace and Lorraine. Rapid progress has been made in rebuilding 27,000 factories and nearly half a million homes. France looks to America to replenish 300,000 farm implements carried away in the war.

In Paris, the center of French finance and commerce, at No. 1 Rue Taitbout, is a branch of the Park-Union Foreign Banking Corporation, established there for the specific purpose of aiding American business men to cement closer and more cordial business relations with France. We shall be glad to place the facilities of this branch at your disposal.

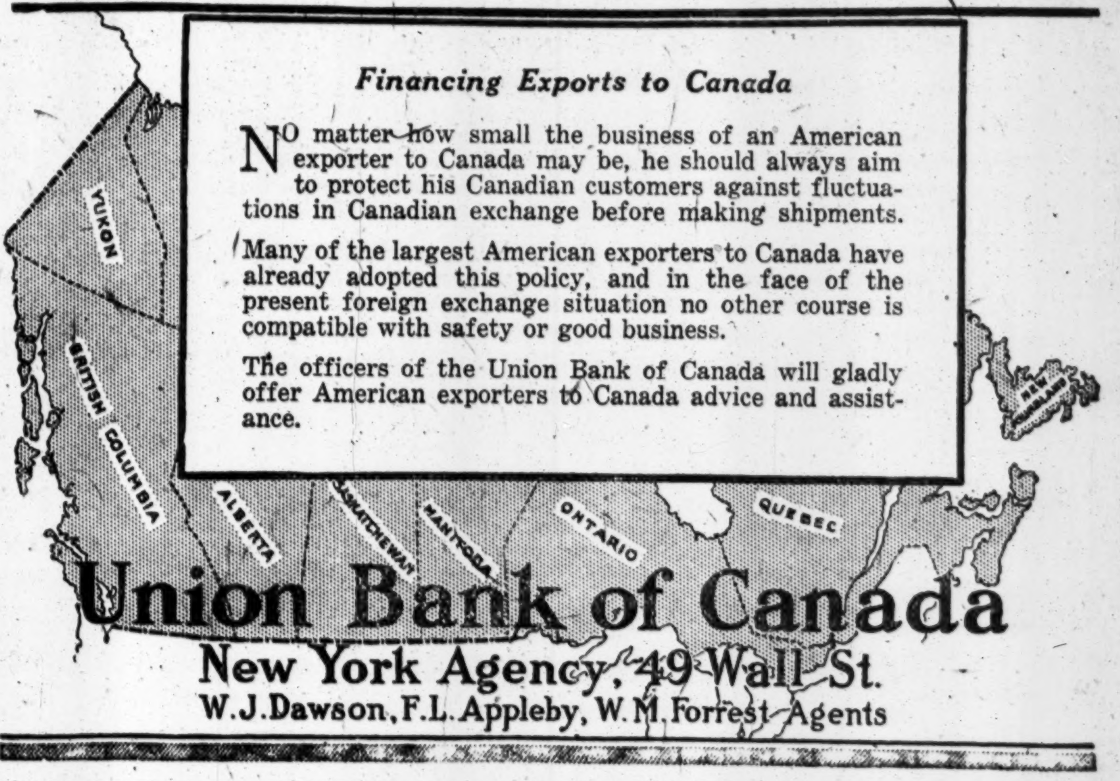
A Canadian Bank for Canadian Business



Financing Exports to Canada

NO matter how small the business of an American exporter to Canada may be, he should always aim to protect his Canadian customers against fluctuations in Canadian exchange before making shipments.

Many of the largest American exporters to Canada have already adopted this policy, and in the face of the present foreign exchange situation no other course is compatible with safety or good business.

The officers of the Union Bank of Canada will gladly offer American exporters to Canada advice and assistance.

BEARS NEAR PANIC AS COTTON RISES

Unexpected Strength Comes as Surprise to Ring and Office Traders.

WEATHER REPORT IS BAD

Unfavorableness, with Scarcity of Contract Offerings, Permit Advance—Local Stocks Increased.

After the listlessness of the day before, the display of strength in yesterday's cotton market came as a surprise and a shock to many ring traders and others in the offices and before the day was over there was something rather closely resembling a "bear panic," during which prices rose 90 to 120 points. However, the rise was permitted because of the technical position, and was not due to any extraordinary development outside of the market. The weekly weather report was unfavorable, on the whole, but hardly sufficiently so to account for the sharp advance in values.

At the opening there was a brisk demand for short-covering by traders who, apparently, expected the market to remain dull in anticipation of the three-day holiday. It looked as if the early buying simply was evening up operation, but there was a surprising paucity of contracts offered for sale, and as this shortage became more acute the shorts became more aggressive in their efforts to cover. In the first two hours there was a rapid rise which extended to about 40 points. Then there was a slight reaction, followed by another bulge of perhaps 30 points more. This, which came to an end shortly before the beginning of the last hour, was followed in turn by another reaction, the most substantial one of the day, but in the final hour the market shot forward again and stayed there to the close.

The weekly weather report said that plowing was progressing slowly in most sections, and that where plowing and seeding had been accomplished weather conditions were unfavorable for germination. It was not a favorable statement, but, on the other hand, was no worse, if as bad, as the earlier private advices might have led one to suspect.

An addition of 1,062 bales was made yesterday to the stocks of cotton, Government class, in local warehouses, bringing the total up to 3,324 bales. Yesterday's increase came on top of the 453 bale advance of last week, and at present stocks are larger than they have been in about a month.

There were no exports yesterday.

EGGS—The receipts yesterday were 32,741 cases. With liberal arrivals and supplies in transit more than ample to meet Easter needs, prices showed a material decline. Tone at the close was unsettled and irregular. White eggs were in remarkably light supply, but advices indicated large shipments near at hand, and it was thought present extreme prices cannot be sustained long. Motorboating on the Yangtze is becoming a great sport in China. This river is navigable for hundreds of miles, and large quantities of crude oil are available at low cost, due to the excellent organization of several oil producing companies.

Foreign Exchange is More Favorable for Trade with China Today Than Ever Before

"Modern industrialism is rapidly developing in China," says Julean Arnold, Commercial Attache. "Already millions of dollars are being spent on modern business and residence buildings in trade centers of China. Americans possess a great asset in the good will of the Chinese people." But, he adds:

"Advertising is necessary to the introduction of goods in China."

BANK MAY ACQUIRE WALL STREET PLOT

WILL INVOLVE $500,000

The American Surety Company, Present Owner, Plans to Retain Broadway Frontage.

Negotiations are pending for the sale of the seven-story office building, at 6 Wall Street, running through to 3 and 5 Pine Street, by the American Surety Company to the First National Bank, which owns the adjoining eleven-story building, at 2 to 4 Broadway, northeast corner of Wall Street. The property to be taken over by the bank, for a price somewhat less than $500,000, comprises the rear portion of the Schermerhorn Building, at 96 Broadway, a T-shaped structure, which has a Broadway frontage of 38.8 feet, and runs back 100 feet to the base of the T. The frontage on Wall Street is 22.6 feet and on Pine Street 40.2.

The closing of the deal will give the First National Bank a Wall Street frontage of 113.10, adjoining the Astor Building.

The Schermerhorn Building was acquired last October by the American Surety Company from William V. Astor for a recorded consideration of $1,500,000. The company had been holding it under the terms of a long-term leasehold. In the present transaction, the surety company retains the Broadway frontage of the holding, which will probably be used as an annex to its present quarters; at 100 Broadway, adjoining. The purpose of the purchase of 6 Wall Street and 3 to 5 Pine Street by the First National Bank could not be learned yesterday.

In the old dry goods district, Cammann, Voorhees & Floyd sold for the estate of Mary A. Downey, 475 Broadway, running through to 48 Mercer Street. The building is eight stories high and covers a plot 26.4 by 200. The purchasers will probably occupy a large portion of the premises.

Other deals for commercial properties affected holdings in the mid-town section. Charles Kaye purchased from Mary Barker Fareira 36-40 West Twenty-ninth Street, old buildings, on a plot 65 by 100, held at $250,000, upon which he will construct a loft building at a cost of about $500,000. He has already rented the basement and three floors, containing about 26,000 square feet, to Kaye & Einstein, for a term of ten years at an aggregate rental of $350,000. They will use the basement as a cold storage plant and the balance of the space for salesrooms. The building will be ready next January. Benjamin Bernstein was the broker in the transaction.

Brown, Wheelock Company, Inc., sold to the Hebron Realty Corporation, for the estate of J. B. McCoy, the six-story store and loft building at 114-20 West Thirtieth Street.

George R. Read & Co., with Quinlan & Leland, sold for J. H. De Witt to the tenant, the Independent Starch Company, the six-story warehouse, 448 Greenwich Street, between Vestry and Desbrosses Streets, on a lot 20.10 by 80.

Roy Scherick sold for W. Emelin Roosevelt the five-story loft building, 37 West Thirty-second Street, between Fifth Avenue and Broadway, to an investor. The property was held at $150,000.

The I. Blynn Shoe Company purchased from Max Marx for warehouse use the five-story building, 55 Warren Street, extending through to 55 Murray Street, fronting 25 feet on each street, and having a depth of 175.6 feet. The I. Blynn Shoe Company recently purchased for the same purpose 105-7 Duane Street, running through to 14-16 Thomas Street. The Brett & Goode Company was the broker in the present deal.

ANOTHER ASTOR PROFIT.

Operators Make $48,000 on Forty-fifth Street Turnover.

L. & A. Pincus and M. L. Goldstone, operators, made a $48,000 profit on the resale of another parcel which they acquired recently at the Henry Astor auction sale. They sold yesterday to George Engelhardt for $250,000, the four houses on a plot 80 by 100 at 251, 253, 255 and 257 West Forty-fifth Street, for which they paid $202,000 at the auction sale.

The same operators made a $60,000 profit several weeks ago on the resale of the group of dwellings at 239 to 247 West Forty-fifth Street, to Sam H. Harris of Cohan & Harris, who paid them $375,000 for the site. Mr. Harris plans the erection of a theatre. This plot was acquired at the auction sale for $315,000.

Operators in Three Deals.

Harris & Maurice Mandelbaum and Fisher & Irving I. Lewine resold to a syndicate of tenants the six-story apartment house at 61-63 East Ninety-fifth Street, on plot 41.8 by 100.8, between Madison and Park Avenues. The property was held at $100,000. The tenants have formed the 61 East Ninety-fifth Street Corporation, with Jay Worth, Samuel Leuin and Harry Stern as Directors. It is capitalized at $18,000.

The Mandelbaum-Lewine Syndicate also resold 1,129 Lexington Avenue, adjoining the northeast corner of Seventy-eight Street, a three-story dwelling, 20 by 70, to Irving Gerboll, a local storekeeper, who will alter it and occupy. William Wolff's Son was the broker. The Mandelbaum syndicate also resold through John Broderick 156-158 West Ninetieth Street, two five-story flats, on plot 50 by 100, held at $50,000, to Thomas Dunworth.

Other Manhattan Sales.

James H. Cruikshank resold to I. Freidus, 26 West 128th Street, a vacant plot, 25 by 100, held at $7,000. S. Jaffe and J. Osserman were the brokers.

William S. Sussman sold for Samuel Keller Jacobs, of Walter Emmerich & Co., the one-story taxpayer at the northeast corner of Lexington Avenue and Fiftieth Street, adjoining the Lexington Avenue Opera House and fronting 100 feet on the avenue and 50 feet on the street. The buyer is an investor. The property was held at $150,000.

Davey Contracting Company sold 87 Chrystie Street, a seven-story loft building, 19 by 100, to the tenant, Rosen & Kalotkin, who are in the butter and egg business.

Plan New Rink.

A large plot on West Fifty-second and Fifty-third Streets, between Broadway and Eighth Avenue, on which stand several old-fashioned dwellings, has been purchased by a group of investors represented by Gerard B. Townsend, an attorney, who intend to build an ice-skating rink. Details regarding the purchase were not obtainable yesterday. Electus T. Backus, understood to be the broker in the deal, declined to discuss it. The dwellings on the site are among the oldest in that part of the city. They are of the three-story high-stoop type and set well back from the building line.

$900,000 HOME FOR FURNITURE TRADE

Twelve-Story Exposition Hall Will Be Erected Near the Pennsylvania Station.

PROJECT OF ASSOCIATION

Negotiations Will Be Completed Next Week—Construction to Start Immediately.

The first permanent exhibition building for furniture manufacturers east of the Mississippi will soon be erected in this city near the Pennsylvania Station, according to a statement by R. Braun, President of the New York Furniture Exchange Association, Inc., to THE NEW YORK TIMES, yesterday. The building, said Mr. Braun, will be twelve stories high and have 150,000 square feet of exhibition floor space. It will cost approximately $900,000, and will occupy a plot 150 by 100 feet.

While Mr. Braun would not state the exact location of the proposed building, because negotiations for the purchase of the land will not be completed until next week, he told of the need for it, and the interest taken in the project, not alone by the manufacturers but also by furniture retailers.

For twenty-seven years preceding the taking over of the Grand Central Palace by the Government for hospital purposes during the war, the New York Furniture Exchange Association used eight floors of the building for exhibition purposes, said the President. Since they were dispossessed they have been able to hold only two brief expositions here, he said. One was again held at the Grand Central Palace last October and the other took place at 880 Lafayette Street last April. At the October showing, the 200 furniture factories represented, sold $12,000,000 worth of furniture during the first week, and being unable to fill any more orders for an entire year, closed the exposition, he said. This statement in Mr. Braun's opinion is reason enough for the need of the proposed show-rooms.

"New York is really the most logical city in the East for the exposition building," continued Mr. Braun, "for it has long been the custom of dealers to come to this city from other parts of the State, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, the New England States and, in fact, almost every other State east of Chicago to purchase goods. Exposition buildings in Grand Rapids, Jamestown, Chicago and High Point (N. C.) take care of the rest of the furniture trade."

Stock will be sold to manufacturers, retailers and furniture commission men only, said Mr. Braun, who asserted that shares amounting to $175,000 had already been disposed of. A few of the local dealers who have purchased stock are the Buckley Newhall Company, Kellner Bros., Max Englander, the Goldenburg Furniture Company, A. Finkenberg Sons, Cowperthwait and Baumann & Co. By November, Mr. Braun said, the building should be sufficiently completed for the first exhibition, and expositions will be held each Spring and Fall thereafter.

$750,000 FOR RACE TRACK.

Old Gravesend Course Bought by W. E. Harmon & Co.

The stockholders of the Brooklyn Jockey Club have voted to sell the old Gravesend race track property, consisting of about sixty acres, to William E. Harmon and Company for about $750,000. Contracts are now being drawn and will be signed shortly. The Gravesend track is one of the oldest in New York. It is situated at Kings Highway and Ocean Parkway and Gravesend Avenue. It was originally the Prospect Park Fair Grounds, on which trotting races were held for several years. In 1885 it lost some of its ground to make way for the Parkway and the next year the remainder was sold for a few dollars an acre to Phil and Mike Dwyer, Richard Hyde and Louis Behman of the old theatrical firm of Hyde & Behman, John McCarthy and James Shevlin.

The new owners will cut the property into building lots.

Buying in Westchester.

The Robert E. Farley Organization sold for the Estates of Tappan-Zee, Inc., its house on Hunter Avenue, in the Philipse Manor section of North Tarrytown, N. Y., to Mrs. Virginia McKenny Claiborne of New York City.

The residence of Bertha J. Ottinger on Myrtle Boulevard, Larchmont, has been sold to Richard Hill of New York City. George Howe was the broker.

MY HOME

is big enough for 6 families besides my own.

Realizing the demand for suitable living quarters at a fair rental, I recently purchased a beautiful modern, private dwelling in a most superb location, overlooking Charles M. Schwab's mansion at Riverside Drive and 74th St.

I am going to make the house all over and wish to make long-term leases with financially responsible and desirable individuals. Each tenant, if accepted by me, will be able to carry out his own idea. This will mean two or more rooms, gas and electricity servitors; baths and open fireplaces.

Rentals will be based not upon what I can force some one to pay, but what is fair and just.

The Weather.

The extreme Northwest disturbance of Tuesday night moved southeastward, with undiminished intensity, but irregular definition, and tonight there are three centres of disturbance, one over Eastern Colorado, which is the most marked of the three; one over extreme Eastern Nebraska and another near the Manitoba-Minnesota line. To the northward, except in the Pacific States, pressure is rising rapidly, and it remains moderately high in the Southeast.

There were general showers in the Southern States and snows and rains in the extreme Northwest, the Middle and Northern Plateau and rains in the Northern Pacific States. There was no other precipitation of consequence. It is decidedly colder in the Northwest and the extreme West, especially in the Middle Plateau, where temperatures are from 14 to 24 degrees below the seasonal average. FISKE DECLARES DANIELS UNFITTED

WAS SOLICITOUS FOR MEN

Admiral Asserts Department Was Not Only Unprepared for War but Even Lacked Plans.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The relation of the "mental and temperamental characteristics" of Secretary Daniels to the alleged unpreparedness of the navy for war in 1917 was discussed today before the Senate Naval Investigating Committee by Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, retired, formerly Mr. Daniels' chief adviser in the department, as aid for operations. The Secretary's characteristics and "previous training," Admiral Fiske said, prevented him from taking "a broad and profound view" of the navy's needs.

Up to 1917, the official declared, Mr. Daniels seemed convinced that there would never be another war.

The witness described at some length his differences with the Secretary. While their "personal relations" had been cordial, he said, he had found he could not work with Mr. Daniels, and resigned as aid for operations in 1916.

Mr. Daniels, Admiral Fiske said, paid too much attention to details and did not sufficiently interest himself in broad questions of plans and policies. The Secretary was particularly solicitous regarding the welfare of enlisted men, the officer asserted, and naval officers generally felt that he attached undue importance to the comfort of the men and carried his efforts to "democratize the navy" to an extent inconsistent with discipline.

Secretary Daniels was "deeply and sincerely" interested in the welfare of the men, Admiral Fiske said, adding that he opposed Mr. Daniels' plan for the education of enlisted men because he thought the system would take too much time from the military training of the crews.

"To prevent unpreparedness in the future," Admiral Fiske said, "the most important step is for the public to insist that the man at the head of the navy shall be imbued with the spirit of the navy, highly educated, open minded and acquainted with the principles on which naval preparedness is based and by following which preparedness can be secured."

The Admiral told the committee the navy was not only unprepared for war from 1915 to 1917, from a standpoint of material and personnel, but lacked any well prepared war plans. It was not until August 1, 1919, that the Navy Department established an organization for the exclusive duty of making plans for war, he said, although he and other officers had been urging such an organization for several years.

"Naval war plans in 1910 and 1911" (when he was a member of the General Board), "did not contain 1 per cent. of what they should have embodied," Admiral Fiske testified, "and in 1914, when the war broke out in Europe, the navy was wholly unprepared for war.

"The navy today could not carry out manoeuvres such as the German fleet executed in 1913," he said; "principally because of lack of battle cruisers and aerial forces."

Rear Admiral H. T. Mayo, who testified yesterday, was asked by Chairman Hale today to prepare an additional statement, setting forth his views with regard to the need for a well defined foreign policy as related to naval preparedness and suggestions for the avoidance in future wars of naval mistakes of the World War. He was informed that he would be called before the committee later.

MAJOR BALDWIN WINS D. S. M.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—By direction of President Wilson, a Distinguished Service Medal has been awarded to Major Geoffrey P. Baldwin of the 60th Infantry for heroism in action. His next of kin is Mrs. John A. Baldwin of 430 West 118th Street, New York City. The citation of Major Baldwin reads:

"For extraordinary heroism in action in the Bois des Rappes, France, Oct. 13, 1918. He personally led his small detachment through woods that were infested with machine-gun nests and attained his objective on the northern edge of the Bois des Rappes, and held same regardless of the danger due to his position in advance of the line and being enveloped by the enemy on both flanks. In utter disregard of his own life, he personally charged a machine-gun nest and killed the gunner."

F. REIFSCHNEIDER, JR., QUITS

Felix Reifschneider, Jr., yesterday tendered his resignation as a Federal Commissioner in Brooklyn to Federal Judges Chatfield and Garvin. Mr. Reifschneider gave as his reason for resigning the "unpleasant publicity" caused by charges made against him by Isaac E. Jersey, a Brooklyn contractor.

Mr. Jersey charged Reifschneider with conspiring, as a lawyer, with Annie E. Mills, a negress, falsely to accuse him. After a hearing in the Adams Street Court last Monday Reifschneider was held by Magistrate Dodd for trial in the Court of Special Sessions.

It will pay you to pay enough for your new Spring hat to be sure of quality.

Which is a rather pointed suggestion that your Spring hat be a Stetson; its quality is pre-supposed.

Our feature hat, "HEADEASE," which means sure relief from all hat bothers, comes in soft hat and derby. Stetson makes the "HEADEASE" exclusively for us—and it is sold only in Wallach stores.

Once again, Gentlemen, we respectfully call you attention to our Krinkley-Krepe scarfs, because they deserve the respectful attention of any neckwear connoisseur.

Some shops might double our price on them lest they shatter this illusion of rich Oriental beauty. But the Wallach way is to sell for as little as possible.
